Donna (Younkin) Logan's Notebooks

In memory of Donna (Younkin) Logan
January 4, 2006

From the late 1980s until 1996, Donna (Younkin) Logan organized her research findings into three-ring binders devoted to many of the earliest Younkin pioneers of southwestern Pennsylvania: Henry, Jacob, Frederick, John, Herman as well as Rudolph of Ohio, and cousins in Northampton County, PA. After Donna's untimely death on January 4, 2006, Donna's sister Jean entrusted genealogist Mark A. Miner with Donna's three-ring binders. The expectation was that Younkin cousins would scan the binders in high resolution and share the binders electronically and widely.

Donna's sister Jean and her husband Jim Miller initially scanned the four volumes of Jacob Younkin books. From 2018 to 2020, many Younkin cousins helped with the scanning of thousands of pages in Donna's other three-ring binders. Linda Marker of Rockwood, PA placed the resulting folders of JPEG graphic image files in a OneDrive folder. She distributed links to the OneDrive folder online at the National Younkin Younken Youngkin Family Reunion page on Facebook.

In late 2024, Mark T. Youngkin combined hundreds of image files in each scanned book folder creating one PDF file for each of Donna's nine notebook binders or books. He added a cover page, links page, and index, if available, then compressed each PDF book file to a manageable size. He placed the nine reduced size PDF files in a OneDrive folder with the link to the folder distributed in a Facebook document and uploaded the PDF files to the Internet Archive.

These Younkin files were uploaded to Linda's one drive account, and will be available as long as the account is paid. This is a Microsoft account and will allow you to view, and download.

Remember, this is Donna's life work, her passion. Please respect that.

And, please remember the many hours of mind-numbing scanning went into the preservation of her work.

Jacob Younkin Books The Jacob files were lovingly scanned by Donna's sister Jean, and her husband, Jim Miller. There are four volumes, and 2 pages of explanations.

YFNB Vol #1 Issue #2 30 Apr 1938: " Rudolph (Ralph) YOUNKIN, second son of Henry and (Catherine SCHERER) YOUNKIN, was born about 1759 [?1766: baptism record] in Bucks County, Pa., he married Elizabeth HOCKMAN [HACKMAN ?], perhaps about 1780. A few years later moved to Perry County, Ohio, where he lived the remainder of his life [!! Loudon Co. Va first]. He is buried near Corning, Ohio, his wife, Elizabeth died May 24 1831, and is buried there also. Of the descendants of Rudolph and Elizabeth, will only speak of two, namely John and Samuel. John was born July 27, 1791, he married Margaret TROUT in 1820, he lived his entire life in Perry County, Ohio, and is buried near Corning, Ohio. [he enlisted in the War of 1812 from Middletown Maryland 1814-then lived in Loudoun Co Va -then went to Ohio] . Fourteen children were born to John and Margaret YOUNKIN, of these only one is living, the grand old man Isaac YOUNKIN, of Burlington, Kansas who was 98 years of age April 21, 1938, and is today the oldest known living YOUNKIN in the U.S.A.. A brother and sister, the Famous YOUNKIN Twins having died in 1837, in their 93rd year."

Rudolph is located in the Loudoun Co., VA. area in the 1810 Census. So he, in all likelihood did not move to OHIO until after 1810.

Otto Younkin's notebooks say: They are buried in a family cemetery, in Fultonham, Perry County, Oh. Ralph Younkin and Elizabeth, his wife, born _____, died May 24, 1831 age 61 yrs. 11 mo. 17 days

Rudolph alias Ralph

As I write Rudolph's story a thought keeps wandering into my mind "I wonder if there were such a thing as the middle child syndrome in the 18th century." As the 5th of Henrich and Catharine (Scherer) Junghens' 9 children, surely he must have suffered with it! How in the world did Henry and Catharine find the time to give all of these children the attention today's psychologists say is absolutely necessary for the development of healthy well-adjusted adults! I wonder, too, if the terms "Super Mom" and "Super Dad" would not have been appropriate.

Though Henry and Catharine were married in St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Lehigh Co., Pa., they spent the majority of their married life in the rolling hills of Bucks County, Pa. This is where Rudolph and his brothers and sisters spent their childhoods. Their land was split between the townships of Bedminster and Haycock, separated by the Tohickon Creek, with approximately 87 acres in Bedminster and about 118 in Haycock. In the deed records Henry is referred to as being "of" Bedminster Twp., so his homeplace was undoubtedly on the Bedminster acreage. Their church, Keller's Lutheran, was but a stone's throw away.

Rudolph was born on the 7th day of July 1766. He married Elizabeth Hockman about the year 1786 (no marriage record has been found by this author). Elizabeth was the daughter of Rudolph Hockman, also of Bedminster Twp. Very little is known of the Hockman family but they were close neighbors of the Younkens. Rudolph Hockman died intestate (without a will) and his property was distributed to his only heirs, who were listed as: Jacob Hockman, Elizabeth wife of Rudolph Youngken, and Eve Hockman.

Our Rudolph and Elizabeth took up housekeeping in Bedminster Twp. and their first child, a daughter named Elizabeth, was born in 1787. It was in this same year that Rudolph's father, Henry, died.

The deed records indicate that Henry knew that death was imminent. On the 20th day of January 1787 Henry deeded his land to his son, Frederick. Henry died just one month later, on the 20th day of February 1787. Tracing Rudolph from this point on has been most difficult. The trails left by these ancestors are not without gaps. Though property was transferred between parties, quite often the deeds were never recorded. Two deeds that were both recorded on May 13, 1796, are of interest to our family history.

1) Rudolph Youngken, of Bedminster Twp., Yeoman, selling 118 acres in Haycock Twp. to George Deal. The deed states that the property had been deeded to Henry Youngken on Feb 17, 1756, from Dennis Barn and that on Jan 20, 1787, it was deeded by Henry to his son, Frederick Youngken, and it was again deeded on Mar 13, 1790, from Frederick to Rudolph.

2) Rudolph Youngken, of Bedminster Twp., Yeoman, selling 87 acres in Bedminster Twp. to George Deal for 500 lbs. This land was first deeded to Henry Sr. of Haycock on Jan 14, 1756, from Sebastian Wildanger and that it was given to Henry Jr. by his father's last will and testament. Henry Jr. sold the land to his brother Rudolph on Sep 11, 1794.

A third deed recorded on June 1, 1796, shows George Deal selling the 87 acres back to Rudolph Youngken for a price of 575 lbs. — not a very good businessman, was he? These were the only references that I found for property transfers for Rudolph in the Bucks County, Pa., deed index. It may be that other deeds existed but were never recorded.

Rudolph is listed in the 1790 Federal census in Bucks County — his name is listed for the first time here as "Ralph." In his household were himself and 5 females. We know of Elizabeth and their daughter, Elizabeth, and perhaps by 1790 they had had another female child. The other 2 females may have been Rudolph's mother (as she was now a widow) and perhaps the other female was Eve Hockman, Elizabeth's sister.

The next record we have for Rudolph is the baptism of his son, Joseph, in the New Jerusalem Evangelical Church, of Lovettsville, Loudoun Co., Virginia, in 1806 [YFNB Vol. 1 #2]. The next Census record we have for Rudolph is the 1810 Federal Census. He was still living in Loudoun County, Virginia, and the family consisted of 1 male under 10 years of age, 1 male age 10-16, 1 male age 26-45, 1 female under 10, 2 females 10-16, 1 female 26-45. I have been unable to find Rudolph in any of the 1800 Census records. This is most unfortunate as there is now a large gap of time when his children had grown and have left the home place. Until more official records are found, much of the information we have on Rudolph and Elizabeth's family is still supposition. Family tradition tells us that their daughter Elizabeth married a Mr. Smedley but I have not seen any records to this effect. The first male child born to Rudolph and Elizabeth was John b. 27 Jul 1791 who married Elizabeth "Margaret" Trout [YFNB Vol 1 #1]. Next was Jacob born 6 Apr 1796 he was baptized 16 Jun 1796 in Kellers Lutheran church of Bedminster, Pa. The third son was Henry who married Sarah Ann Bartlett on 15 Feb 1821 in Muskingum Co., Ohio. The fourth son, Samuel, born 2 Nov 1798 married Catherine Godlove on 3 Oct 1822 in Perry County, Ohio. A search of the early marriage records of Ohio show a Sarah/Sally Younkin married John Trout on 28 Nov 1823 and a Mary Younkin married Elijah Atkins on 4 Apr 1822 both in Perry County, Ohio. Because no other Younkin families have been found in this area of Ohio at this early date, I am assuming that Sarah and Mary are the daughters of Rudolph and Elizabeth. The last son is Joseph born 24 Aug 1806 who married Susan Meek on 18 Aug 1833 in Ohio. Though several articles in the early issues of the original YOUNKIN FAMILY NEWS BULLETIN indicated that Rudolph died in 1814, the 1830 Federal Census shows Ralph Younkin in Bearfield Twp., Perry County, Ohio, age 60-70 years old and his wife as age 60-70. The only other person in the house is a male age 15-20. Living next door is his son, John, with his family, and his daughter and son-in-law, the John Trouts. So, obviously, Rudolph lived until sometime after 1830.

Many of our subscribers are descendants of Rudolph and I would like to thank them for their assistance in preparing this biography of Rudolph. The many family Bible records, family group sheets, biographical extracts from various county histories all helped tremendously. Of course, I will welcome any corrections or additions. In future issues of the YFNB we will have more on the descendants of Rudolph and Elizabeth (Hockman) Younkin.

THE TROUT FAMILY.

§94. From the traditions preserved in several branches of the Trout family today, it would seem that many years before the Revolutionary War three brothers, Lutheraus, fleeing from religious persecution in Germany, emigrated from the neighborhood of Frankfort-on-the-Main and settled at Germantown, Pennsylvania. One of them, Nathaniel (?), remained in Pennsylvania; the second, Daniel (?), removed to Frederick County, Virginia; and the third, Jeremiah (?), who never married, was a Lutheran minister and a chaplain in the Army during the Revolution. A sermon preached by him the evening before the battle of the Brandywine was published in Harper's Magazine many years ago, but was there attributed to a Jobb or Jacob Trout. His Bible, in which all his texts were marked with red ink, was preserved until about fifty years ago, when it was lost. Several heir-looms still remain, including an old hundred-year almanac, bound in leather and preserved in a leather case, printed in German in the year 1699, and illustrated with curious woodcuts. The name was originally spelled Traut, meaning in German, "lovely" or "dear". One thing is uniformly said,—that these ancestors for many generations have been a God-fearing, honest and industrious people. An examination of the court and other records of Philadelphia County, Pa., and Frederick County, Va., shows that this tradition is in the main correct, though the names of the original immigrants have been handed down inaccurately. The following account of the family is based upon these records.

About 1740, there were three brothers, John Baltazar (generally called Baltzer), George and Jeremiah Trout, residing at Germantown, Pa., their names being spelled indiscriminately Trout and Traut. They were among the earliest settlers at Germantown. George Trout owning 28 acres and Baltzer Trout 25 acres of land there. I am not at all sure that they emigrated from Germany about that time, but am inclined to believe that they were sons of one "John Trout of Upper Dublin Township in Philadelphia County, yeoman", who in his will, made April, 1728, and approved May 7, 1728, mentions his wife Catharine, his eldest son John as his executor, and his youngest son Philip, but does not give the names of his other children. This oldest son may have been the John Baltzer Trout mentioned above; and all the names occur frequently in the Trout family. Though I could find no proof of this connection, there was nothing to disprove it.

George Trout died in July, 1745. In his will, made July 17, 1745 and approved August 3, 1745, in which he calls himself "George Trout of Germantown, yeoman", he mentions his wife Cassie, his daughters Leancy (?) and Catherine, his son Henry, and five other children not named. John Baltzer Trout was one of the witnesses to the will. Jeremiah Trout may have been the minister referred to in the tradition above. Nothing further is known of him.

§95. JOHN BALTZER TROUT, perhaps the eldest of the three brothers, died in the year 1750. There is no will of his on record, and the name of his wife is not known; but on May, 26, 1747, he made a will respecting certain property jointly with his brother Jeremiah Trout, in which are mentioned "our beloved sons and cousins Jacob, Baltazar and Jeremiah Trout (the three sons of John Baltazar Trout)". It would appear that his wife had died and that these were his only sons. The will was probated June 21, 1750, John B. Trout having died shortly before that date, Jeremiah Trout surviving him. His son Baltzer Trout died in Nov. 1762, his will mentioning his wife Barbara Trout, his daughter Mary, and his brother-in-law Nicholas Kitchinhouse. His other son Jeremiah Trout died in 1789, his will naming his wife Hannah, and his five children, Margaret, Boles (?), Hannah, William and John. One striking feature of nearly all these early wills is the fact that special provision is made for the thorough education of the children of the testators.

§96. Jacob Trout, son of John B. Trout, removed about 1760 from Germantown to Frederick County, Va., and settled at Newtown (also called Stephensburg, but now Stephens City).

There was a Nicholas Trout living in that county in 1752, but whether he was related to the family or not, is not known. Jacob Trout died shortly before April 5, 1774, for on that date Barbara Trout and Jacob Trout, Jr., are mentioned as administrators of Jacob Trout, deceased. His wife was Barbara Klein, who came to this country from Germany about 1750. She lived to an old age, dying at Newtown after 1812. Her grand children used to love to visit her and hear the stories she would relate to them about her childhood in the Fatherland. She was perhaps a sister of Adam Klein, who in his will, made December 9, 1799 and approved Dec. 1, 1800, named among others, his son-in-law Daniel Trout (see §97), his daughter Barbara Grapes, his brother Jacob and his sons Michael and John. Jacob and Barbara Trout had at least six children,—Jacob, Baltzer, Daniel, Philip, Henry and Catherine. It is said that there were one or two other sons who moved to Tennessee or Georgia.

A. JACOB TROUT, lived at Newtown, and died there unmarried in 1790. In his will, made Feb. 1, 1790 and approved April 8, 1790, he mentions his mother Barbara Trout, his sister Catherine Boyers and her son, Henry Trout the son of his brother Baltzer Trout, and his brothers Philip, Daniel and Henry. His brother Baltzer was his executor.

B. BALTZER TROUT had at least three sons,—Henry, John and William. He is said to have moved with his family to Sandusky County, Ohio, between the years 1790 and 1810.

§97. C. DANIEL TROUT married June Maria Klein, daughter of Adam Klein of Frederick County; see §96. He moved with his family to Kentucky in 1811, one of his sons having preceded him to that State. His eight children were: Anne Mary, Jacob, Daniel, Rachel, Jeremiah, Sarah (m. Jacob Overpeck), Isaac, and Catherine Trout (m. William Buchanan). Daniel Trout, Jr., married Anne Bradley Moreland and had thirteen children: Mary (m. Isaac Coleman), Catherine, William, Priscilla (m. Walton), Elkanah, Louisa (m. William Duncan), Jeremiah, Daniel B., Lucetta (m. J. S.

Maddox), Eliza Ellen (m. W. C. Luckett), John A. (married and had two sons, James V. and Albert E.), Albert A., and Andrew J. Trout.

§98. D. PHILIP TROUT, b. Newtown (?), August 11, 1759; d. ib. August 21, 1812; m. Strasburg, in 1786, Mary Magdalena Lambert (b. ib. Feb. 22, 1758; d. Newtown, Feb. 12, 1826; see §111); he lived at Newtown, and reared all his family there. In his will, made August 21, 1812 and approved March 2, 1813, he mentions his wife Mollie, and his mother, and names his wife, his brother Henry and Jacob Boyers as executors. He had nine children, as follows:

§99. I. JOSEPH TROUT, b. Newtown, Oct. 16, 1787; d. Port Republic, March 26, 1850; m. Augusta County, December 21, 1812, Sarah Whitesides; see KINNEY FAMILY, §5. He lived at Greenville, Augusta County, till about 1818, when he removed to Port Republic, where he resided until his death. For a number of years he was practically an invalid, having suffered a stroke of paralysis. The records of the War Department show that he served for a short while in the War of 1812 as a private in Capt. John C. Sowers's Company of Virginia Artillery from Augusta County. His name appears on the rolls of that organization with remarks: "Com. of service, Jan. 4, 1814; 15x of service, April 13, 1814; Term charged 3 mos. 8 da." He had eleven children, as follows:

1. WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON TROUT, b. Greenville, Oct. 14, 1813; d. ib. Dec. 14, 1814.

2. MARY ANN TROUT, b. ib. Nov. 27, 1815; d. Port Republic, Nov. 22, 1860; m. ib. August 14, 1839, Thomas William Ryan (b. Baltimore, Md., March 29, 1813; d. Mt. Jackson, August 12, 1883; he was a farmer in Rockingham County).

(1). JOSEPH NICHOLAS RYAN, b. Port Republic, June 27, 1840; d. Staunton, Nov. 30, 1892; m. Augusta County, May 14, 1867, Martha Eliza Francis (b. Warm Springs, Dec. 16, 1845; l. Staunton); he was Clerk of the Circuit Court of Augusta County from 1864 till his death.

Meet John Younkin

John's Service Pension File #30.744 is a unique one indeed. His claim for a Pension was for service performed in the War of 1812. By John's own statement he was drafted for a 6 month term in mid July 1814 into Captain Samuel Dorsey's Regiment of MD Militia. At this time John was living in Frederick Co., MD. He served for 7 weeks and then hired a Substitute. (note: The practice of 'hiring a substitute' was not at all unusual during these early Wars. With the demands of raising a young family in those days, it was understandably difficult to stay away for a long period of time.) Unfortunately his Pension was denied as, by his own admission, John had not rendered sufficient service 'personally'. John's statement tells us that after his discharge, in 1814, he remained in Frederick County, MD for 2 years then removing to Loudon Co., VA. for 1 year and in 1817 he again moved this time to Perry Co., OH. His Pension Claim is dated 20 July 1880 (stating his age, at this time, as 89 years) and he was living in Deavertown, Morgan Co., OH. John married Margaret TROUT in York Township, Morgan Co., OH. in February of 1820.

TOWNSHIP HISTORIES.

CHAPTER XXII.

BEARFIELD TOWNSHIP.

Bearfield is one of the original townships of Perry county, Ohio, and was organized in 1818. It is situated one township north of the southeast corner of the county, and, with Monroe township, forms the most eastern portion of the county. At the time of its organization it was a full township, containing thirty-six sections, and remained so up to 1850, when there were nine sections taken from the southwest corner of it to form a part of Pleasant township, thus leaving it with twenty-seven sections, or seventeen thousand two hundred and eighty acres of land. It is bounded on the north by Harrison township, of Perry county, and Harrison township, of Morgan county; on the south, by Monroe and Pleasant townships, of Perry county; on the east, by Harrison and Dearfield townships, of Morgan county, and on the west, by Pleasant and Pike townships. The township is naturally divided into two parts, or slopes, by a ridge passing in a northeastern and southwesterly direction, the northern slope dipping toward the Muskingum valley, and occupying about two-thirds of its surface. The southern slope dips toward the Hocking valley, and contains about one-third of its area. The streams are all small, and from this natural division flow both north and south, the greater number rising within its own borders. The largest stream is that of the south branch of Jonathan's Creek, which flows from the central northern part of Pleasant township, in a northeastern direction, and flows out at its northern boundary, near McLevey, in Harrison township. The township is all underlaid with a stratum of the best of soft coal, four feet thick. This coal is mined in the northwestern part by drifting; but if it were obtained in the southern and eastern parts it would necessarily have to be by shafting, so rapidly does the stratum dip. Iron ore and fire and potter's clay are found in many places. The iron ore is of the black band mineral, and yields about forty per cent of iron. The potter's clay is of the best quality, from which all kinds of common stoneware are successfully manufactured.

The surface of this township may well be said to be everywhere undulating. It has so small a portion of valley land that it is scarcely worth a mention. The hills are not so high, but a great many of them are rather steep; yet there is not much of the land that is not arable, and its fertility is beyond dispute, as many an industrious farmer, who now enjoys a full competency for his declining years, can testify. Coal mines, iron ore deposits, potter and fire clay banks, and farm products, are seldom more happily united than in Bearfield township.

It is said that James Black was the first settler in this township, who must have come before 1812, but how long before is unknown. He settled near where Porterville now stands. As early as 1815 came the father of Jacob Hearing and settled, a neighbor to James Black. The following is a list of the first settlers, as could best be obtained from available records: Benjamin Tatman, Bartholomew Tatman, John G. Hearing, David Worley, Charles Crook, Samuel Ogburn, John B. Holcomb, Benjamin Morgan, Lawson Teal, Samuel Worley, James Palmer, Edward Conner, James Montgomery, Isaac Kent, Michael Longstreth, William Lashley, Andrew Woods, John Younkin, Thomas Tatman, John A. Hearing, Samuel Younkin, William J. Moore, Elisha Palmer, Matthew Palmer, Leon Strait, William Tatman, John Montgomery, John Thrapp, L. J. Baker, Ezekiel Rose, John J. Jackson, David Little, Lloyd Teal, and John Handsley. These people came from the Eastern States and the Old Country; consequently, were a mixture of various nations.

Upon their arrival, all the hardships and realities of a pioneer life were upon them. The "Giant Oak" stood king of the forest, and defied the "Woodman's ax." At once it was to be seen that there was life for a struggle, and prosperity for continued effort. Making bare their muscles to the labor, and with wills determined to know the best or worst of it, log cabins sprang up like mushrooms from a hot bed, and passed away like fairies in the morning dew-drops, giving place to the hewed log-house, and eventually to the unique frame and brick architectural dwellings of the present day and generation, as the harvest of the fallow, broken by the wooden mouldboard as it was directed by the muscle that received sustenance from the hand and horse grist mill, and toated upon the pack saddle, together with the venison, the bear and the turkey, nature's provision for man's coming. In those pioneer days, the sickle was thrust, the flail was wielded or the oxen trod out the grain, which was fanned by the sheets of pioneer couches, for twenty-five cents per bushel, in trade.

Corn was plowed with the rudest plows for twelve and a half cents in trade. Tea and coffee were luxuries that was too expensive to be often indulged in; upon Sunday or a holiday they might be allowed. Yet at their log rollings and house and barn raisings we still can catch a breath of their hilarity and neighborly feeling, and we are often constrained to say, "They enjoyed themselves more than we do now, never taking a thought that then they had no time to quarrel with each other, or look up the intricate points of law and push a law suit. They were busily employed."

The most of the land in this township was entered directly, by the citizens themselves, at $1.25 per acre. Some of the southern part came through the hands of Buckingham and Sturgess.

It is creditably stated that of those who took up land through Buckingham, many were unable to pay for it, and some could no more than pay the interest on the money they borrowed from him, or was due on back payments, the enormous interest of twenty per cent. being charged by him for money invested, or upon back pay for their farms, purchased of him at from $5.00 to $10.00 per acre. In consequence of this they were obliged, many of them, to sell out the very land they had doubly earned and made fruitful by their toil, in many cases saving a mere pittance from years of hard labor. Hence it comes that, few of the first settlers or their children remain to this day in the southwestern part of the township.

It is difficult to tell now, where the first mill was built, but it is quite likely it was upon South Fork creek, in about 1817, by Frank Harris. That part of the township was afterward made a part of Pleasant township, where a more complete history of the mill is given.

Levi Little, who once lived upon the present site of Porterville, in an early day had a hand mill where they used to grind all night, and in that length of time could grind about two bushels of corn, three or four bushels of buckwheat, or one and one half bushels of wheat. The burr was small and turned by means of a pin fastened near the edge upon the top. They turned with one hand and fed it with the other. It was afterward turned to a horse mill.

It is claimed by some that the first mill was built upon the head waters of Black's Fork creek, by a man by the name of Fate, who afterward sold it to Petit. At this mill they ground corn, buckwheat and wheat, and sawed lumber. A man by the name of Underhill once had a horse mill on the line between Perry and Morgan counties. One of the oldest mills was built by Levi T. Deaver, near the edge of the township, not far from Deavertown, of Morgan county.

There is now no mill running in the township, all having gone down.

For a better class of work, and quicker returns, the farmers often went to Zanesville on horseback to mill, via the cow paths, riding one horse and leading another, which wore the pack saddle and carried most of the grain.

In 1818, as above stated, this township held its first election, and the names given as the first settlers, were the first voters, or at least most of them were voters here at that time. Then the ballot was cast for the first Justice of the Peace, who in all probability was Samuel Ogburn. At that time the votes were polled as they have been ever since, some place, and in some kind of a building, upon the sixteenth and school section of the township. If Ogburn was not the very first, he was among the first to hold that office. Upon the sixteenth section they now have a township house where the votes are polled. The number of votes cast in 1882 was two hundred, not varying but little from that number at any time. It is said that David Hearing was the first man married in this township.

This township has no railroads nor pikes. The Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley, a branch of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railway, passes near its northern boundary at McLuney.

As James Black is considered the first settler, it is altogether probable that around him gathered the first neighborhood, and thereby the first schools were held in that neighborhood, on a farm owned at the time by Jesse Simmer, and now owned by Ephraim Bennett. The first school teachers there were, first of all, Abraham Striker. Samuel Younkin soon after. Robert Sandburn taught in 1820, and Thomas Petit in 1821. They all taught in the log cabin school house, so frequently described in this history, that a repetition here would be to increase the monotony of the story. The public school system was adopted as soon as practicable, and as is shown in the county history.

There is now in this township six sub-school districts, and in each there is a good, substantial frame school house, where at least an average term of school of six months is kept up each year, the teachers receiving their pay from the public school fund. There are one hundred and forty-eight male and one hundred and forty-eight female scholars enrolled.

CHURCHES.—Fletcher Chapel is of the Methodist Episcopal denomination, and is commonly known as the Holcomb church. It is the oldest church we now have any knowledge of in this township, and was probably organized in about 1815, and met in private houses previous to 1820 to 1825, at which time they built a log church on Joseph Holcomb's farm. In private houses they met at George Reed's, John Fate's and Joseph Holcomb's. The first members were John Fate and wife, Joseph Holcomb and wife, Mrs. George Reed, Patton Ferson and wife, Thomas Hollingshead and wife, Asher Holcomb, who was the first class class leader, and a few others. The first preachers were Rev. Samuel Hamilton and Rev. Cornelius Springer. They were afterward supplied by the Ohio Conference, and were known to be in the Zanesville district, and in Deavertown circuit until 1882, when a change was made, and it became one of four appointments of which the Rev. Raymond Griffith is pastor, but is still in Zanesville district. Previous to the change they for many years past had preaching once in three weeks, but since that they have preaching alternate Sundays. The old log church was supplanted in 1846 by a frame building that is now standing.

The first Sunday school met in the log house and was kept up until about 1867, only during the summer season; since that time they have continued during the whole time, and now number about fifty scholars, with M. G. Sayre as Superintendent. Charles Crider, Ephraim Bennett, Bartholomew Longstreth and William Sayre are class leaders of the church, and there are about seventy members.

Pleasant Grove M. E. Church is commonly known as the Tatman Church, and is situate in the southeastern portion of the township, near Joseph Wallace's farm. It was organized in about from 1832 to 1837, and first met in Bartholomew Tatman's house on the farm now owned by Joseph Wallace. Bartholomew Tatman and wife, one McClannahan and wife, Samnel Ogburn, one Mr. Iden and some others, were the first members. B. Tatman was likely the first class leader. The first ministers were Samuel Harvey and Samuel Hamilton, and have since been supplied by the Ohio Conference.

Soon after their organization, they built a hewed log church hard by the site of the present frame church, which took its place in about 1861, built under the pastorate of Rev. Joseph Barringer. There are jamin Ellis, in 1855, and in 1856 they built a frame church edifice in Porterville, under the direction of Rev. Sheets and Rev. Jno. Gregg. The first organization consisted of about thirty members; among whom were Jno. Bell, who was the first class leader, and his wife, one Bullick and wife, Jacob Brock and wife, Mrs. Abi Butt, Mary Skinner, Adam Dennis and wife, and at that time, the Bethel charge, west of this place, was disbanded, and most of that membership moved here. The first church-house stood until 1881, when a neat new frame church was built in its stead, at a cost of $1,975.00. Rev. G. P. Fry was pastor during its building. They now have a membership of about eighty, with Rev. R. H. Griffith as pastor, and George Holcomb, J. S. King and Marian Newlon as class leaders. Sunday School was organized at the time they first occupied their own church, with Jno. Ball as Superintendent, since which time it has been continued, and for several years past, during the whole year, and now has an average attendance of about thirty or forty scholars. Levi Aler is now Superintendent.

GOSHEN UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—In 1827, a society was formed in the vicinity of where the above church stands, known as the Associate Church, which so continued until 1868, at which time that body and the Associate Reform Church were united, and formed the United Presbyterian Church.

The Associate Church was organized by Rev. John Walker. In 1839 they built a church-house, under the pastorate of Rev. David Lindsay, which stood until 1877, when a larger frame house was built in its stead, which still stands, the ground being leased by W. C. Moore for as long as it is used for church purposes.

W. C. Moore and wife, Nancy Moore, Mary Moore, James Beard and wife, Mrs. Jane Rusk, Miss Feckner, Mrs. Margaret Adams, Robert N. Moore and wife, Martha Moore, Margaret Moore, Susannah Moore and Robert R. Moore, were first members. From 1827 to the time of building the first church, they met in houses and barns, and many times at Robert Moore's, sen. W. C. Moore was the first Elder. There are now twenty-two members, with Jno. Taylor, James L. Moore and Robert N. Moore as elders. The largest membership they have ever had was about fifty or fifty-five souls. Sunday school was first organized in 1877, when James L. Moore was Superintendent, and had about thirty scholars. They now have about sixty scholars, and Jno. Taylor is Superintendent. Previous to 1877 they had Sunday school only a part of the time. They now have school every summer, but do not continue during the winter season.

PORTERVILLE.—The town was laid out by John Porter in 1848, in the treme eastern edge of the township, and on the dividing ridge, before referred to, from which the water sheds both north and south.

This is a village, or hamlet rather, of about forty souls, beautifully situated, in which health, the greatest temporal blessing vouchsafed to humanity, is abundantly enjoyed. It is surrounded by the most desirable farming community of the township, as the hills seem not quite so rugged. From here to every point of the compass, stretches out before admirers of nature, hill and dale, forming every variety of scenery. Soon after it was platted, Jno. Adams opened, in Porterville, a general merchandise store, and a postoffice was established, receiving mail by horseback carrier from McConnellsville; the mail now is carried in the same manner but from Rendville, in Monroe township. The stores have changed hands several times since Adams first opened the business. There is now one store of general merchandise kept by P. W. Newton, and a furniture and undertaking room, kept by E. Hearing. It has one church and blacksmith shop.

In 1870 there was erected, in the extreme north edge of the township, near McLuney, a potter shop, where all kinds of common stone ware is manufactured. It employs several hands, and makes seven hundred gallons of ware per week. A great deal of the first ware made here was shipped to Maryland and Virginia, but it is now wholesaled at McLuney Station.

The facilities for manufacturing in this vicinity are not excelled any place, as everything is found near at hand, except salt.

There is a claim made that a pioneer by the name of Dusenberry settled on Bear Run, in Bearfield township, in 1802. If this be correct, it is undoubtedly the first settlement in the township, and one of the first in the county.

James Moore, of Bearfield township, was the inventor and operator of the first portable steam saw mill ever run. He had an eight-horse power saw mill, and employed a firm in Zanesville to build him a light engine, such as he directed. He invented the attachments, set up the machinery, and operated the mill for eight or ten years. It was the first portable steam saw mill in the world. William Moore, a brother of James, also had an interest in the mill. The well-known Zanesville mills, which have been shipped all over the world, are all of a later date than the Moore mill. The portable mill was not only the conception of a Perry county man, but it did its first work in Bearfield township, Perry county.

The population of Bearfield in 1880 was 997.

J. W. J. Wickman, Probate Judge of Perry
County, Ohio: 1/323

Your Petitioners John Grunkin and Asher Holsen of said County respectfully represent that on the 31st day of March, 1851, Mary Stratz was appointed by the Probate Court of said County administratrix with the Will annexed of the Estate of Leonard Stratz late of said County, dec'd and gave Bond for the discharge of said trust in the penal sum of $2000, with your Petitioners as sureties, conditioned according to law. Your Petitioners further represent that said Mary Stratz admitted as aforesaid, since said appointment has been guilty of wasting and squandering the Estate of Leonard Stratz aforesaid. That since entering upon the discharge of her trust aforesaid by virtue of the power in her vested under the Will aforesaid, she has sold and conveyed, as your Petitioners are informed and believe,
a certain house and lot in the town of Celotown in said County for the sum of about $175, at private sale, the same being of the value, as your petitioners aver, of at least $250. That she has further converted into money or otherwise disposed of all the personal property of said Estate, together with her life Estate in the real estate in said County of which her said husband died seized, for the purpose of converting the assets of said Estate to her own use, and of removing the same beyond the jurisdiction of this Court, with the intent to defraud Petitioners by compelling them to pay certain specific legacies in said Will mentioned, amounting together, to about $500.

without furnishing Petitioners any indemnity whatever; - That the entire assets of said estate are now within the personal possession of said administratrix, who has avowed her intention, in the presence and hearing of your Petitioners Youngkin & Asher living to the State of Wisconsin, at the same time declaring that she ~~should~~ remove said assets and thereby compel your Petitioners to pay the legacies aforesaid. And your Petitioners furthermore that the said Mary Strate, Admrx as aforesaid, has been guilty of other and further acts of unfaithful administration. Wherefore they pray that said Court may order said Administratrix to render an account, and to execute forthwith to your Petitioners a bond of indemnity, with surety to be approved of by the Court within a short day to be by the Court named, and such other and further relief as may be equitable and just.

Eltinge Families. Mrs. Carl Meckling Bennett of Arlington, Virginia contributed information on the early Eltinge and Van Meter families as follows. Cornelius Eltinge, born December 29, 1681, at Hurley, Ulster County, New York, died in Frederick in 1754. He was a son of Jan Elting and wife Jakomytie (Stecht) of Sweghelster, now Zweigelt, Drenthe, Holland, who emigrated to Ulster County about 1660. At Kingston, New York in 1704, Cornelius married Rebecca Van Meter, daughter of Joost Jansen Van Meter and wife Sarah DuBois. Rebecca was a granddaughter of Joost Van Meter and wife Maeycke (Hendricksen), immigrants to New Amsterdam, New York in 1663. Joost Jansen was born in 1656 in Gelderland, Holland. Sarah DuBois was a daughter of Louis, born in 1626 near Lille, in Wicres, northern France. Louis married Catharine Blanchard about 1655/60 at Mannheim, Germany, and they emigrated to Ulster County about 1661. Cornelius Eltinge operated one of the principal early taverns in Fredericktown. It seems possible that this was the tavern where Franklin, General Braddock and Washington met before Braddock's defeat (just after the death of Cornelius). Mrs. Bennett is a descendant of a later Sarah DuBois, who married about 1736 Joost Heit or Hite, native of Bonfeld, near Heilbronn, South Germany. Their daughter, Anna Maria Hite, born in Virginia, married John Taylor and had daughter Ann. The latter married an Andrew Hite (different family) and moved from Virginia to Ohio. Five more generations in Ohio and Indiana brought Carol Ann Bennett to the D.C. area.

* Another possible tavern was that of Kennedy Farrell.

Crum Families. Notes on the ancestors of the Crum families of Frederick County were contributed by Robert Crum Frey, Jr. of Wilmington, Delaware. Of the five children with emigrants Jan Joost Van Meter and wife Maeycke (Hendricksen) given on page 127 of Monocacy & Catoctin, Volume I, three were by Maeycke's earlier marriage to Willem Crum (Crum). One of these was Gysbert Crum, the ancestor of Gilbert and Abraham Crum, who settled in Frederick County by 1754. Gilbert (1700-1762) lived on Monocacy Manor. Abraham (1708-1787) lived southeast of Frederick on or near land previously owned by his Van Meter cousins. He is buried in the Crum graveyard near Reich's Ford Road.

Trout Families. The two Trout families of our area have been distinguished by research of George E. Trout of Buena Park, California. Both go back to Hans Leonard Traut (1620-1692), who was Bürgermeister of Implingen, south of Landau in the Pfalz. A grandson, Hans Martin, born 1677, from nearby Offenbach and wife Judith, emigrated in 1733 with the following children, most of whom married and settled in Frederick County:
Johan Theobald, 1706-1738, m. Anna Margaretha Rebstock, 1705-1748; Ann 2m Hans Jacob Stehli (Staley), 1708-1761.

TROUT AND SELL FAMILIES

Maria Appollonia, 1709-1779, m. Hans Peter Hoffman, 1705-1748; Maria 2m George Frederick Unseld, 1709-1756.
John Henry, 1711-1746, m. Anna Maria Baum; Anna 2m Georg Friedrich Haefner, 1716-1794.

Maria Barbara, b. 1713, m. Frances Weiss, 1705-1751.
Maria Elizabeth, b. 1715, m. Hans Georg Ley (Loy), 1705-1765.
Sybilla, b. 1720.

The second Trout family brought the Trout name more briefly in Frederick County, but has many descendants in the West. Johan Wendel Georg Traut (1686-1760) was a grandson of Hans Leonard. His son Hans Michael (1730-1780), born in Klein Fischlingen, northeast of Landau, emigrated to Strasburg, Lancaster County, and from there to Bridgeport, east of Emmitsburg, where he died. Michael and wife Catherine Elizabeth had a son Michael Jr. (1760-1806), who lived in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania and sons Henry (1757-1812), George (1762-1829), Philip (1765-1852) and Jacob (1772-1829), all of whom moved first to Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. They had sisters Elizabeth, Maria and Catharine, whose destinies are not known. A descendant of Jacob is genealogist George E. Trout, born in Canon City, Colorado, a retired engineer of the Texaco Company at Wilmington, California.

Sell Families. Dr. Kenneth D. Sell of Salisbury, North Carolina has distinguished three contemporary Jacob Sells in the area of early Littlestown. Jacob Sell Sr (c1741-1825), a sawmiller, married Christina Hesson, daughter of Balser Sr. They were among the fourth great grandparents of Dr. Sell. Another Jacob Sell (1735-1813) was the second child of Peter (died 1776) and wife Anna Margaret. About 1778 Jacob married Maria Elizabeth Fisher (1748-1820), daughter of Thomas Sr and Eva. Jacob was a shoemaker in 1778 but later a storekeeper in Littlestown and, after 1799, in Gettysburg. In 1788 the last Jacob's nephew, a third Jacob Sell, moved to Littlestown to open his prominent gunsmith business. The Jacob Sell families attended Christ Reformed Church, northeast of Littlestown.

George HALSEY of Zanesville, John B. HOY of near Bristol, Mrs. Fred PARGEON of New Lexington, 28 grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Henry JONES of Shawnee and three brothers, William of Leavenworth, Kans., James A., of Dawson, Neb., and George of Lacygne, Kans. He united with the Bristol U.B. Church in 1909 under pastorate of Rev. E. GWARDNEY. Though Brother HOY suffered intensely in his last illness he never lost faith in the Master, who tempered the wind to the shorn Lamb and expressed his preparedness to meet his God and was willing to be relieved from the suffering of this earth. Brother HOY is just one more to join the throng that John saw that no man could number. Numerous other relatives and friends are left to mourn. May his soul rest in peace. (People's Advocate, April 22, 1927)

Mrs. John HOY died last Thursday. Funeral took place at New Lexington Sunday afternoon. Susannah GAVER, daughter of George and Sarah GAVER was born near Drakes Station, Perry County, Ohio, December 22, 1857, died August 13, 1908, aged 50 years, 7 months and 22 days. She was united in marriage to John HOY December 28, 1876. This union was blessed with eleven children, 5 boys and 6 girls. One child, Anna, dying in infancy. She leaves to mourn her sad departure her husband, 10 children, 4 grandchildren, 3 brothers, 4 sisters and a host of relatives of friends. She became a christian and united with the M.E. Church at McCuneville at the age of 18 years and for over 30 years she quietly walked with God. She was opposed to anything ostentatious, but as God's word teaches, she adorned herself with good works. Her influence was felt most in the home, and the neighborhood in which she lived and she not only was a keeper of the home but she loved her neighbor as herself and as it pleased God to bestow upon her the abundant honor of motherhood, she filled well her place and proved herself worthy of the title Mother and her children will rise up even in years to come and call her blessed. A short funeral service, conducted by Rev. I.C. PEITSMEYER was held at the family residence Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment at New Lexington. J.S. RICKETTS, Jr., Her Pastor. (People's Advocate, August 21, 1908)

ESSINGTON - Durinda FRAMPTON ESSINGTON, wife of George ESSINGTON, was born in Licking county, Ohio, February 22, 1840, died at her home near Rehoboth, January 4, 1892. The deceased was a daughter of Eliza and Garitson FRAMPTON. From her earliest recollection she was surrounded with religious influence; she was converted at 13 years of age while at a Thursday night prayer meeting, and joined the M.E. church at 16. For a number of years she was a successful teacher in the public schools, and is still remembered and loved by those who were her pupils. She was united in marriage with Geo. ESSINGTON, Oct. 27, 1875, and was ever a most loving and exemplary companion. She had been severely and hopelessly afflicted for 10 years, but bore it with a christian resignation and cheerfulness that is seldom witnessed. Even in her extreme weakness and suffering she was looking at the brighter side, and was ever deeply interested in the welfare of her family. She was a useful member of the church to which she belonged a teacher in the Sabbath school, and was ever at her post when health permitted, and died in full assurance of eternal life. She leaves a husband, three brothers, three sisters and multitudes of friends to mourn their great loss. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. D.J. SMITH, of Granville, O. Interment in the Rehoboth cemetery. (New Lex Tribune, 21 Jan 1892)

Friday morning. Levi KENNEDY, supervisor of the infirmary, discovered three mysterious packages in the spring of water used at the infirmary for drinking and cooking purposes. Upon analysis by the infirmary physician, they were found to contain paris green sufficient in quantity to poison all the inmates. Fortunately Mr. KENNEDY made the discovery before any of the water had been used. (New Lex Herald, 27 July 1893) are rather steep; yet there is not much of the land that is not arable, and its fertility is beyond dispute, as many an industrious farmer, who now enjoys a full competency for his declining years, can testify. Coal mines, iron ore deposits, potter and fire clay banks, and farm products, are seldom more happily united than in Bearfield township.

It is said that James Black was the first settler in this township, who must have come before 1812, but how long before is unknown. He settled near where Porterville now stands. As early as 1815 came the father of Jacob Hearing and settled, a neighbor to James Black. The following is a list of the first settlers, as could best be obtained from available records: Benjamin Tatman, Bartholomew Tatman, John G. Hearing, David Worley, Charles Crook, Samuel Ogburn, John B. Holcomb, Benjamin Morgan, Lawson Teal, Samuel Worley, James Palmer, Edward Conner, James Montgomery, Isaac Kent, Michael Longstreth, William Lashley, Andrew Woods, John Younkin, Thomas Tatman, John A. Hearing, Samuel Younkin, William J. Moore, Elisha Palmer, Matthew Palmer, Leon Strait, William Tatman, John Montgomery, John Thrapp, L. J. Baker, Ezekiel Rose, John J. Jackson, David Little, Lloyd Teal, and John Handslev. These people came from the Eastern States and the Old Country; consequently, were a mixture of various nations.

Upon their arrival, all the hardships and realities of a pioneer life were upon them. The "Giant Oak" stood king of the forest, and defied the "Woodman's ax." At once it was to be seen that there was life for a struggle and prosperity for continued effort. Making bare their muscles to the labor, and with wills determined to know the best or worst of it, log cabins sprang up like mushrooms from a hot bed, and passed away like fairies in the morning dew-drops, giving place to the hewed log-house, and eventually to the unique frame and brick architectural dwellings of the present day and generation, as the harvest of the fallow, broken by the wooden mouldboard as it was directed by the muscle that received sustenance from the hand and horse grist mill, and toated upon the pack saddle, together with the venison, the bear and the turkey, nature's provision for man's coming. In those pioneer days, the sickle was thrust, the flail was wielded or the oxen trod out the grain, which was fanned by the sheets of pioneer couches, for twenty-five cents per bushel, in trade.

Corn was plowed with the rudest plows for twelve and a half cents in trade. Tea and coffee were luxuries that was too expensive to be often indulged in; upon Sunday or a holiday they might be allowed. Yet at their log rollings and house and barn raisings we still can catch a breath of their hilarity and neighborly feeling, and we are often constrained to say, "They enjoyed themselves more than we do now," never taking a thought that then they had no time to quarrel with each other, or look up the intricate points of law and push a law suit. They were busily employed.

The most of the land in this township was entered directly, by the citizens themselves, at $1.25 per acre. Some of the southern part came through the hands of Buckingham and Sturgess.

It is creditably stated that of those who took up land through Buckingham, many were unable to pay for it, and some could no more than pay the interest on the money they borrowed from him, or was due on back payments, the enormous interest of twenty per cent, being charged by him for money invested, or upon back pay for their farms, purchased of him at from $5.00 to $10.00 per acre. In consequence of this they were obliged, many of them, to sell out the very land they had doubly earned and made fruitful by their toil, in many cases saving a mere pittance from years of hard labor. Hence it comes that few of the first settlers or their children remain to this day in the southwestern part of the township.

It is difficult to tell now, where the first mill was built, but it is quite likely it was upon South Fork creek, in about 1817, by Frank Harris. That part of the township was afterward made a part of Pleasant township, where a more complete history of the mill is given.

Levi Little, who once lived upon the present site of Porterville, in an early day had a hand mill where they used to grind all night, and in that length of time could grind about two bushels of corn, three or four bushels of buckwheat, or one and one half bushels of wheat. The burr was small and turned by means of a pin fastened near the edge upon the top. They turned with one hand and fed it with the other. It was afterward turned to a horse mill.

It is claimed by some that the first mill was built upon the head waters of Black's Fork creek, by a man by the name of Fate, who afterward sold it to Petit. At this mill they ground corn, buckwheat and wheat, and sawed lumber. A man by the name of Underhill once had a horse mill on the line between Perry and Morgan counties. One of the oldest mills was built by Levi T. Deaver, near the edge of the township, not far from Deavertown, of Morgan county.

There is now no mill running in the township, all having gone down.

For a better class of work, and quicker returns, the farmers often went to Zancerville on horseback to mill, via the cow paths, riding one horse and leading another, which wore the pack saddle and carried most of the grain.

In 1818, as above stated, this township held its first election, and the names given as the first settlers, were the first voters, or at least most of them were voters here at that time. Then the ballot was cast for the first Justice of the Peace, who in all probability was Samuel Ogburn. At that time the votes were polled as they have been ever since, some place, and in some kind of a building, upon the sixteenth and school section of the township. If Ogburn was not the very first, he was among the first to hold that office. Upon the sixteenth section they now have a township house where the votes are polled. The number of votes cast in 1882 was two hundred, not varying but little from that number at any time. It is said that David Hearing was the first man married in this township.

This township has no railroads nor pikes. The Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley, a branch of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati & St. Louis Railway, passes near its northern boundary at McLuney.

As James Black is considered the first settler, it is altogether probable that around him gathered the first neighborhood, and thereby the first schools were held in that neighborhood, on a farm owned at the time by Jesse Simmer, and now owned by Ephraim Bennett. The first school teachers there were, first of all, Abraham Striker, Samuel Younkin soon after. Robert Sandburn taught in 1820, and Thomas Pett in 1821. They all taught in the log cabin school house, so frequently described in this history, that a repetition here would be to increase the monotony of the story. The public school system was adopted as soon as practicable, and as is shown in the county history.

There is now in this township six sub-school districts, and in each there is a good, substantial frame school house, where at least an average term of school of six months is kept up each year, the teachers receiving their pay from the public school fund. There are one hundred and forty-eight male and one hundred and forty-eight female scholars enrolled.

CHURCHES.—Fletcher Chapel is of the Methodist Episcopal denomination, and is commonly known as the Holcomb church. It is the oldest church we now have any knowledge of in this township, and was probably organized in about 1815, and met in private houses previous to 1820 to 1825, at which time they built a log church on Joseph Holcomb's farm. In private houses they met at George Reed's, John Fate's and Joseph Holcomb's. The first members were John Fate and wife, Joseph Holcomb and wife, Mrs. George Reed, Paton Ferson and wife, Thomas Hollingshead and wife, Asher Holcomb, who was the first class leader, and a few others. The first preachers were Rev. Samuel Hamilton and Rev. Cornelius Springer. They were afterward supplied by the Ohio Conference, and were known to be in the Zanesville district, and in Deavertown circuit until 1882, when a change was made, and it became one of four appointments of which the Rev. Raymond Griffith is pastor, but is still in Zanesville district. Previous to the change they for many years past had preaching once in three weeks, but since that they have preaching alternate Sundays. The old log church was supplanted in 1846 by a frame building that is now standing.

The first Sunday school met in the log house and was kept up until about 1867; only during the summer season; since that time they have continued during the whole time, and now number about fifty scholars, with M. G. Sayre as Superintendent. Charles Crider, Ephraim Bennett, Bartholomew Longstreth and William Sayre are class leaders of the church, and there are about seventy members.

Pleasant Grove M. E. Church is commonly known as the Taiman Church, and is situated in the southeastern portion of the township, near Joseph Wallace's farm. It was organized in about 1832 to 1837, and first met in Bartholomew Taiman's house on the farm now owned by Joseph Wallace. Bartholomew Taiman and wife, one McClannahan and wife, Samuel Ogburn, one Mr. Iden and some others, were the first members. B. Taiman was likely the first class leader. The first ministers were Samuel Harvey and Samuel Hamilton, and have since been supplied by the Ohio Conference.

Soon after their organization, they built a hewed log church hard by the site of the present frame church, which took its place in about 1861, built under the pastorate of Rev. Joseph Burringer. There are now about sixty communicants, with John M. Holcomb and Isaac Cooper as class leaders.

The first Sunday school was organized in about 1867, and met only during the summer season until 1881, when it was continued during the year, and up to the present time. There are now about fifty scholars enrolled.

This charge belonged to the Deavertown circuit until 1882, when it was changed and put into the Millertown circuit.

Bethel M. E. Church was organized about 1837, with James Moore, Elias Moore, William Moore, Urias Moore, John Handsley and family, Alexander McClannahan, and some of the Pettis as first members. James Moore was the first class leader. The first preachers were John Reed and Samuel Hamilton. They first worshipped in a log school house near where they afterward built a hewed log church.

That house stood until about 1845, when the society having removed to Porterville charge, the house went down or was moved away, but the cemetery is still kept up.

In a very early day there was a class organized in the vicinity of where the United Presbyterian church now stands, and near which they built a church, now remembered as the Teal church; but for some unknown reason, and at a date unknown, they disorganized. It was a pioneer church, no doubt. Some time previous to 1854 the Methodist Episcopal church organized a class in section 16, and met at first at private houses. Rezen Hammond and wife, James Allen and wife, Alexander Burgess and family, Bernard Smith, who was the first class leader, Eliza Koons, and others, were the first members; about twelve or fifteen in number. In 1854 they moved the Teal church from where it stood and rebuilt it on the farm of Rezen Hammond, where they worshipped until the time of the late rebellion, when differences of opinion split the society, and it became disorganized, some joining at the Holcomb church, while others went to near Porterville, and, with others, formed what is known as the Christian Union church. The Hammond church, by which name it was usually called, held Sunday school for several summer seasons, during its organization.

Zions.—In about 1847, there was organized a Disciple church, near Porterville, with Daniel Rusk at the head, which continued for a few years, when it was changed and became a Christian denomination.

The Disciples, and other Christian people, had built a log house, for general church purposes, but it appears that a deed for the lot was made to the Christian denomination, who still hold the deed. How long either the Disciples, or Christians kept up their organization, is unknown, but together they held meetings until the time of the late rebellion, at which time the Christian Union church was organized, taking the place of the others. In 1868 they supplanted the log church by a neat frame building, where they still hold services. It was changed to the Christian Union denomination, with Rev. Ammon Biddison as their pastor. Simultaneous with the organization of the church Sunday school was commenced, and is still continued with an attendance of twenty-five or thirty persons.

Porterville Methodist Episcopal church was organized in the old log church, where the Zion now stands, under the pastorate of Rev. Ben-ger. Mr. Yarger was married in 1862, to Miss Saloma, daughter of Henry and Saloma (Yarger) Kokenparger. They have four children, viz.: Jacob H., Mary E., Levi H. Saloma K.

YARGER, DAVID, farmer; post office, New Lexington, Perry county; born in this county in 1829; son of Jacob and Susannah (Kelster) Yarger; grandson of John and Elizabeth (Auker) Yarger. The latter died in 1864. Mr. Yarger has been twice married; first, in 1857, to Miss Sophia Kokenparger. This union was blessed with seven children, viz.: William H., Frederick D., Sarah A., Samuel, Noah E., John, Charles. Mr. Yarger was married again in 1871, to Miss Mary Barker, daughter of William Barker. They have one child, viz.: Allie.

YOUNKER, JOHN L., blacksmith, Maxville, Ohio; born in the Kingdom of Wurtemberg, Germany, November 16, 1838; son of Leonard and Christina (Wittman) Younker. His father was very desirous that his son should become master of the sciences, and in early boyhood he attended school at Limbach, Germany; and at the age of 14 years entered Temple Hof Academy in the same kingdom, and made such progress, that at eighteen years of age, he was permitted to enter the famous Erlangen University, in the Kingdom of Bavaria. He had only remained here two years, when the death of his parents threw him upon his own resources, and he was compelled to give up his college life, and at once emigrated to America, landing in New York City, September 21, 1858, and at once went to Circleville, Pickaway county, Ohio, and apprenticed himself to the machinist trade, and continued to apply himself at this trade for about eighteen months, when he also began to work at the blacksmith trade. On the 31st day of March, 1862, he enlisted in Company A, Twelfth Regiment, United States Infantry, serving as corporal, and participated in all the battles of the Army of the Potomac, until he was taken prisoner at Coal Harbor, Virginia, June 11, 1863. He was at once taken to Richmond, and from there to Andersonville, Georgia, where he endured all the tortures and sufferings of that infernal rebel prison; was taken from Andersonville to Florence, thence to Charleston, South Carolina, where he was paroled December 11, 1864, having been a prisoner exactly eighteen months. After being paroled, he returned to Annapolis, Maryland, and rejoined the army, and served until the expiration of his term of enlistment as hospital steward. He was honorably discharged from the army at Fort Hamilton, New York Harbor, March 31, 1865, and immediately returned to his home in Circleville, Ohio, and resumed the trade of blacksmithing, which employment he has ever since followed. In the autumn of 1877, he removed to Webb Summit, Hocking county, and remained three years, removing to Maxville, Perry county, Ohio, in 1880, where he has ever since resided. In the spring of 1881 he was elected Justice of the Peace, which office he still continues to hold. Was married in Circleville, Ohio, December 9, 1860, to Loisa, daughter of George and Phoebe Schlicher, of Perry county, Ohio, to whom were born six children, viz.: Frank, Mary, Emma, Rose, Maggie and Philip M.; the oldest, Frank, died in infancy. Mr. Younker is considered one of the best read men of the township in which he resides, and is a first-class mechanic and a good citizen.

YOUNKIN, E. P., Pleasant township, Moxahala, carpenter, born September, 1842, in Bearfield township; son of John and Margaret (Trout) Younkin, both natives of Pennsylvania. His father came to this State in 1818, entered a farm in Bearfield township and became one of the wealthiest farmers in that township. He was in the War of 1812, and died July 12, 1881, aged 90 years. When the subject of this sketch grew up to manhood he went to Illinois, remained there nineteen months and the rest of the three years he spent in the west he lived in Iowa; he then returned to Perry where he remained one year, then came back to Moxahala, where he still resides. June 7, 1873, he married Miss Agnes McCall, daughter of Matthew and Levina (Gaddis) McCall, of Morgan county, and of Scotch descent.

YOST, A. R., dealer in general hardware and agricultural implements, Somerset. He was born in 1839, in this county. His father, Isaac Yost, was born in 1807 in Mifflin county, Pennsylvania. They came to this county in 1808, settling in Reading township. John, grandfather of A. R. Yost, died in 1854; his grandmother, in 1850. They were the parents of seven children. The father of the subject of this sketch was the oldest. He was married in 1834 to Miss Elizabeth Pherson, of Clayton township. She was born in 1815. He removed to Clayton township in 1834 and lived there until his death, May 10th, 1881. His wife died in 1874. They were the parents of eight children. A. R. Yost is the third. He was married in 1864, to Miss Olivia Leiter, of Stark county. She was born in 1841 in Mansfield, Richland county. They are the parents of three children, Charlie, Mary and Laura. In 1869 he came from the farm and engaged in the dry goods line with his brother Albert. Went out of that in 1876. Began the hardware business in 1878, buying an entire new stock. He is, also, the patentee of an axle oiler.

ZARTMAN, WILLIAM F., was born in 1845, on the ancient homestead of Peter Zartman, his grandfather, and of Peter, his father, section 24, Thorn. The mother of William F. Zartman was, in her maidenhood, named Sarah Binckley, daughter of Jacob, who now lives with her, aged ninety-three years, and a grand-daughter of Christian Binckley. His three sons, who came with him from Pennsylvania the same year, were John, Adam and Henry, all dead and all among the early pioneers. The grandmother's maiden name was Elizabeth Reid. The great ancestor, Mr. Peter Zartman, must have come into Thorn township in 1805, or thereabout. He was prosperous, and gave homes to his six sons, Samuel, Solomon, David, Franklin, Washington and Jackson, who all moved to Miami county, Indiana, and to his three daughters, Sally, wife of David Mohler; Polly, wife of John Shrover, Palmetto, Kansas, and Mary Ann, wife of A. Springer, Neptune, Ohio.

Peter Zartman, the father of William F., is the only son, and Mrs. Mohler the only daughter that remained in Perry county, of this large and influential family, and Peter died in 1882, at an advanced age, leaving but one child behind him as his survivor. The only brother of William F., was Levi Franklin, who joined the Seventeenth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and gave up his life in the service of his country. The religion is Lutheran. William Francis Zartman was married in 1864, to Miss Clara, daughter of Valentine Weirick, the name being of English extraction, while that of Zartman is German. The surviving children of this marriage are Elmer, Lizzie and Elsie. The first born, Laura, is dead.

Margaret Younklin, widow of John Younklin, had a stroke of paralysis the evening of the 8th of January and died the evening of the 11th. Interment at the Holcomb church cemetery, 13th. Aunt Peggy, as she was familiarly called, and Squire Younklin (who died ten years ago last July, lacking a few days of being 90 years old) were among the pioneers of Perry county. He entered the farm on which he resided until his death when it was all in woods; not a stick of timber cut until he went to build himself a log cabin to live in. They had nine sons and five daughters eleven of whom are yet living; some in the west and some here with their mother, to care for her in her infirm age, she being in her ninety-second year. She lived to see home after home and churches and school houses and towns grow up, and the wild forests disappear as well as the wolves that used to howl around their cabin. It was a great pleasure to her to tell of early times. She was the oldest lady in Bearfield township.

YOUNKIN—Margaret Younklin, daughter of Casper and Mary Ann Trout, was born in Loudoun county, Va., November 13, 1800, and died Jan. 11, 1892, aged 91 years, 1 month and 28 days.

When a child moved with her parents to Rockingham county, Va., then when 15 years old came to Muskingum county, O., and three years later to Morgan county, where she was united in marriage to John Younklin February 8th, 1820, and moved to their new home in Bearfield township, Perry county, 2½ miles south of Deavertown, where they resided until her death. She united with the Lutheran church when 15 years old. She was a kind mother, loving wife and good neighbor. She never lost an opportunity to attend the church of her choice as long as her health would permit. She leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their loss. A. B.

Letter From Harvey C. Younkin

Huron, So. Dak.,
438-4th St., S. W.
April 8, 1940

Mr. Charles Younkin, Charleroi, Pa.

Dear Friend:

I received your invitation to the Younkin reunion.

Regret very much that I cannot attend this year but hope to sometime.

Would like to hear more about the Younkin Association. Do you have a "Who's Who" of the Younkins? I have never met but four of my father's relatives but am sure there must be hundreds.

I am 60 years old, carpenter by occupation. Can send you more information about myself and family if you wish.

My present address is at top of page. Have lived here 31 years.

Hoping to hear from you again and sometime meet you, I am,

Yours truly,

Harvey C. Younkin.

On the 31st day of March, 1862, he enlisted in Company A, Twelfth Regiment, United States Infantry, serving as corporal, and participated in all the battles of the Army of the Potomac, until he was taken prisoner at Coal Harbor, Virginia, June 11, 1863. He was at once taken to Richmond, and from there to Andersonville, Georgia, where he endured all the tortures and sufferings of that infernal rebel prison; was taken from Andersonville to Florence, thence to Charleston, South Carolina, where he was paroled December 11, 1864, having been a prisoner exactly eighteen months. After being paroled, he returned to Annapolis, Maryland, and rejoined the army, and served until the expiration of his term of enlistment as hospital steward. He was honorably discharged from the army at Fort Hamilton, New York Harbor, March 31, 1865, and immediately returned to his home in Circleville, Ohio, and resumed the trade of blacksmithing, which employment he has ever since followed. In the autumn of 1877, he removed to Webb Summit, Hocking county, and remained three years, removing to Maxwellville, Perry county, Ohio, in 1880, where he has ever since resided. In the spring of 1881 he was elected justice of the Peace, which office he still continues to hold. Was married in Circleville, Ohio, December 9, 1860, to Lois, daughter of George and Phoebe Schlicher, of Perry county, Ohio, to whom were born six children, viz.: Frank, Mary, Emma, Rose, Maggie and Philip M.; the oldest, Frank, died in infancy. Mr. Younker is considered one of the best read men of the township in which he resides, and is a first-class mechanic and a good citizen.

this State in 1818, entered a farm in Bearfield township and became one of the wealthiest farmers in that township. He was in the War of 1812, and died July 12, 1881, aged 90 years. When the subject of this sketch grew up to manhood he went to Illinois, remained there nineteen months and the rest of the three years he spent in the west he lived in Iowa; he then returned to Perry where he remained one year, then came back to Moxahala, where he still resides. June 7, 1873, he married Miss Agnes McCall, daughter of Matthew and Levina (Gaddis) McCall, of Morgan county, and of Scotch descent.

YOST, A. R., dealer in general hardware and agricultural implements, Somerset. He was born in 1839, in this county. His father, Isaac Yost, was born in 1807 in Mifflin county, Pennsylvania. They came to this county in 1808, settling in Reading township. John, grandfather of A. R. Yost, died in 1854; his grandmother, in 1839. They were the parents of seven children. The father of the subject of this sketch was the oldest. He was married in 1834 to Miss Elizabeth Pierson, of Clayton township. She was born in 1815. He removed to Clayton township in 1834 and lived there until his death, May 10th, 1881. His wife died in 1874. They were the parents of eight children. A. R. Yost is the third. He was married in 1864, to Miss Olivia Letter, of Stark county. She was born in 1841 in Mansfield, Richland county. They are the parents of three children, Charlie, Mary and Laura. In 1869 he came from the farm and engaged in the dry goods line with his brother Albert. Went out of that in 1876. Began the hardware business in 1878, buying an entire new stock. He is, also, the patentee of an axle oiler.

ZARTMAN, WILLIAM F., was born in 1845, on the ancient homestead of Peter Zartman, his grandfather, and of Peter, his father, section 24, Thorn. The mother of William F. Zartman was, in her maidenhood, named Sarah Binckley, daughter of Jacob, who now lives with her, aged ninety-three years, and a grand-daughter of Christian Binckley. His three sons, who came with him from Pennsylvania the same year, were John, Adam and Henry, all dead and all among the early pioneers. The grandmother's maiden name was Elizabeth Reid. The great ancestor, Mr. Peter Zartman, must have come into Thorn township in 1805, or thereabout. He was prosperous, and gave homes to his six sons, Samuel, Solomon, David, Franklin, Washington and Jackson, who all moved to Miami county, Indiana, and to his three daughters, Sally, wife of David Mohler; Polly, wife of John Shroyer Palmetto, Kansas, and Mary Ann, wife of A. Springer, Neptune, Ohio. Peter Zartman, the father of William F., is the only son, and Mrs. Mohler the only daughter that remained in Perry county, of this large and influential family, and Peter died in 1882, at an advanced age leaving but one child behind him as his survivor. The only brother of William F., was Levi Franklin, who joined the Seventeenth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and gave up his life in the service of his country. The religion is Lutheran. William Francis Zartman was married in 1864, to Miss Clara, daughter of Valentine Weirick, the name being of English extraction, while that of Zartman is German. The surviving children of this marriage are Elmer, Lizzie and Elsie. The first born Laura, is dead.

they were without a President, at the end of which time the Rev. J. H. Leiper was chosen by the board as President, and still continues to hold that position. The first board was John S. Eversole, Erasmus Boyle, Rev. James White, John Danison and John H. Huston. John Danison resigned on account of moving from the community. The present board is the same as the original, except White and Danison, with Rev. J. H. Leiper and Dr. Holland additional. Miss Mary Miller of Concord, Ohio, was the first Principal, who continued four years. Rev. Amrine was second Principal, and continued one year, and afterward, as follows: Prof. H. F. Acker, one year; Prof. D. W. Parks, one year; Prof. Elijah Burgess, one year; Prof. D. W. Parks, one year; Prof. Samuel Rutledge, one year; Prof. Hastings, one year; and now, 1882, Prof. Frank March. For the first six years they employed an assistant, since which time but one instructor has been employed. Upon an average, they have graduated about seven persons each year. It is probably due to say, that the Rev. White, who became the first President, was the main mover in establishing the academy. The community affords a good patronage, and is much benefited by this institution, although it is small.

MILLS.—The first mill was built upon Jonathan's Creek, and where Mount Perry now stands, by a man by the name of Hendricks, in an early day, as soon at least as 1820; it was one of the first water mills in Perry county. Here they did sawing and all kinds of grinding. In about 1847, the mill was re-built, which continued in use until 1880, when the machinery was removed to Hebron, in Licking county, Ohio, where it soon after was destroyed by fire. The frame is still standing upon the site, but is of no use.

A mill was built upon the western edge of the township, a few years after Hendricks' built, also upon Jonathan's Creek, by Asa Dolson. This was also a saw and grist mill, and was in use until about 1862. There is now no mill in operation in the township.

TOWNS.—This township has two post offices, one at Mount Perry and one at Segro. Mount Perry at first was a natural collection of houses around Hendricks' mill and John Guysinger's blacksmith shop, both of whom had their dwellings here. Nathan Melick bought the mill, built and kept a store, and laid out the first lots, east of Main street. James Hayes bought the first lot that was sold, and George Curry bought the second one. They both built upon the lots and lived in the town, about 1828. In 1876, John Danison laid out the Danison addition, west of Main street, and sold the lots. It is now a town of about one hundred and ten inhabitants, has an academy, three churches, two stores and a post office. The post office was established over fifty years ago, with Nathan Melick as post master, and at that time received mail once a week from Somerset. They now have tri-weekly mails from Chalfant's Station, a place about three miles west on the B. & O. R. R. Mount Perry is about three miles north from the Zanesville, Somerset and Maysville Pike, and near the center of the township. Is beautifully located on Jonathan's Creek. It is said that everybody in Mount Perry are on friendly terms, which speaks wonders in its praise.

SEGO.—It is situated on the Zanesville, Somerset and Maysville Pike, near the central meridian of the township. In 1846, William Curry built a blacksmith shop on a lot he bought from William Dusenberry, it being part of one acre that was cut off from Dusenberry's farm by the above-named pike. Soon after this a store was established, and in 1849 Benjamin Williams built a wooden mill, and carded, spun and wove woolen goods there. The mill was run by steam, and stood only four years, when it was destroyed by fire and was never re-built. In 1848, when General Ritchey was in Congress, he had a post office established there, calling it Segro, a name given it by William Curry, for a small town in Africa. Jacob Miller was the first postmaster. There is now a small grocery, a general merchandise store, a post office that receives daily mail, except Sunday, via hack line from Zanesville to Somerset, and some three or four houses in Segro.

CHURCHES.—Bethel Methodist Episcopal Church was first organized as a class in about 1818, and first met at Robinson Chilcote's house. In 1819, April 17, they obtained a deed for two acres of land from Philip Miller, upon which they built a hewed log church, which stood until 1838. The first trustees were James Chilcote, Joseph Claypool, James Porter, Robinson Chilcote, Nathan Chilcote, Nicholas Rible, and John Shaw. In 1836 they bought one-fourth of an acre more from Joshua Plummer, and in 1838 supplanted the hewed log church by a brick house near the site of the old church. In 1863 the church was burnt to the bare walls, and the same year was repaired. In 1882 the church was again repaired and made a neat, well-finished church-house.

When the brick was built in 1838, under the pastorate of Rev. M. A. Milligan, Nathan Chilcote, Henry Roberts, Vincent Kelley, James Porter, Philip Miller, Israel Moore and Samuel Curran were trustees. The present trustees are Joshua Chilcote, Isaiah Rible, Joseph Koehler, J. W. Chilcote, Leonard Reddick, James E. Beard and S. Shaw.

The first members were Robinson Chilcote and wife, John Shaw and wife, Mrs. Chilcote, Philip Miller and wife, Nathan Chilcote and wife, Robinson Chilcote and Nathan Chilcote were the first class leaders, and one Rev. Richmond of Somerset, was one of the first preachers, and they have been furnished ministers by the M. E. Conferences since those days. At first, preaching days were far apart, but after being taken into the Conference, they had preaching once in two weeks, on Thursdays, and some time after that again, they had preaching on Sabbaths, each alternate week. Sabbath School was organized Aug. 17, 1828, and Vincent Kelley was first Superintendent. The school has been successfully kept up to this date, meeting during summer season only, until in about 1880, since which time they meet all the year. There is now an attendance of about fifty scholars, with Isaiah Rible as Superintendent.

DUNKER CHURCH.—It was organized in about 1817, and was among the first Christian organizations in the township. About the time they organized they built a hewed log church in or quite near Mt. Perry, in which they worshiped for about fifteen or twenty years. The church the bayonet. The full particulars of this capture are extremely thrilling, and exemplify the daring and address of the soldier and his captive, but too lengthy for insertion here. He is always hospitable, and has a Virginia welcome to his visitors. His head is twenty-two and a fourth inches; weight, one hundred and sixty-five to one hundred and ninety pounds; height, five feet, eleven and one-half inches.

DUNN, JOHN V., of the firm of Dunn & McTeague, druggist, Rendville, Ohio, was born May 14, 1855, in Pike township, Perry county, Ohio; son of James and Elizabeth (Ward) Dunn, of Irish descent. John V. was brought up on the farm and taught school five years. In the spring of 1880, began the drug business at Junction City, Ohio, and established the present firm in the spring of 1882.

DUNWOODY, JACOB, born 1818, in Lancaster county, Pennsylvania; post office, Thornville; occupation, for forty years, shoe and boot maker. Son of James Dunwoody, a native of Ireland, and who married a Miss Margaret Spohnauer, a native of Pennsylvania, and of German descent. Both parents died in Pennsylvania. He had three brothers—one Levi, still living; post office, Bareville, Pennsylvania; John, who died near Pleasantville in 1839, and one who died young. He had an only sister, who also died young. Father James died at the age of fifty-eight years, after being a widower several years. Both parents were Lutherans in belief. Had he voted in 1840, the year he came to Ohio, Jacob would then have cast his ballot for General Harrison, believing Van Buren to have been extravagant, as charged. In 1850 he was married to Miss Emsey, daughter of the late venerable Thomas Smith, a native of Virginia, and who was one of the early settlers in Somerset, Ohio. But two of the seven children of this marriage are now living, the others having died while yet in tender years. The surviving son is Thomas Dunwoody, for many years a clerk in the dry goods house of Seth Johnson, Glenford, Ohio, for several years, and now the clerk of Hopewell township, and the husband of Nella Graves, daughter of B. F. Graves of Somerset, a Virginian by birth, and, like the father of her husband, a shoemaker by occupation. The surviving daughter is Miss Anna, who is mistress of the homestead since the death of her mother in 1860, since when her father has retained a widow, carrying on a prosperous business in Thornville. Jacob Dunwoody has served his township as Justice of the Peace, Treasurer, etc., and no more faithful servant in these stations ever honored them by acceptance and service. He never used strong drink except in moderation, never used tobacco, and for some years past drinks wine and cider of his own manufacture. While his weight is only one hundred and thirty pounds, his head measures twenty-three and five-eighths inches around, and his height five feet eight inches. He is a member of a church, and his views are liberal and conservative.

DUPLER, GILBERT W., formerly marshal of New Lexington, Ohio, was born August 16, 1854, in Millville, Hocking county, Ohio; son of Noah and Elizabeth (Williams) Dupler. His father's ancestors were German, his mother's English. At the age of twelve he came to this place, and began the carpenter trade at the age of fifteen, and followed it three years. Then he took the mail contract on route No. 21, 24, from this place to Chancery, and held the place four years. He was elected to his present office April 5, 1880. Marshal Dupler was married April 16, 1878, to Miss Almada M., daughter of Lyman and Elizabeth (Rambo) Richards. They are the parents of three children, viz.: Bert F. and Roy, F. (twins), born March 19, 1879, and now, December, 1881, their weights are equal; and Mort E., born August 15, 1881. Marshal Dupler is a member of Company A, Seventeenth O. N. G., having enlisted in this company in March, 1878.

DUPLER, THOMAS, merchant, Pleasant township; post office, Moxahala; born in Athens county, August 14, 1846; son of Samuel and Elizabeth (Edwards) Dupler. His father was of Irish descent, and his mother of English; both were natives of Pennsylvania, and came to the State in 1835. His father was a shoemaker, resided in this county, and died in Athens county. Thomas Dupler enlisted in 1863, in the One Hundred and Twenty-ninth O. V. I., and remained in the service until the close of the war in 1865. He was sergeant. After the close of the war, he farmed until 1872, when he went into the drug business at Moxahala. He is also proprietor of a dry goods store at Moxahala, and a wholesale liquor store at Rendville. He is postmaster at Moxahala. He is married to Sarah Biddison of Athens county. They are the parents of four children, viz.: Clarence, Harley, Fred and William.

DUSENBURY, J. W., editor, publisher and proprietor of the Independent, New Lexington, Ohio, was born June 22, 1858, in Harrison township, Perry county, Ohio; son of A. J. and Sarah (Hitchcock) Dusenbury. At the close of the late civil war Mrs. Dusenbury, with her children then at home, moved to New Lexington, where she has since resided, and where J. W. spent his boyhood days in attending school at the public school of this place, making such rapid strides in his studies that at the early age of sixteen years he graduated with the first graduating class of this place. Soon after graduating he became a teacher, and with good success taught in several parts of the county, the last year of his teaching being in the grammar school department of his own village. In 1880 he was employed by a Chicago publishing house as general agent, and for them traveled over the States of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, and Ohio, remaining with them until the fall of 1881, when he returned to New Lexington, and in partnership with Mr. A. F. Moore founded the newspaper known as the Independent, which, by diligent and faithful effort upon their part, soon became one of the leading and most prosperous journals in the county, of which its widespread circulation is convincing evidence. In 1882, A. F. Moore retiring from the newspaper business, Mr. Dusenbury became sole proprietor, which he successfully manages, in connection with his school teaching. A business so aptly managed, by one so young, certainly points to better things in the future, as well as being an evidence of prosperity at the present. Mr. Dusenbury is one of a family of four children, viz.: Josie, married and living near Beverly, Washington county, Ohio; Jennima, who resides with her husband, Mr. Columbus Fletcher, of Junction City, Ohio; and William J., who, having graduated at the head of his class in the New Lexington High School at the age of only fifteen years, is at present teaching. Mr. Dusenbury's great grandfather, John Dusenbury, came to Perry county in 1802, and settled on Bear Run, in Bearfield township. His grandfather,

Oldest Ohio Twins Are 90 Today

ELI YOUNKEN

MRS. MARGARET BLACK

(Plain Dealer Special)
ZANESVILLE, O., April 20.—More than the usual preparation for Easter Sunday festivities are being made in the home of Mrs. Margaret Black near East Fultonham, southwest of here, tomorrow.

For it is also the 90th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Black and Eli Younken of Sayre, in Perry County, who are believed to be Ohio's oldest twins. Mrs. Black's seven children and their families will be there. Younken's three sons and a daughter and their children will share the Easter-birthday cake, too.

Mrs. Black was injured in a fall five years ago and gets around in a wheel chair. Younken, on the other hand, has been sick but once in his life and chops wood every day.

"My wind isn't what it used to be, though," Younken admitted. "I'm not bragging, but I used to bind all the wheat one man could cradle, while other cradlers had two men behind them. I'm still pretty spry at it."

"I was 18 when Morgan's Raiders crossed into Ohio," Mrs. Black recalled. "Don't believe all you hear about how they terrorized everybody. They came right into our farmyard and I went right on with my work. They never bothered me."

LANNING

Researching the LANNING surname in Perry and Hocking Counties. Found my gr-gr-grandmother, Jennetta, with (presumably) her father on the 1850 census, Falls Twp., Hocking Co. Would like info about this James LANNING and a 1st wife(?) Elsa, the wife listed is only 15 years older than Jennetta, so probably not her mother. Is this James LANNING the same as listed on 1840 census, Salt Lick Twp., Perry Co.?

A daughter, Mrs. Eva Younkkin Thompson of Riverside, Iowa, and several other children survive, he being one of the famous Younkkin twins. At the time of his death being survived by twin sisters, Mrs. Margaret Younkkin Black of Fulotsham, Ohio, (who has since died) and a brother, Isaac Younkkin of Burlington, Kan. He along with Mrs. Black being the 13th and 14th of a family of 14 children, they being descendants of John and (Elizabeth Trout) Younkkin.

Oldest Twins in State Celebrate Their Birthdays
Mrs. Margaret Black, Eli Younken Celebrate near Fultonham

Nonagenarian twins, believed the oldest living set in the United States observed their birthdays Easter Sunday at the home of James & John Black in Perry Co., about 3 miles Northwest of Fultonham.

The twins, Mrs. Margaret Black, mother of James and John and her brother Eli Younken of Sayre were 90 years young Sunday and observed the day as a reunion of children, grandchildren & other relatives at the Black home.

Both were in a reminiscent mood Sunday and recalled the days of their youth & later years, especially through the Civil War period.

Mrs. Black, an invalid from a fall five years ago, is able to be about in a wheelchair, but her brother is still active despite his advanced years and claims he expects to do most of the spring planting on the Younken farm near Sayre this spring.

The sister recalled the excitement caused by the reports of the coming of the Confederate Raider General Morgan and his band, a topic which is still discussed as the biggest event in parts of Perry, Morgan, and Muskingum County, during the war period.

"Everybody near us wanted to hide," she recalled, "but I kept on with my chores around the house. After secreting the stock in the woods near our home, the neighbors came in and hid at our house, but the raiders were orderly and didn't bother us," she concluded.

The proud mother of nine children, seven of whom are living, Mrs. Black finds great enjoyment with them and her grandchildren on their frequent visits to her. Eli has four children surviving out of seven in his family.

Mr. Younken is a remarkable character for his age and he claims he is still strong enough to swing a hoe. He speaks of his younger days when "I could swing an axe with the best of them and still chop wood everyday."

"I am not a boaster," he said, "but in my younger days, I could bind all the wheat that one man could cradle while other cradlers had two men behind them and now I expect to help with spring planting."

Eli recalls the days of Lincoln's assassination as a visitor in Chapel Hill, N.C. "When reports came by stage-coach messages that Lincoln had been shot," he said, "ministers in the vicinity had church bells rung and called the people together to pray that Lincoln's life might be spared."

The claim of friends that these twins are the oldest living in the country appears to be secure as the death of Mrs. Martha Ernst at the age of 85 in St. Charles, Mo. Feb. 22, leaving a twin sister Mrs. Helena Hatchling, relatives said a recent investigation had shown an older set of twins, Joseph & Henry Escheiman, 88 living somewhere in Ohio.

The Escheiman twins are 88 but Eli & Margaret are 90.

Perry Co. Headlines - Fall 1985 :
From Columbus Dispatch - 21 Apr 1935

"Easter to be Twins' 90th Birthday - Sister recalls Morgan Raiders; Brother to help hoe"

When the Easter sun slants over the hills of Muskingum County, Ohio's oldest twins will celebrate their ninetieth birthday near East Fultonham.

Eli Younken of near Sayre, Perry County, will visit his sister, Mrs. Margaret Black at her home near East Fultonham and the couple will observe their natal day with a family dinner.

Mrs. Black is the widow of the late James Black, a farmer who died on Dec 20, 1925. She is the mother of nine children, seven of whom are living. Since a fall five years ago she has been confined to a wheel chair.

Life has not been easy for Mrs. Black and Mr. Younken, and even now a reunion involves a trip over mud roads, the former living six miles from East Fultonham and the latter three miles from Sayre.

Mrs. Black, who has a keen memory, told of the visit of Morgan and his raiders at Sayre, when they crossed Ohio during the Civil War. "Everybody near us wanted to hide, but I kept on with my chores about the house. After secreting their stock in the woods behind our home, the neighbors came and hid in our house. But the raiders, contrary to reports, were orderly and didn't bother us.

Mr. Younken says he has been ill but once in his life. He is the father of seven children, four of them living. "I had a little spell of sickness about four years ago, but it didn't amount to much," he relates. "In my younger days I could swing on an ax with the best of them and I still chop wood every day, but my wind ain't what it used to be."

"I expect to help with the spring hoeing and planting and hope that the weather soon clears so that we can get at it. I ain't a bragger, but I used to bind all the wheat that one man could cradle, while other cradlers had two men behind them."

"I was visiting some friends at Chapel Hill on April 14, 1865 when the news of President Lincoln's being shot was brought in by stage coach. All the ministers in the vicinity had the church bells rung and called the people together to pray that Lincoln might live."

Mrs. Black's children are: Jesse and John, at home; Oscar, Columbus; William, Beloit, Ohio; Calvin, Jacksontown; Ray, Denmarkville, and Mrs. Lucretia Stansberry of ~~Bellevue~~ Anattoit. Mr. Younken's four children are: Lark, Carl C. and

Harry Younken, all of Sayre, and Mrs. Evan Thompson of Riverside, Iowa.

Mrs. Black and Mr. Younken are believed to hold Ohio's "oldest twins" title by a good margin of eight years.

Next oldest twins probably are J.F. and F.E. Bicker, ages 82 of near Lima, and then would come Miss Lizzie Smith of Kenton and her sister, Mrs. Nellie Dumble of Green County, aged 80.

Close to these, and both sets 77 years old, are Joe J. and Frank Hoyer and Abraham and Isaac Leed all of the Lima vicinity.

ELI YOUNKIN

Eli Younkin died in his home near Corning, Ohio, Jan. 1st, 1937, age 81 years, 8 mos., 12 days, he being survived by sons, Harry and Burl, who lived with him. A daughter, Mrs. Eva Younkin Thompson of Riverside, Iowa, and several other children survive, he being one of the famous Younkin twins. At the time of his death being survived by twin sisters, Mrs. Margaret Younkin Black of Pulotaham, Ohio, (who has since died) and a brother, Isaac Younkin of Burlington, Kan. He along with Mrs. Black being the 13th and 14th of a family of 14 children, they being descendants of John and (Elizabeth Trout) Younkin.

of David Ralston and Agnes Sharp, the latter being the first white child born in that part of Pennsylvania, and it may be observed that her father, Andrew Sharp, was killed by the Indians while taking his family to Ft. Pitt for protection, and he is buried in Pittsburg.

For a quarter of a century Mr. McCrackin made his home in Indiana, Pa. In the autumn of 1855 he started with his family for Nebraska. Going to Pittsburg in wagons, he embarked on a steamboat with wagons, horses, etc., for St. Louis, at the latter place disembarked and proceeded north and west as far as Fairfield where, the weather becoming too cold for comfortable traveling, it was decided to stop. Every house in Fairfield was occupied, and the only way shelter could be obtained was to buy a house.

Mr. McCrackin died May 7, 1857, and Mrs. McCrackin decided to remain in Fairfield, where she lived until her death, on July 27, 1888. Both were members of the United Presbyterian Church. Unto Mr. and Mrs. McCrackin were born ten children, eight of whom grew to mature years; Jane, wife of Dr. William Anderson, of Indiana, Pa.; David Ralston, who died in Fairfield, February 6, 1890; Nancy S., wife of Capt. B. F. Crall; Mary A.; William W. and Joseph R., both living in Butte City, Mont.; Eliza M. and Alexander.

Mrs. McCrackin sent all her sons to the support of the Union, in the late war, the youngest being only thirteen and one-half years old. On the first call for troops, David, who was in St. Louis, enlisted in the First Missouri Infantry, and served with that regiment for his term of enlistment, being in the battle of Wilson's Creek; he then enlisted in the Fourth Iowa Cavalry, and was mustered out the following year. He served as Deputy Provost Marshal for a time, and then enlisted in Company I, Forty-fifth Iowa Infantry, and was made First Lieutenant; he remained in that regiment until it was disbanded. William served with David in the Fourth Iowa Cavalry, and upon being discharged from that regiment he enlisted in a Pennsylvania regiment and after the expiration of that enlistment he served in the Navy as Master's mate on the Mississippi River, until the end of the Rebellion; Joseph, though only a boy, served in the Eighth Iowa Cavalry; Alexander enlisted in the Navy and served on the Mississippi River with Capt. William R. Wells for a year; he then entered the Naval Academy, and is now in the Navy.

SANFORD M. BOLING, agent for the United States Express Company at Fairfield, Jefferson County, was born in Muskingum County, Ohio, December 30, 1834, and is a son of William and Julia (Grimsley) Boling, both of whom were natives of Virginia. The parents of our subject were married in their native State and in an early day emigrated to Muskingum County, Ohio. After reaching man's estate Mr. Boling learned the plasterer's trade which he followed in pursuit of fortune throughout life. In his political affiliations he was a Democrat.

Our subject is the only one out of five children living in Iowa. The family once numbered eleven children, of whom he was the third in order of birth, but six have been called from this life. He received his education in the old subscription schools common at that early day and at the age of ten years began working at the plasterer's trade with his father. His life was unmarked by any event of special importance until in August 1862, when he enlisted in Company F, of the One Hundred and Twenty-second Ohio Volunteers. He was immediately commissioned Second Lieutenant and with his command joined the army of the Potomac. Passing through Virginia, as far as Winchester, they commenced to fortify that place and while thus engaged Mr. Boling contracted typhoid fever, resulting in almost total blindness, from which he has only partially recovered. He went home to be treated and while away, his regiment participated in the great battle of Gettysburg. Having rejoined his command in Martinsburg, Va., he started on the Mine Run campaign, but after marching a time through the mud and enduring untold hardships, the project was abandoned. Mr. Boling was Acting Adjutant and on the call for an officer and four men to go to Columbus, Ohio on detail service, he was selected. From that time until his discharge on December 30, 1864, he remained in the capital city of Ohio. His duties there were very arduous, it being a part of his labors to pilot recruit soldiers from Columbus to southern posts.

In January, 1865, Mr. Boling first set foot on Fairfield soil. In the years which have come and gone since that time he has had no occasion to regret his choice of a location, for he has formed many ties of friendship which bind him to the place with cords of love which he would not sever. During the first five years after his arrival he was in the employ of the American Express Company, but his health so failed him that he was compelled to change his occupation and for a time he worked at the plasterer's trade. This was followed by one year spent as a contractor and in January, 1874, he entered upon the duties of the office of Auditor of Jefferson County, in which capacity he served the people acceptably for six years. His worth and ability having been tested and found to be in merit even above what his friends had anticipated, in 1879, he was honored with an election to the State Senate and served in that body during the sessions of 1880 and 1882. In the first Assembly, he was Chairman of the Committee on Penitentiaries, which originated a bill creating the office of warden in the penitentiary at Anamosa. He was the active spirit in securing an amendment to equalize the good time earned by convicts. Up to this time counties could vote on public improvements only at general elections, and as a result when one party championed any public enterprise, the other felt bound to oppose. It thus became difficult for a county even to erect a court house, and it was through the instrumentality of Mr. Boling that an amendment was passed permitting such questions to be voted upon either at general or special elections. During the session of 1882, he was Chairman of the committee on Public Buildings and secured the passage of a bill appropriating a half million to complete the State Capitol. Former appropriations had been so small that they were largely consumed in paying the salaries of those selected to look after their expenditure and in the passage of this bill Mr. Boling performed an important work. In 1883, after retiring to private life, he became agent for the United States Express Company at Fairfield, in which capacity he has since served, covering a period of seven consecutive years.

Mr. Boling has also been called upon by his townsmen of Fairfield to represent them in the Council and has served in the honored position of Mayor of the city. He accepted the latter office in order to assist in securing for the city, control of the water works, which up to that time had belonged to a corporation. In all his public life he has been faithful to every trust reposed in him and has won the confidence and regard of even his political enemies. He cast his first vote for Buchanan in 1856, but since that time has been a supporter of the Republican party. Socially, he belongs to the Masonic and Odd-Fellows fraternities and to the Grand Army Post of Fairfield, of which he is a charter member.

Mr. Boling chose as a life companion Miss Hester A. Younkin, their marriage being celebrated on the 17th of January, 1865. Mrs. Boling is a native of Muskingum County, Ohio, and with her daughter, Bessie, their only child, carries on a millinery store in Fairfield. Mr. Boling is one of Fairfield's most highly esteemed citizens and it is with pleasure that we record his sketch in the history of his adopted county.

ELMER A. HOWARD, Vice-President of the Iowa State Savings Bank of Fairfield, is a native of the city which still continues to be his home. He was born on the 18th of July, 1858, his parents being Levi and Elizabeth (Cook) Howard, who are numbered among the early settlers of Jefferson County, and still reside in Fairfield. His father was a native of Indiana and his mother was born in Ohio, and on another page of this volume a sketch of this worthy couple appears.

The early educational advantages of our subject, acquired in the public schools, were supplemented by a course in the Axline University, of Fairfield,

He also had an office there from which he conducted a large amount of work. His services were always in great demand. About two months ago his brother died of this city joined him and worked with him. A few days before his death he was stricken with pneumonia and died Sunday evening Nov. 14. The body was brought to this city Thursday evening and the funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at the home of his mother on East Grand way at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Alex. Dear Donna

Enclosed is the material I got from Margaret Younkin Thompson earlier this year. I had hoped to do more with it, but have not had the time. You may or may not have most of it already by now.

Also, two photos enclosed which you may keep. I got them from Michael P. Connelly (descendant of Joseph and Margaret Younkin Pringey. He sent me the slides and we had negatives made and then prints. Enclosed is some material he sent. I suggested that he contact you. He did not know Margaret's maiden name until I sent him the information. He originally contacted me because he thought his Connellys might be related in some way to my Bernard Connelly. Since he has the Pringy line and you have that line as well thought you might have additional info on Pringy/Rhodes which would help him as well.

I have not yet received the films I ordered. I know that they are running behind in filling their 1920 Census orders and may be waiting to send my entire order at one time. I am really looking forward to its arrival that way I will have a good excuse not to do housework and yardwork for awhile. We are about to have a window installed in our frontroom where there is no window now, so there will be plenty of mess to clean up when it is all done.

Enclosed is my renewal for 1993 and the SCGS gift subscription renewal.

Sincerely

OTTUMWA, IOWA, July 31, 1937

In the hopes that the following may prove of interest to the members of the Younkin Family Association and readers of the first issue of the bulletin—the following is offered.

Father has often told me that our family emigrated from Germany—some going to Ohio—some to Pennsylvania and others to Virginia—and that the name was spelled Jeunkin or some such wording. Too bad he is not now living—what a "kick" he would get out of all this—as well as his Sisters—if they were living today. All his family was born at Fultonham, Ohio—close to Zanesville. They left for Iowa about 1856—Grandfather Younkin, Father and his brother Robert, and sisters, Hester Anne, Mary Elizabeth, and Caroline. Those left behind were the Mother, who died in 1846—also another Sister—both are buried at Zanesville.

They probably came down the Ohio River to Carlo, Illinois, where the Mississippi meets it, then came up the latter to Keokuk, Iowa, for I have pictures taken of Grandfather Younkin in this town.

Initials Charles Henry

Grandfather Younkin died in 1878 (name Henry) and is buried at Chariton, Iowa. My father died in 1923 and is buried here, his 3 sisters spoken of, Caroline, passed in about 1890; Mary Elizabeth in 1922 and Hester Anne in 1927—they are all buried at Chariton, Iowa, and brother Robert died about 1892—buried at Chariton also.

It might prove interesting reading to other members how we Younkins of Iowa came to know of "The Younkin Family Association", for had not heard of it previous to 1935.

In the local Daily in April, 1935 appeared 2 cuts of Twins, (brother and sister), named Eli and Margaret Younkin Black—aged 80, at that time—living in Zanesville, Ohio—or close by. A letter was written and found out that their father and the writer's grandfather were brothers—a pleasant correspondence has been carried on since—the Eli Younkin passed on in January, 1937.

I have the picture of Margaret Younkin Black, taken by my brother, Marcus W. Younkin, and his wife, when they visited Mrs. Black in September, 1936—she must be a wonderfully fine lady—from this picture—which has Whistler's "MOTHER" beat all hollow.

The only ones left of this branch of the Iowa Younkins—are my brother, Mr. M. W. and daughter Margaret of Paris, Tenn., my nephew, Mr. Charles N. and his sister, Martha Eloise and the writer—too bad—it was a large family back in Ohio—my twin brother (father of Charles and Martha), Frank B., died in 1923. He was captain of the local "G" Company of the 168th regiment infantry, 42 division (Rainbows) during the World War.

GRAND OLD LADY DIES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Margaret Younkin Black, the last surviving member of the famous Younkin Twins, died suddenly in her home near Fultonham, Ohio, Sunday, Aug. 25th, 1937. She was stricken in her chair on Saturday, Aug. 23rd and died early Sunday following. Mrs. Black had been enjoying good health up until her sudden calling, she being a visitor at the Reunion at Kingwood, Pa., on Sunday, August 22, 1937. Had she lived until April 21, 1938, she would have been 93 years of age, her twin brother having died Jan. 1, 1937. Mrs. Black comes from a family of long-lived Younkings. One brother still is living, Isaac Younkin, of Burlington, Kan. who will be 98 years of age on April 21st, 1938. Mrs. Black is survived by the following sons: John and Jesse Black, who lived with their mother at Fultonham, Calvin Black of Delta, Ohio, Wm. Black of Beloit, Ohio, Oscar Black, Columbus, Ohio, Ray Black, Pennsville, Ohio, and one daughter, Mrs. Black being a granddaughter of Rudolph (Ralph) Younkin, one of the pioneer Younkings who migrated from Bucks County, Pa., to Somerset County, eventually settling in Ohio. The passing of Mrs. Black leaves but one survivor of a family of 14 children, at least five of this large family lived to be over 90 years of age. Elizabeth lived to be 90 years, 8 mos., and 20 days. Eph Younkin lived to be 90 years, 10 mos., 20 days; Eli Younkin, 91 years 8 mos., 10 days; Margaret Black, 92 years, 4 mos., 8 days and Isaac Younkin, still living.

In the hopes that the following may prove of interest to the members of the Younkin Family Association and readers of the first issue of the bulletin—the following is offered.

Father has often told me that our family emigrated from Germany—some going to Ohio—some to Pennsylvania and others to Virginia—and that the name was spelled Jounkin or some such wording. Too bad he is not now living—what a "kick" he would get out of all this—as well as his Sisters—if they were living today.

All his family was born at Fultonham, Ohio—close to Zanesville. They left for Iowa about 1836—Grandfather Younkin, Father and his brother Robert, and sisters, Hester Anne, Mary Elizabeth, and Caroline. Those left behind were the Mother, who died in 1846—also another Sister—both are buried at Zanesville.

They probably came down the Ohio River to Carlo, Illinois, where the Mississippi meets it, then came up the latter to Keokuk, Iowa, for I have pictures taken of Grandfather Younkin in this town.

CITY PAUSES OUT OF HONOR FOR YOUNKIN

HUNDREDS GIVE THEIR TRIBUTES

The city of Ottumwa paused for an hour this afternoon to pay tribute to one of its best known and beloved men--Frank B. Younkin, who lead the local infantry company through the world war. Flags were at half mast all over the city, and by the mayor's proclamation, business houses, professional and industrial activities through the municipality's length and breadth ceased out of respect to the war hero and peace time community worker, who died Saturday afternoon.

Funeral servies for Captain Younkin were held at the First Methodist church. Dr. Lennard A. Swisher read the service and talked on the life of Mr. Younkin. The text was from the New Testament, the Second Epistle of Paul the Apostle to Timothy, fourth chapter and the seventh verse, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

A quartet sang, "It Is Well With My Soul", "When Life's Work is Ended", and "Nearer, Still Nearer". The church was filled with hundreds of friends, comrades in arms and business associates of Mr. Younkin. A profusion of floral offerings from organizations and individuals hanked the chancel and choir loft, testimony of the great esteem in which the Captain was held. The Masons, with their ritualistic equipment and scores of former service persons in uniform, were seen throughout the room. Mrs. Donald Neasham was at the organ.

From 9 o'clock this morning until 1 o'clock this afternoon the body was lying in state in the O. B. Nelson post American Legion home on North Green street where members of Captain Younkin's former command and hundreds of other citizens came to look upon the face of their leader and friend for the last time. A guard of honor stood at attention near the head and one near the foot of the bier. Many gifts of flowers, wreaths and floral designs were there.

The body was taken to the Ottumwa cemetery on a caisson and the American flag which was brought from France on the casket of O. B. Nelson was draped over the Younkin casket. The 113 Cavalry and their band acted as escorts. Members of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Grand Army of The Republic, Spanish War Veterans and all other patriotic organizations attended. The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce and members of the Rotary club, the Knights of Pythias and the Masonic lodges showed their respect by attending the services. The Masons had charge of the burial rites.

The pallbearers were William M. Osler, past commander of O. B.

Nelson post and a sergeant in Company G; William H. Scott, former sergeant of Company G; Harry Blizzard, former first sergeant of Company G; H. G. Barnard, former lieutenant of 13th (error in paper?) railway engineer; W. C. Wyman, captain 1st engineers and commander of O. B. Nelson post, and Capt. L. A. Hammer, commander of Walter B. Schaefer post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

GENERAL TINLEY HERE

The honorary pallbearers were Col. Glenn C. Haynes, auditor of state; Adj. Gen. Louis Lasher of Des Moines, Col. Claude M. Stanley of Corning, former Lieut. Maurice Da Boer of Lawrence, Long Island, N.Y., C. G. Merrill, president of the Rotary club; E. H. Emery, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Gen. Matt A. Tinley of Council Bluffs and Col. C. J. Wilson of Washington.

During the hour from 2 to 3 o'clock activities in the city of Ottumwa ceased. Retail stores, the Chamber of Commerce offices, the city hall and the courthouse were closed.

Many persons were here from out of town, including former members of Captain Younkin's command and friends of the family.

COMRADES IN ARMS HONOR YOUNKIN'S MEMORY

The death of Frank B. Younkin, captain of Company G, 168th Infantry, Forty-second (Rainbow) Division, has brought to the minds of his comrades, his friends and his co-workers, the many lovable traits of his character. The city of Ottumwa suspended business and activities during the funeral and burial rites Tuesday afternoon. Hundreds of persons gathered in the church and along the line of the funeral march. Flags were lowered to half mast and heads were bared. School children expressed homage to a hero.

The minds of the men of Company G, and the minds of men in other regiments and divisions go back to the fields of France and Belgium. The field of battle has been altered. No more is seen the gleam of bayonets. The ghastly light of a star shell hovering over. No man's land has passed away and the earth rises no more to spew forth the assailants of her liberty. On November 11, 1918, a cry of gladness and relief was emitted from out of the ashes, from the broken stones and crumbled walls and cemeteries violated by impulses of frightfulness.

The battlefield has resumed its reality to the soldiers of Company G. The passing of their chieftain brings to mind the days in Lorraine, in the Champaign sector, at Chateau Thierry at St. Mihiel and in the forest of the Argonne. It brings to mind the stirring days when all Europe was enveloped in a girdle of flame. The roar of a murderous barrage, the whine of bullets, the crash of bombs and the dreaded poison gas are recalled and instead of with the phantoms of the past, the soldier stands again with his comrades awaiting the advance.

The memories of the days together for a great cause are dear to every veteran. Vision conjures the scenes of combat. One can hear the barking and spitting of the French 75s, the boom of the heavy artillery, and the mirrors of memory reflect the days in the Argonne. The veteran sees the quivering of limbs, and hears the crashing of trees; he sees barbed wire swept away, and dugouts buried; the rain and the mud, the blackness of night while marching, the flares on the horizon, and the rattle of accoutrements, all assume reality. All this no longer exists, but in the minds of men forces still combat.

Involuntarily, while thinking of the struggles of men, one pictures the sublime but futile defense made by the Spartans and Thespians under Leonidas against the forces of Xerxes, the Persian, at Thermopylae. History records that only one man of that gallant force under Leonidas returned and that he was the object of jeers because it was asserted he did not have the courage to die in battle. One can see the remnant of Napoleon's Old Guard making its last desperate stand at Waterloo and the mind pictures the scene at Gettysburg when the union forces poured grape and canister into the bleeding legions of General Lee. The traditions and the history of the nations of the redolent with battle cries.

The citizens of Ottumwa and citizens in other cities and parts of Iowa through eyes dimmed with tears praise God for men like Captain Younkin and thank Him for the fight that he made for America. Truly none are too great to pay this captain homage. The pride in Captain Younkin is sacred. Christians believe that over all reigns the Most High God and Divine Father, that the time will come when struggle and sorrow shall be no more; when the principles of the Prince of Peace shall be the principles of mankind, and when the lusts of the War Lord shall not be satisfied in a sea of blood.

Lieutenant Maurice De Boer of Lawrence, Long Island, N.Y., a former officer in Company G, in speaking of Captain Younkin said, "I never knew him to speak an angry word to any man, and I never knew him to display temper. Captain Younkin's discipline was not harsh."

Quincy Sharpe Mills, a lieutenant in Company G, who was killed in France, in letters to his mother told of Captain Younkin's popularity, cheerfulness and his courage. Lieut. Mills' letters have been placed in type and bound into a book. In this book a copy of which is treasured by Mrs. Younkin and her family, Lieut. Mills tells of the splendid morale of the company. Interesting [in] military communications are contained in it. The following is one:

"U S Army Field Message from P. C. at P. A. Malgrejean, April 3, 1918. Hour 9: 50 a.m. To Lieutenant Mills: The fourth platoon under your command will relieve Lieutenant Pearsall, G. C. 12 today; relief commencing at 3 p.m. and being completed by 4 p.m. in small groups of not over six men. See that all men have 220 rounds of ammunition. You will not take over ---men with you. See that Sergeant Osler is advised so he can rearrange chow details.

Younkin"

In another letter Lieutenant Mills wrote:

"Lieutenant Younkin has had charge of the company practically all of the time it has been up front and he has acquitted himself creditably."

COMRADES HONOR HIM

"In Captain Younkin, we have lost a true friend and an able commander, a combination of the two characteristics that could spell but one thing to those who shared the same lot with him in military service--true admiration," Harry Blizzard, chief of police in Ottumwa, and former first sergeant of Company G said in speaking of the leader of infantry.

W. C. Wyman, Captain First Engineers and commander of O. B. Nelson Post, American Legion speaks of Frank B. Younkin as follows:

"The loss of Captain Frank B. Younkin is a severe blow to O. B. Nelson post that it can ill afford to have at this time. His foresight and his plans for the welfare of the organization have been among its greatest mainstays. I knew Captain Younkin for many years but was brought in close touch with him through one common cause, namely that of serving our country and our buddies. In the past it was my privilege to go to him on many occasions with problems that confronted us. He was always willing to help solve these problems.

"The community will feel his loss because his prospects were unlimited and I believe in time he would have faithfully and justly served us in some public capacity. We need such men as Captain Younkin. He was among those who possess that rare quality which makes a true friend. The greatest tribute that can be paid to a man, in my estimation, is to be loved, respected and honored by the men whom he commanded during the days of the war. He was a true Christian gentleman. What O. B. Nelson post is today, is largely due to the work of Frank B. Younkin. The members of the post will cherish his memory as long as they live."

Captain L. A. Hammer, commander of Walter B. Schaefer post, Veterans of Foreign Wars says:

"Comrades, another among our ranks has departed. He will answer roll call among us no longer. Our beloved captain and buddy has gone west. Comrade Younkin, born May 9, 1884, in Chariton came to Ottumwa when a youth. He grew up in his business with his father. It was my privilege from the time of his arrival in Ottumwa until his death to know him intimately. He was always modest, taking things as matters of course. He put his whole heart and soul into the activities and work he entered. At all times he had the desire to be of service to his friends and comrades. It was my privilege to serve with him in Company G, Iowa National Guard, in 1906 and 1907. Frank was always there when the roll was called, and he was popular with his company.

A TRUE SOLDIER

"In 1916 when the company was called to the border, Frank B. Younkin went as an officer by the side of that other illustrious soldier whose memory we revere also, Lieutenant Oscar B. Nelson. In 1917, he left his loved ones and his work to follow the flag. He counted the cost, but he went with the courage and spirit of self-sacrifice which were characteristic of him. I did not meet him on the other side but I was near him on several occasions on the line. I am told by his men, and by his superior officers that Captain Younkin always made sure that he understood his orders and he never stopped until he gained his objective.

"No former service man in need was ever turned away by Captain Younkin. He was at all times loyal and he had a good word for all. We cherish the memory of Frank B. Younkin, a leader, a true friend, a tried and true soldier, and a real American. Taps have been blown and he has been laid away at rest to await the day of the grand review. "

LIVED AS HE FOUGHT

Lieutenant O. B. Poundstone, vice commander of O. B. Nelson post is impressed with those words of Captain Younkin, "Live as you fought," and continues:

"Perhaps no words of Captain Frank B. Younkin will be longer remembered than the above. Many of his former comrades recalled this expression as they passed in review before the body of their former commander(unreadable text of about three words) state in the Legion home Tuesday.

"The words were spoken to the men of his company on the occasion of their demobilization. Realizing the uncertainties in the minds of many at the change from military to civil life, Capt. Younkin measured his advice to fit the occasion.

"The words were a tribute and an admonition. A tribute to the sterling qualities of the soldiers he commanded. An admonition that their civilian lives contain the same spirit that had won their military victories.

"Better than the above precept however, was the example Capt. Younkin set by his own life. He lived as he fought--honorably and well. He was a good soldier and a worthy citizen. Always thoughtful of the welfare of others, his place of business was the haven of refuge where comrades in distress found, ready sympathy and material aid.

"It has been said that a white discharge and a tale of woe never found him too busy to listen and help. (?) No one knows the extent to which he gave himself in that respect for he was reticent.

"Much of the progress of O. B. Nelson post of the American Legion can be traced to his counsel and guidance. When we sought his advice in post affairs we found him tolerant and conservative.

"He lived as he fought."

PILLAR OF LEGION

Dudley R. Cooper, Air Service, U.S.A., Adjutant O. B. Nelson post said,

"To Captain Frank B. Younkin, O. B. Nelson post owes much of its success and sound growth. It was during his term as commander, the present home was acquired and furnished for occupancy. The principles and policies of the post were largely his ideas. Taking command of the organization when the efforts of unAmerican elements were directed to the breaking up of the legion, called for remarkable ability. Controlling a body of men who were young and unused to governing themselves, and who had but lately emerged from under stern discipline was a herculean task. Such men, quick to perceive the qualities of leadership, quicker to discover defects in character, acclaimed him their leader. Never in my army experience have I known a man to be more respected by those of his command, nor a man more deserving of this respect. His own interests were secondary when a former service man was in need or distress. Always considerate of the opinions of others, yet never hesitant to express or to listen to opinions of others if founded upon high moral principles, even at the risk of unpopularity. The sound logic of his convictions coupled with his sincerity of purpose never failed to disseminate divergence of opinions. These are the qualities that bespeak of greatness. The community has suffered a loss which it can ill afford."

Major H. S. Merrick: "My first intimate acquaintance with Captain Frank B. Younkin began twenty years ago this next summer when we were both 'rookies' in Co. G. Captain Younkin enlisted a few months before I did, but we attended our first camp together in September 1903, at Muscatine. From that time we were continually together in national guard service until 1915, when I was transferred to another branch of the service. Promotion through the various grades as non-commissioned and commissioned officers practically together made very close ties between. During service on the border in 1916, we were stationed but a few miles apart and frequently visited back and forth. Lieutenant Oscar B. Nelson was invariable with us on these visits. This acquaintance in the guard naturally led to an intimacy in other circles and I always considered Captain Younkin one of my very best friends. In all my years of intimate acquaintances with Captain Younkin, I never knew him to lose his head or forget he was a gentleman. As a soldier and a business man, he was always faithful and reliable, always calm, thoughtful and entirely unselfish.

HONEST AND FAIR

"As a man and a citizen, he was absolutely honest and fair. Our community has suffered a loss that cannot be measured. A comparatively young man developing into one of its leaders, with a wide acquaintance, delightful personality and sound, sane ideas, high ideals of incalculable value to our community, had he been spared to us. Perhaps the most outstanding characteristics to those who knew him best, was his remarkable humitlity. Never self seeking but was always willing to step aside in favor of someone else and was always willing to step aside in favor of someone else and had a genuine disinclination to put himself forward. It may not be generally known he could have had the captaincy of Co. G in 1917 but did not consider his own interests and gave his hearty suppor to Major Stellar.

He has left a wonderful heritage to his children and an untarnished record of which they may well be proud."

Harry Price, Ed Doller, Harry Erickson, Gus Hallberg, George H. Ihms, Glen Sensoney, Frank Gallagher, Leo J. McMillan, and other members of Company G units in paying loving tributes to Captain Younkin's memory. His words and his generous character will always be remembered."

GENUINE LEADER

William M. Osler, past commander of the American Legion and a sergeant in Company G says:

"It was my privilege to serve under Frank B. Younkin during the world war, and like all the others of Company G, I feel in his loss the loss of a pal and a brother. We considered him our leader, in civilian life just as much as in the army. His place among us can never be taken by another." This sincere and reverent affection and regard is also expressed by William H. Scott, former sergeant in Company G and later a lieutenant. Lt. Scott feels the loss keenly. He worked with Frank B. Younkin after the war and he recalls the courage, generosity, kindness and lovable qualities of the captain and the true American.

Colonel Claude M. Stanley of Corning, formerly commander of the second battalion of the 168th Infantry, after the burial of Captain Younkin said: "As major of the second battalion, I perhaps knew Frank B. Younkin better than any of his superior officers, and I found him to be an excellent soldier and a perfect gentleman."

Colonel Glenn S. Haynes, auditor of statee and former officer in the 168th spoke as follows of Captain Younkin: "Had it not been for Captain Younkin leading Company G, assisted by Company E, during the fighting in the Argonne forest, the whole regiment might have been wiped out, and a different story of the Argonne offensive might have been printed."

The words of Captain Younkin's superior officers and the words of his non-commissioned officers and men need no elaboration or comment. They will live.

Captain Daniel F. Stek, past state commander of the American Legion, chairman of the American Legion national legislative committee and member of the executive committees of O. B. Nelson post, speaks of Captain Frank B. Younkin as follows:

"My real acquaintance with FRank B. Younkin began at Camp Upton. We returned from France on the same date on different ships. When I learned the 168th Infantry was in the camp, I started out to find Captain Younkin. I met him while he was on his way to visit me. We had a long visit and the day was spend together in New York City.

"Returning home we both became interested in the newly organized American Legion and as officers of the local post, we worked together until his death. He was unquestionably the outstanding Ottumwa veteran, respected and admired for hs abilities as a leader, and for his personal interest in former service men. His loss will be keenly felt. His memory will be revered and his influence for good will be felt so long as the American Legion shall survive."

ALL LOVED HIM

Former Lieutenant Rex I. Gary, scout executive, speaks of Captain Younkin's influence on boys:

"Captain Younkin will be greatly missed by the scouts of Ottumwa. He gave of his time and of his money. His unassuming manner coupled with the boys' knowledge of his overseas record made it possible for him to exert a tremendous influence upon the Ottumwa scouts when he talked to them. He was particularly eager for the success of the Legion's own troop and the loss will be especially felt in this group. His life will be their example in the years that are to come."

William H. Scott, Jr., a sergeant in G company, says:

"Frank B. Younkin captain of Company G, 168th regiment, forty-second division, more commonly known as the Rainbow, had all the qualities necessary to make a good officer and soldier.

"While under fire he was courteous but not reckless; calm of manner, he was able to direct his men with the greatest efficiency and inspired them with a courage and morale that could not be shaken.

"He possessed a high sense of duty that won the highest regard and respect from his men and he also possessed a willingness to share his all with his comrades at all times.

"His cheering manner under all conditions endeared him to his men and by his soldierly bearing, courage and square dealing, held their love.

"No greater expression of this love is needed when it is known that over sixty of his comrades who were with him in France answered his last roll call and silently made the last hike behind their captain. Among his comrades marched Gen. Matt Tinley of Council Bluffs, formerly colonel of the 168th regiment; Col. Claude M. Stanley of Corning, formerly major of the second battalion of which Company G was a part; Col. Glenn C. Haynes, auditor of state, a captain in the same battalion and Lt. Maurice DeBoer of Lawrence, Long Island, N. Y., a lieutenant of Company G throughout the war."

DR. SWISHER'S TRIBUTE

Dr. L. A. Swisher's tribute in Frank Younkin's funeral sermon follows:

"I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness which the Lord the righteous Judge, shall give me ..?.. that day and not to me only, but also to all them that have loved His appearing." II Timothy, 4-7.

"Frank B. Younkin was born May 9, 1884, at Chariton, IA. He came to Ottumwa with his parents and other members of his family in 1899, and he lived here continuously with the exception of the time when he was serving with the United States army on the Mexican border and in the world war.

"Captain Younkin was united in marriage with Miss Ella Cain on May 22, 1908. He is survived by the widow, by two children, Charles and Martha, and by three brothers, Marcus of McKenzie, Tenn., Lloyd and Claude H. of Ottumwa.

"Frank B. Younkin enlisted in the Iowa national guard in 1903. By ability and faithful attention to duty he rose from the rank of private to that of first lieutenant previous to the entrance of our republic into the world war. He served with the 3rd Iowa Infantry on the Mexican border in 1916. After the entrance of the United States into the world war Company G. of which Lieutenant Younkin was a member went into the camp at Camp Andrew on the outskirts of Ottumwa and there the company remained for about six weeks.

"The company then went to Des Moines, where it remained for approximately a month. The regiment was then ordered to Camp Mills, Long Island, the stay in this camp being of five weeks' duration. On October 18, the company started overseas on the transport President Grant, but when about four (? not clear print) days out, turned back on ?(account of? unclear print) defective boilers. However, the company left on the ? (name of ship is not readable) on November 23 and after a two weeks voyage, disembarked at Liverpool. The company immediately went into camp at the Mourn Hill camp at Winchester and moved to Southampton and then on across the channel to La Havre, France.

YOUNKIN WOUNDED

"The company then proceeded to the vicinity of Langre, remaining there for six weeks. In the latter part of February, the company was ordered to the Luneville sector. On March 7, Captain Stellar was wounded and Lieutenant Younkin was placed in command of the company, and he remained in charge for the remainder of the war with the exception of the time when he was in the hospital. He went through the hundred and ten days of trench warfare in the Luneville sector, then through the Champaign defensive and then through the Chateau Thierry fighting. He was wounded at the Croix Rouge farm in the vicinity of Chateau Thierry on July 26, and he was taken to a hospital where he remained for six weeks.

"He returned to his company just before entering the St. Mihiel offensive. It was during his absence in the hospital that his commission as captain arrived at regimental headquarters. He took part in the St. Mihiel campaign and in the fighting in the Argonne. The company then went to Sedan and was marching to join the troops which were assembling for the attack on Metz when the armistice was signed. He then went with the army of occupation into Germany and was stationed at Burghbrohl, near Koblenz. He returned from France to the United States on the Leviathan, sailing from Brest on April 18, 1919, and arriving at New York on the 5th. He and his company were welcomed home to Ottumwa with a never to be forgotten demonstration of pride and affection on May 15, and he was honorably discharged at Camp Dodge May 17, 1919. He thus had the sublime honor of serving as captain of Company G, 168th Infantry, 142 Rainbow Division, American Expeditionary forces.

"Captain Younkin was a true soldier. The Christian life is ever in need of militant virtues, for the Christian career is one of struggle and conflict. There is no neutrality in this war. Heaven could not exist half under the domination of the spirit of good and the other half under the spirit of evil; half under the personality of good and the other half under the personality of evil. Heaven cannot exist half good and half bad. At the time of the civil war, right thinking minds declared 'this nation cannot exist half slave and half free, for a house divided against itself cannot stand.' At the time of the world war, right thinking individuals declared 'the world cannot continue half autocratic and half demoncratic. It must be one or the other.'

FOUGHT GOOD FIGHT

"This funeral service is being held on Tuesday of Holy week, and multitudes of Christians today are reading and meditating on the events of this day in the last week of our Lord's life called the 'Day of Controversay', for on this day His enemies sought to trip Him in His speech that they might lay hold of Him and kill HIM. Perhaps never at any time did our Lord pour forth such a torrent of truth, exposing the shame and cowardice and inquiry of His enemies; perhaps never before had our Lord been so drained of His strength in resisting His enemies. Yea, an almost constant feature of our Lord's earthly ministry is the presence of those who halted and opposed Him. So for all who possess real character life is a conflict. For the servant is not above his master, nor the disciple above his Lord. St. Paul found life a fight, for he says 'I have fought the good fight'.

"It is fitting that we apply these words to the life of Captain Frank B. Younkin. He made a choice and the right choice as to his attitude toward the (An entire column line is obliterated here.)... citizens were compelled to make a choice. America tried to be neutral, but it was a hopeless task. Captain Younkin chose to oppose the principles of autocracy and to fight the men who with cunning and cruelty, with bestiality and lust, sought the enslavement of France and all the nations allied with her. In this war, civilization, free government, the welfare of the individual and of humanity at large, and the advance of the kingdom of God, were involved. Those who sincerely fought in the allied armies were fighting the battles of the kingdom of God. They were fighting under the blood- stained-banner of King Emmanuel.

"Because of its inestimable value, the finest characters of the human family are willing to undergo conflict and martyrdom in the defense of human freedom. Every individual is entitled to the blessing of freedom by creation, and by redemption. No individual is good enough to hold another in slavery. The right to a free choice is written by the finger of the Divine into the very constitution of our being. This truth is declared in the Holy Scriptures. Inspired souls have sung its glory and heroic souls have died in its defense. Thus we see that God has made man free. In this respect, truly man was created in the image of God. The freedom of the human soul is a divinely imparted gift. No wonder man loves liberty. No wonder the oppressed peoples of the earth yearn for liberty and turn wistfully toward America, the land of liberty.

'TIS LONG FIGHT

"It is a long struggle--this struggle for human freedom. I see the barons at Runnymede wrest the Magna Charta from unwilling royalty, and I see King John in his rage, 'chewing straw like an ox'. I see King Charles beheaded. I see King James II fleeing for his life. I see the horrors of the French revolution. I see the battles of Bunker Hill and Saratoga and the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. I see Antietam and Gettysburg and the surrender of Lee at Appomattox Courthouse. I see the heroic Belgians die before the German hords at Liege. I hear the roar of a half million shells at Verdun. I hear the explosion that tore the top from Vimy Ridge. And then I see the advent of a new army--first in the streets of Liverpool, then in Southampton, then on the fields of France and then on the battlefield of France and then on the battlefield. Khaki clad, their muscles like iron, in their lungs the free breath of the plains and the mountains of America and in their hearts the undying name of liberty.

"I see the picked forces of Germany hurled against the American troops and I see the Hun attack break like foam against a wall of stone. It was our own men, our own lads, who turned tide of war and started the rush toward complete and final victory. In the van of the victorious army was Company G and at their head Captain Frank B. Younkin.

"The personal side of Captain Younkin's service is best known by those who served with him. His men (an unreadable column line) loved him. He was extremely popular with his men. The men under him had looked too often upon that face of quiet confidence; they had experienced too often his unostentatious but real kindness and helpfulness; they had been with him too often in the presence of mortal danger not to feel a loss too deep for words. He secured wonderful results from his men, not by the harsh rigor of needlessly oppressive discipline, but because of the confidence and love of his soldiers. Moreover, he was just as popular with his superior officers as with the men under his command.

"Nor are we able to measure the loss sustained by our community in his death. A real brother in the organizations to which he belonged, a patriotic citizen, always interested in the welfare of our city, a personality of tremendous influence upon the young life because of his heroic self sacrifice during the war--he has left a name and a fame that will bless our community in all the years that lie before us.

HE KEPT FAITH

"'I have kept the faith'. These words represent the spiritual triumph of Captain Younkin. He was baptised in the Christian faith and was member of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Ottumwa. Frank was not a man to boast about his religion. He was not a man to boast about anything, but his religion was a reality. He had been carefully reared in a Christian home. It seems as though the spirits of the devoted parents are with us in this service today. The Christian nurture of the home bore fruit in the character of Frank B. Younkin. His faith sustained him amidst the danger of the war. Speaking of an hour of supreme danger in the Chateau Thierry fighting he said, 'All we could do was to trust in God.' The last hours of his life were such as his comrades might have expected. Often he had looked death in the face and when at last the hour came, he was ready. It was my privilege to converse with him only a few minutes before his death and the confession of his faith--so prompt, confident, decisive--is a source of great comfort to family and friends. In the hour of death the light did not fail him. The White Comrade had been with him on fields of danger. Never in the Lunsville trenches nor in the rain of death at the [Croix Rouge] farm (the newspaper text here read "Red Cross farm".) nor in the dark ravines of St. Mihiel, nor in the forest of the Argonne did the light fail and when the last hour came calmly he crossed the dark river to the plains of light where all good warriors for the truth look upon the face of Him who is the great Captain of their salvation.

"The son and daughter will walk among us in the years to come with a heritage of glory and inspiration because of the love and example of their heroic father. The brothers have a joy in his memory too deep and sacred for words. The beloved wife met the trial of her sorrow in the hour of death and since with a calm fortitude and triumphant faith worthy the courage of her heroic husband. (The next two lines are obliterated.)...its resting place, not forever, but only until the resurrection morn. Amidst the honors and gratitude and love of family and friends, in the midst of the republic for which he offered his life, his body will rest and we will thank God for his radiant character and pray that his spirit of faithfulness and sacrifice may fall upon us all."

CITY PAUSES OUT OF HONOR FOR YOUNKIN

Flags at Half Mast While Was Hero's Funeral is Being Held
HUNDREDS GIVE THEIR TRIBUTES

The city of Ottumwa paused for an hour this afternoon to pay tribute to one of its best known and beloved men--Frank B. Younkin, who lead the local infantry company through the world war. Flags were at half mast all over the city, and by the mayor's proclamation, business houses, professional and industrial activities through the municipality's length and breadth ceased out of respect to the war hero and peace time community worker, who died Saturday afternoon.

Funeral servies for Captain Younkin were held at the First Methodist church. Dr. Lennard A. Swisher read the service and talked on the life of Mr. Younkin. The text was from the New Testament, the Second Epistle of Paul the Apostle to Timothy, fourth chapter and the seventh verse, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith."

A quartet sang, "It Is Well With My Soul", "When Life's Work is Ended", and "Nearer, Still Nearer". The church was filled with hundreds of friends, comrades in arms and business associates of Mr. Younkin. A profusion of floral offerings from organizations and individuals hanked the chancel and choir loft, testimony of the great esteem in which the Captain was held. The Masons, with their ritualistic equipment and scores of former service persons in uniform, were seen throughout the room. Mrs. Donald Neasham was at the organ.

FILLING OUT THE FIRST MONTH

platoons of M Company in Neufmaisons when the captain called for volunteers, and as every man of them stepped forward, he selected eighty for the job. That night the party, under the command of Lieutenants Christopher and Currie, marched up to Badonviller, and at half past three in the morning slipped out into No Man's Land, taking position in front of the German wire opposite G. C.'s 8 and 9. At a quarter past five, following a twenty-minute bombardment by our guns, the Allied soldiers rushed the enemy trenches. They found no Boches and no indications that they had made any attempt to reoccupy their old positions; and so, learning in a few minutes all they had been sent to find out, the raiders returned to our lines without having lost a man.

On the 8th of March, Captain Steller of G Company had received a shrapnel wound in the head which, although slight, affected his eyesight and incapacitated him from further line duty. Command of G Company then passed to First Lieutenant Frank B. Younkin. On the 10th this company was relieved in the P. A. Malgré-jean by H Company with Lieutenants Douglas B. Green and Andrew J. McKeon in charge of the front line platoons. Because of F Company's participation in the raid, E was forced to stand a double tour in P. A. Colcombet.

At this time the various sanitary units were busy instructing the Band and company details in first aid and litter-bearer work, so that they could handle the wounded with a maximum of efficiency. When Major Conkling first asked for the details from each company, some of the captains thought it a good opportunity to get rid of their less desirable men. After viewing the men thus chosen, the commander of the Sanitary Detachment was not guiding on the axis assigned it, he brought his troops up to immediate support and sent Lieutenant Van't Hof up as the forward end of the line communicating with Major Stanley. This line required constant replacements, as the enemy was combing the woods with 150's; but communication was vital at this stage, and there were no telephones in the forward positions. Earlier in the afternoon the Signal Platoon had lost a number of men from shell fire while laying lines to what were then the advanced positions, and it had been impossible to carry these lines farther. The T. P. S. made only a weak effort towards registering, as the conditions negated its proper functioning.

Lieutenant Newquist now brought up the Machine Gun Company and established liaison with the Second Battalion. It had been assigned to Major Worthington's organization, but when the latter moved off to the right all but one platoon lost connection with it. It fortunately had but three casualties — one of them, Lieutenant Baumet — while advancing through the forest under the checker-board fire of heavy artillery.

The first objective had been taken; but at what cost was not realized at first. There were few officers left in the Second Battalion; every one in G Company, with the exception of Lieutenant Pearsall, had been killed or wounded. Lieutenant Mills and Lieutenant Rubel were struck by fragments of the same shell — the former being instantly killed. "Sol" was later found in a shell hole endeavoring to give first aid to his own wounded body, but he was then too far gone to have any hope of recovery. Lieutenant Younkin, the company commander, was wounded and slightly gassed. Then Lieutenant Nelson assumed command, and was himself soon hit, but of the war. These people cultivated their small holdings faithfully all day long and left their homes open to the soldiers who chanced to pass.

Here the regiment remained for two days, the Second and Third Battalions at Crézilles and the other units at Bagneux. The 6th of September was rainy and dreary, and the only bright spot in an otherwise totally lost day was the arrival of eagerly devoured mail.

On the 7th of September General Pershing came to Bulligny for the purpose of decorating a number of men of the Division who had been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. In an impressive ceremony he pinned the coveted medal on Major Ross, Captain Christopher, Lieutenant Doocy, Sergeants Earle W. Wilson, James B. Lepley, George R. Boustead, Claude V. Hart, and Private Nick Costianes. There were others who had won the decoration, but they were either dead or in the hospital recovering from wounds. Many others, whose feats of daring and courage fully qualified them for the award, were not honored at this time further than by the written commendations which they received from the Division commander.

On this same day Lieutenants Christopher, Cotter, Lainson, and Younkin received the order appointing them captains — a reward of their splendid service and demonstrated ability. Lieutenant Lainson had commanded L Company in every engagement since May, while we were still in Lorraine. Lieutenant Cotter had commanded Company K at various intervals during the absence of Captain Hupp, and it was he who had led it across the Oureq. Lieutenant Christopher, long a member of Company M, had commanded Company G since the relief from the Château-Thierry operation, but now that Lieutenant Younkin, who had commanded it from early March until the 26th of July when he was wounded, returned from the hospital, Christopher was re-assigned to command his old outfit. This necessitated the transfer to A Company of Captain Briggs, who had been promoted two weeks before. Captain Casey, upon his release from the hospital, had succeeded Major Ross as Operations Officer, leaving Lieutenant Bradley in command of Company F. With the loss of so many old officers and the addition of new, the last six weeks had seen a great change in personnel.

The next move, on the night of the 7th, took the regiment to a wood three kilometers south of Toul. It was a short march—a matter of only eight or ten kilometers—but one long to be remembered, especially by the Third Battalion. When the troops left the main road they switched to a country path scarcely wide enough for them to march four abreast. It had started to rain and the night was so intensely black that it was like walking blindfolded. The guides of the Third Battalion mistook the trail and led the men up a slippery hill in quite the wrong direction. The wagon train was following close behind when the error was discovered, and before the aberrant column could be set right it had to plod all the way to the top of the hill and then back, for the wagons could not turn on the road and the troops could not pass them. As they could not see where they were going the men, who were roundly cursing the person responsible for the mix-up, grasped hands and hopefully followed a leader in whom they reposed a strange confidence. The rain, whipped by gusts of wind, was coming down in sheets now and the water was rushing down the hill in torrents. Guided by the frequent spurts on the trail leading out to the open toward the road above the Louiseville Farm. Unfortunately the main column had passed, but twenty-five unsuspecting Germans at the end of the procession suddenly woke up to the fact that they were about to be cut off by a superior force. At that moment Captain Younkin, with the rest of G Company, appeared on the scene and opened fire on the astonished group from a point about half a kilometer northeast of the farm. With one accord the Boches left the road, ran across the dry bed of the lake southeast of Haumont, and took refuge in the far woods. From this position they popped away at their would-be captors, and soon they were aided by machine guns which commenced firing on the Americans from Marimbois Farm. This assault from the flank sent the Iowans to the ground, but by pushing forward in short bounds, the right was finally carried around the enemy, and the last rush netted eighteen prisoners. An officer had been killed, and the rest had escaped north to Haumont where they found safety behind their machine gun lines. The maneuver had been quickly and cleverly executed.

In the meantime, Lieutenant Pigeon had been leading his men forward along the western fringe of the woods, and when he neared the Louiseville Farm he detached a group under Sergeant Martin to see if it were still occupied. The Germans themselves volunteered the information in the form of a fusillade on the attacking party.

Company H, commanded by Lieutenant Jones, was now approaching, and with that force ready to support, the scouts rushed the farm buildings and quickly overcame the enemy resistance, making prisoners of the few men left to defend them. The farm, a large collection of "Thirty-seven, Sir", replied the veteran of the Spanish War, whose younger son, aged twenty-five, was also a member of his company.

The General was not easily deceived, and fixing a stern eye on the cook he repeated with emphasis:

"How old are you?"

"Fifty-eight, Sir." Whereupon the General's eyes twinkled and he informed Jones that he was the oldest enlisted man in the A. E. F.— which added another record to the 168th's list. In order to get overseas, "Kokomo" had ruthlessly lopped off a score of years from his age.

He was at that moment helping to bring forward the kitchens of the Third Battalion; and the enemy evidently sighted them, for that night his planes hummed over the woods where they were concealed and machine-gunned and bombed the area in vain—not a man hit nor a kitchen destroyed.

Since the 6th of August, when Chaplain Robb went to the hospital, Chaplain Hatch had been functioning alone, and on this front he and his details had many narrow escapes while burying the dead. There was an element of risk and adventure in so small a matter as recovering the lost bodies.

"One night", he relates, "word was brought us that the body of one of our men was lying in No Man's Land across the bridge toward the village of Haumont. About ten o'clock I started forward with Corporal Hartzell and another corporal and four men of the 51st Pioneers who had been attached to us a few days previous. It was a bright moonlight night. The men were carrying rifles and a stretcher. We passed Captain Younkin and his company along the road, and then turned to the road leading to Haumont. The moon was so bright that we first-rate Iowa names — names foreign to the land, but not to the battle field. The C. R. Iowa was composed in the first position of the P. A. Stanley, controlling G. C.'s 7 and 8 on the left, and on the right, the P. A. Ross, dominating G. C.'s 9 and 10. The support positions were divided into the P. A. Bennett on the left, and the P. A. Tinley on the right. The left flank of the front line, as designated by the brigade order, rested on the Haumont road just north of the Champ-Fontaine Farm, and the right just beyond the railroad on the northeastern edge of the Bois de Charey.

That night the Second Battalion moved to the new position and immediately began to consolidate it. Company G was placed in the right half of the sector, Lieutenant Nelson at G. C. 10, Lieutenant Todd at G. C. 9, and Captain Younkin with the two remaining platoons at the P. A. Ross. Company H occupied the left half, with G. C.'s 7 and 8 in command of Lieutenant Frank P. Cox and Lieutenant Robert S. Harris, and Lieutenant Jones with the support was at P. A. Stanley. Captain Yates with E Company took over P. A. Tinley, and Lieutenant Bradley with F, P. A. Bennett. Battalion Headquarters remained in the northwest corner of the woods. The Machine Gun Company and the Stokes and 37mm Platoons were disposed along the line so as to best support the infantry.

In the readjustment of the sector the First Battalion moved a short distance to the right and rear in the woods, and Major Ross established his P. C. near Regimental Headquarters. He, with his adjutant, Lieutenant Wood, and several of his company officers had been sleeping in comparative comfort in beds in the Louiseville Farm, but that group of buildings had become a dangerous spot.

gence officer, had been wounded, and he himself struck in the heel by a machine gun bullet.

He was then directed to throw Companies E and G into the line, and to hold it at all costs. Captain Younkin was immediately ordered to advance G Company to the right and filter his men out on the line to support F Company, whose extreme right was then about four hundred yards northeast of the Farm along the narrow gauge railway, and at the same time to extend and protect the open flank.

Likewise, Lieutenant Doolittle was ordered to filter E Company out through the open space between the Farm and Châtillon woods to bolster up the left of the line. Before he could accomplish this, two companies of the 167th Infantry, having moved five hundred yards to the right, got inside the enemy's wire in the 168th's sector, and picking up a part of B Company on the way, stormed the summit of Châtillon. As E Company advanced, C, augmented by half of B under Sergeant Flin, started forward and retook the open ridge at the right of the crest and connected up with Alabama on the left.

This last attack saved the situation at a critical moment, for when E reached the woods above the Farm advance groups of the enemy had already penetrated its edges and were moving up the opposite slope within fifty yards of their goal in their second attempt to retake the hill. Spirited rifle fire from E, inflicting heavy casualties, frustrated the attempt.

Just as the infantry opened fire from the top of the hill, the Fifth Field Artillery came to our assistance with a well-placed barrage. The artillery liaison officer at battalion headquarters heard Captain Haynes describe the situation to Major Ross. "Let me fix it", he said, and telephoned the map positions to his battery. In a

There were many changes and additions to the personnel of the regiment during this period. Many of our wounded had been returned from hospitals in France, although it was not an easy matter to get them back — much red tape had to be unwound to save them from casual organizations. Captain Christopher, upon his return, relieved Lieutenant Fraser of command of Company D, and Captain Bradley took over H Company from Lieutenant Harris. When Captain Haley and Captain Lainson came back, Captains Tucker and Bonham surrendered command of I and L Companies, the former to be attached to Regimental Headquarters, to compile, with Captain Witherell and Lieutenant Ball, the regimental history; and the latter to become Regimental Intelligence Officer.

After a year and more in Europe, none of the line companies retained their original commanders. Aside from those above mentioned, they were headed as follows: Headquarters Company, Captain Nead; Supply Company, Captain Johnson; Machine Gun Company, Captain Swift; A, Captain Wood; B, Captain Witherell; C, Captain Sefton; E, Captain Doolittle; F, Captain Thrasher; G, Captain Younkin; K, Captain Cotter; M, Captain Briggs.

On the 23rd of December a number of men who had previously been awarded the D. S. C., but who had not been formally decorated, received the medals from the hands of the Divisional Commander, a heavy rain detracting from the dignity of the ceremony. Major Casey, Captains Bunch, Haynes, and Witherell, Lieutenants Williams, Breslin, and Pruette, and Sergeant Binkley of I Company were honored at this time.

A few days later Lieutenant Bentz, who had been with His parents were John and Elizabeth Ann Brown, who emigrated with their family to Jasper County, Iowa, in 1864. William Fletcher attended common school, Central University, Pella, for a time, and was graduated from Simpson College, Indianola, in 1877. During his junior year in college he was licensed to preach by the Methodist Episcopal church. He was graduated from Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, New Jersey, in 1879 with the degree of B. D. In 1904 Cornell College, Mount Vernon, conferred on him the degree of D. D. STATE OF HEALTH

John W. Lewis, well-known citizen and prominent attorney of Ottumwa, was found dead in a chair at his office, Suite 5, Leighton building, about 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

On Mr. Lewis' lap lay a revolver. The lodging of a bullet in his brain had caused the self-inflicted death. The discovery of the body was made by Mrs. Lewis. Her husband was sitting in his chair in a natural position.

A note left to E. G. Moon told of Mr. Lewis' disinclination to be a physical burden on his family. Friends and business associates said today that he suffered a severe attack of influenza last spring, was confined to his bed for five weeks and that heart complications developed. His financial affairs were in good condition and worry over his physical condition is given as the cause for his act.

BOUGHT PAPER AT 11:45

Mr. Lewis left his home at 320 North Marion street for his office about 9 o'clock Sunday morning. He was seen purchasing a newspaper about 11:45 o'clock. The paper lay unopened on a table in the office.

By his general participation in the courts here and his frequent appearance as a public speaker on programs of community wide interest Mr. Lewis was exceptionally well known. He was very active in Red Cross work during the war. Mr. Lewis was a member of the firm of Work, Lewis & Work.

He was 54 years old and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Blanche B. Lewis and sisters, Mrs. Amanda Barker of Cleveland, Ohio and Mrs. Mary Jones of Dakota, brothers, Eden Lewis, Percy, Mo., and Beaman Lewis of Humeaston. Mr. Lewis' first wife, Mrs. Mary Deyo Lewis, died March 27, 1908.

The funeral will be held at the Rainbow division, died at 4:50 o'clock Saturday afternoon of post-operative pneumonia and heart complications. An intestinal operation was performed at St. Joseph hospital Wednesday night.

Mr. Younkin was not in the best of health during a month prior to the death, relatives said today. His death came as a distinct shock to his many friends and comrades, both in the city of Ottumwa and throughout Iowa.

Frank B. Younkin was born May 9, 1884, in Chariton, and with other members of his father's family came to Ottumwa in 1899. Frank and his brother Lloyd operated a news agency and cigar store in the Ballingall block for twenty-four years.

Mrs. Younkin, son Charles, daughter Martha, three brothers—Marcus of McKenzie, Tenn., and Lloyd and Claude H. of Ottumwa—survive him. The father, C. H. Younkin, died here on December 30, 1922. The mother, Mrs. Nancy Ann Younkin, died February 7, 1923.

The body will lie in state in the O. B. Nelson post American Legion home on North Green street from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. Tuesday. The funeral will be held in the First Methodist church at 2 o'clock. Dr. Leonard A. Swisher will read the service. The Masonic lodge will have charge of the burial rites in Ottumwa cemetery and the American Legion will furnish a firing squad. The pallbearers will be William M. Osler, William H. Scott, Dr. L. A. Hammer, W. C. Wyman, Harry Blizard and H. G. Barnard, all members of O. B. Nelson post.

The honorary pall bearers will be Col. Glenn C. Haynes, auditor of state, and Adjutant General Lasher of Des Moines. Col. Claude N. Stanley of Corning, former Lieut. Maurice De Boer of Lawrence, Long Island, N. Y.; C. G. Merrill, president of the Rotary club, and E. H. Emery, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The body will be taken to the cemetery on a caisson. The American flag brought from France on the coffin of Oscar B. Nelson will be draped over the bier of Captain Younkin. The 113th cavalry band will act as escort. The members of the local cavalry troop will be out in uniform.

The city of Ottumwa will pause for an hour Tuesday to pay respect and honor to the memory of a man who gave the best of himself to service for his country both in war and in peace. Captain Younkin conducted himself gallantly on the field of battle. He was loved by his men and displayed the fits of temper which were characteristic of her career.

At the age of 14, Bernhardt was sent to a conservatory. Her first appearance was at the Comedie Francaise, in 1862. She took a minor part in many marked success.

Two years later she emerged from obscurity with her first definite success as Cordelia in a French translation of "King Lear," at the Comedie Francaise.

When came the Franco-Prussian war, Bernhardt increased her popularity by playing a war nurse. In 1871 she made a life member of the Comedie Francaise. She clashed repeatedly with M. Perrin, the manager, over the part she should take, and once in 1876 fled from the theater to decide to give up the stage. She turned to sculpture. Her first piece, "The Storm," finished some years later—won a place in the salon.

She returned to M. Perrin only to work with him again, incurring a fortune of 4,000 pounds, which she paid.

CAPTURES ALL EUROPE

She invaded England, receiving a rapturous ovation, then toured Denmark and Russia. Next she came to America, where her success was instantaneous. She toured the United States and Canada eight times in some thirty-five years, and appeared several times in the larger cities of South America.

The great actress was a grandmother when she last appeared in America. She had suffered amputation of her left leg. Upon her arrival in New York in October, 1916, it was evident to a group of friends and admirers who gathered to welcome her, that she came with extreme difficulty.

While playing in New England she contracted a severe cold, which compelled her to take a trip south for her health. A few weeks later she underwent an operation for infection of the kidney, and although more than 70 years old, she enjoyed complete recovery and remained in America for several months.

PLAYS FOR SOLDIERS

During the World war Bernhardt made several trips to the French front to give a number of performances for the soldiers. This, she declared, was the "incomparable event" of her life.

The memoirs of Bernhardt sedulously avoid any mention of her marital life, and only in the middle of a bulky volume does she mention casually the existence of a son. One of her critics declared that "she never seemed to find the man who could outstep her."

In 1882 the actress was married to Jacques Damala, a handsome Greek, who had made a name in the theatrical world through his work in "The Umbrellas." He later took a minor part in one of her plays, but after a year or two they separated. Later she took him back to her home and nursed him through a fatal siege of consumption.

INVESTED IN THEATERS

Mme. Bernhardt's son, Maurice, had no inclination to follow the profession of his mother.

Many stories have been told of the belated sums accruing to the famous actress, especially in America, but authenticated figures show that the gross receipts of each tour were in a neighborhood of $500,000, of which she usually received 50 per cent. A large part of her earnings was reinvested in theatrical enterprises, and at the time she died

BUYS BURIAL ISLE.

She once expressed a wish that this could be her final resting place, and in 1922 the idea was elaborated upon when she bought for $100 from the French government a little granite island in the Bay of Biscay, not far from her summer home at Belle Isle, where she planned to build a magnificent tomb crowned with a marble statue of herself.

Death had a weird fascination for Bernhardt, and for years she contemplated it with what appeared to be an uncanny humor. The wish she most often expressed was that she might die in the midst of her triumphs. "I shall play until death," she said, "and the death I hope for is the death Sir Henry Irving died." Her English contemporary died on tour, being stricken with apoplexy after a performance in 1905.

Toward the end of 1922 it was thought this desire might shorten her life considerably, for while she was dangerously ill in her Paris home she plied her iron will against the physicians and prepared to resume her part in a new play. She felt the end was near; her sickroom attendants said, and wanted to be acting a leading role when death rang down the curtain.

LABOR EXTREMISTS IN PARIS PROTECT HOLDING OF TWO CONVICTED SLAYERS

By Associated Press Staff Correspondent
Paris, March 26.—Labor unionists of extreme tendencies in France have resumed their agitation in favor of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, convicted of murder at South Braintree, Mass., and are organizing meetings, the advance posters of which bear the caption:

"Liberty or death."

These posters declare "that the infamous Judge Thayer (Judge Webster Thayer of the Massachusetts superior court) persists in postponing the retrial of Sacco and Vanzetti in spite of the fact that one after another the prosecuting witnesses have retracted. The suppression of the activities of the workers and anarchists throughout the world is generally denounced at these meetings, particular stress being placed on the cases of Sacco and Vanzetti, and the sentence to hanging of 172 peasants in India. The French action in the Ruhr is also repudiated by the labor extremists."

The police as a rule attach no more significance to these meetings than to the usual run of extremist gatherings, but a discreet guard is still maintained near Ambassador Herrick's residence and the American embassy.

Ambassador Herrick is probably unaware of the extent of this protection, as the detectives take good care to keep out of his sight but it would be difficult for a person bent on violence, to approach him either at the embassy or at his home.

St. Joseph, Mich., March 26.—The state today moved to bar further testimony by Charles E. Ruthenberg of Cleveland in the trial of William Z. Foster, charged with criminal syndicalism, and also asked Judge White to strike out the testimony given by Ruthenberg last week.

Prosecuting Attorney Goff cited Michigan authorities to support his contention that a co-defendant jointly indicted is not a competent witness. Precautionary measures to prevent other attempts to tamper with the jury were made today. Officials said attempts to tamper with the jury were frustrated last week.

Ruthenberg was still on the stand for the defense Friday when court adjourned.

TOWN DECKED OUT TO GREET THE HARDINGS

St. Augustine, Fla., March 24.—Dressed in her most gala attire, the ancient Spanish city today was prepared to welcome two of her old winter residents, President and Mrs. Harding.

The president's arrival here today was to mark the nineteenth consecutive year in which Mr. and Mrs. Harding have visited St. Augustine. Years ago, before Mr. Harding had attained the rank of state official or senator, he began coming here for a few weeks each winter or spring, as the editor of the Marion (O.) Star. In those early days the coming of the Hardings was of little moment and occasionally their annual sojourn was omitted from newspaper mention or casually mentioned along with other visitors at the hotels. But now all of this is changed and a royal reception is planned.

OLD RIVER CAPTAIN ENDS LIFE IN STREAM

Dubuque, March 24.—Captain Robert H. Trombly, 63 years old, one of the earliest Mississippi river pilots and captains, walked to his death in the Mississippi river late yesterday afternoon. His body was recovered by railroad workers after it had become jammed in an ice gorge. He was in charge of one of the last log rafts brought down the river to the old Standard Lumber company here.

117 Members Attend Reunion at Riverside, Iowa, Aug. 7, 1938

Riverside, Ia.
Aug. 9, 1938.

Mr. Chas. Younkin,
Dear friend:

We were very sorry that the Mrs. Mamie Prather didn't get to our reunion. We were expecting her. The papers were delivered to different members of the family and some of them seem to want it but will let you know. We had 117 members with us and a very nice time. We wish some of this crowd could attend your reunion the 21st, but think it will be impossible. I am sending the heads of families as you desired.

By MRS. J. W. TENER.

In this week's Democrat the editor says there is a traveling man in this town that says that out of 88 traveling men 76 are for free silver 16 for 1. That traveling man, whoever he is, must have wheels in his head. In the last month I have traveled over 2000 miles and met several hundred traveling men and have only found two that were for free silver. If the editor of the Democrat thinks that the traveling men of this country are going to vote one half of their salary away for free silver, he is badly fooled in November. I will wager a bet that 95 percent of the traveling men will vote for McKinley. GENE ANDERSON.

Funeral of Rev. T. A. H. Wylie.

In song and in words befitting the solemn occasion, a vast throng of this city and vicinity met at the First Presbyterian church yesterday evening and paid a loyal, loving tribute to the memory of Bedford's lamented minister, citizen and friend.

Amid the most perfect quiet the services were opened with a song by the choir, "Resting at home." Rev. Dr. James McMill, president of the Fairfield college, read the scripture lesson and was led in prayer by Rev. Frank Grossman of York Town. Rev. Dill of Shenandoah, who several years ago installed Rev. Wylie as pastor of the church, pronounced an eulogy over the life of the dead. In opening he said he did not wish to eulogize the dead, but he believed God required us to gather a lesson from this bereavement and he wanted to say something of the dear departed brother who had passed away in the noontime of life. It had been his good fortune to be well acquainted with Rev. Wylie. He recognized the graces of his power in life. He had been strong in faith, strong in the pulpit and strong in his social relations. He had been first a friend of God then a friend of man. He was loving and affectionate in his home life and these characteristics followed him into his relations with his church and the community. His influence for good will last with his memory.

The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. McMill. Around the name of the deceased pastor the Dr. entwined words of respect and admiration and paid an eloquent tribute to his qualities of mind and heart.

LESTER L. GODLOVE
RIVERSIDE, IOWA

The son of Benjamin Godlove of Riverside. Lester attended dental school at the University of Iowa. He then settled in practice in 1901 in Wellman where two of his sisters, Mrs. Everett Lives ( Kate) and Mrs. William Mc Connell ( Nellie) lived. Lester was married to Minnie Stotts, also, of Riverside. They were the parents of Richard Milan, nicknamed Pooch, Delbert, Robert, Walter, Martha (Mrs. Tom Ragsdale). Their mother, Minnie, died in 1920 and the two smallest children went to live with their grandparents the Stotts in Missouri. Milan, Delbert, and 7 year old Robert remained with their father and assumed part of the household duties.

Dr. Godlove was the youngest child in a large family and had helped his mother and learned to cook. Dr. Godlove retired from active practice in 1932 and left the office he had so long occupied in the upstairs of the Security Bank Building. He died in March of 1943.

B.J./Benjamin appears to have been the father of Lester Godlove. It is possible that Benjamin's parents were John and Sarah Younkin Godlove. It appears that John Godlove is probably related in some way to Catherine Godlove, wife of Samuel Younkin ( son of Rudolph/Ralph Younkin). Samuel did have a sister Sarah/Sally, but she was born prior to 1813 and was most likely the wife of John Trout.

Lester Godlove's son Robert had a Sandwich Shop in Wellman Iowa in 1931.

God hath not promised
Skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways
All our lives through.
God hath not promised
Sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow,
Peace without pain.

But God hath promised
Strength for the day,
Rest for the labor,
Light for the way,
Grace for the trials,
Help from above,
Unfailing sympathy,
Undying love.

MR. AND MRS. S. E. YOUNKIN OF PIONEER IOWA FAMILIES TO OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. S. E. YOUNKIN.

—Thompson photo

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Younkin, 1224 Sixth avenue SE, will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary Monday at their home here. The couple have lived in Cedar Rapids for forty-five years, in the neighborhood of their present home, although not in the same house. Mrs. Younkin is 73 years "young" and her husband is 83.

They came here from Riverside where Mr. Younkin was born March 29, 1853, and where two of his uncles reside, John Younkin, 86-year-old Civil war veteran, and Dr. George W. Younkin, 90-year-old physician who still does some office practice. The uncles were brothers of Mr. Younkin's father, Joseph, and their father migrated to Riverside from Ohio and settled on land which he bought from the government for $1.25 an acre.

Met As Children.

Mr. and Mrs. Younkin met at Riverside as children. Mrs. Younkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McKnight, whose given name was Alice, was born near Pittsburgh, Pa., July 16, 1863, and came to Riverside at the age of 11 with her mother who was left with six children following the accidental death of James McKnight. At Riverside Mrs. McKnight earned a livelihood for her family by working as a seamstress and Mrs. Younkin went to live with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cress. Although Mr. and Mrs. Younkin have no children, Mrs. Younkin is thoroughly familiar with rearing a family as the Cress' had nine children and Mrs. Younkin as a girl assisted Mrs. Cress in their care.

The Younkins were married Dec. 14, 1886, at the home of Mr. Younkin's sister, Mrs. J. H. Parnham. They lived in Riverside for four years while Mr. Younkin engaged in bridge-building for Washington county. In 1894 he went to work for the Rock Island railroad and remained with the line for thirty years. The Younkins came to Cedar Rapids in 1891 and Mr. Younkin had a part in the construction of the Rock Island bridge over the Cedar river and also the bridge over the Cedar at Linn which the bridge builders had to be constantly repaired and Mr. Younkin recalled one job on which the bridge builders had to work with the mercury skidding to 36 below! Steel structures have done away with much of the old-time repair work, he said.

Spent Winters In California.

After Mr. Younkin retired the couple satisfied their desires to travel and have spent seven winters in California since. They have been to the west coast eight times, once on their first wedding anniversary. As there were no streamlined trains, it required five days and nights to make the trip. Both Mr. and Mrs. Younkin are active for their years and are thoroughly modern in their tastes and ideas.

Mrs. Younkin has been an active worker in St. Paul's Methodist church before and since the present edifice at Third avenue and Fourteenth street SE, was constructed. She is also a member of the Eastern Star, the Pythian Sisters and the Ladies auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Mr. Younkin is a member of the Knights of Pythias and still devotes time to the lodge.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 13, 11

Today they are to be guests dinner of Mr. and Mrs. A. Love, 1227 Fifth avenue SE, who lived for twelve years next door Mrs. Younkin.

John Younkin Laid To Rest

Funeral Is Held Wednesday Afternoon
For 80-Year-Old Resident

RIVERSIDE, Iowa, April 4. — Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in the Riverside Methodist church for John F. Younkin, whose death took place Monday morning at his farm home just east of Riverside.

Mr. Younkin had been a member of the Odd Fellows for many years, and pallbearers were chosen from the Kalona lodge of that order to which he had belonged since the Riverside lodge merged with the Kalona lodge last year. They were Fred Burgeois, T. Reagan Adams, Geo. Beck and Bert Britton of Kalona, and Roy Flynn and Charles Havel of Riverside.

Rev. S. C. Peterson, pastor of the Riverside Methodist church, was in charge of the services, which were largely attended.

Mrs. H. E. Doud, Mrs. L. R. Bates, Mrs. R. I. Marner and Mrs. C. W. Ingram sang "Asleep in Jesus, Blessed Sleep," "The Old Rugged Cross." Mrs. Harold Cross was at the piano.

Burial following in the Riverside cemetery.

John H. Younkin, son of Joseph and Eliza Jane Younkin, was born on July 30, 1859 on the same farm in the Riverside community on which he passed away at 8:45 A.M.

born in a log house which many years ago sat directly in front of the present Younkin residence, and he spent his entire life on the home place. He was eighty years and eight months of age at the time of his death.

On December 5, 1900, Mr. Younkin was united in marriage with Miss Anna Ford in Iowa City and they established their home on the farm east of Riverside. Five sons were born to this union.

Mr. Younkin was a faithful and loyal member of the Methodist church since his early youth. As a young man, he sang regularly in the choir. He was also a member of the Board of Trustees and the Official Board of the church and active in many other ways in supporting the work of the Kingdom in this community. Mr. Younkin was also very active in the life of the community, taking a responsible part in the life of its various organizations. He was a charter member of the Odd Fellows Lodge in Riverside and active in its affairs. He was secretary of the School Board of the "Y" school district for fifty years, resigning in 1938 because of ill health, and he was clerk and trustee of Iowa township for many years.

He is survived besides his wife, by five sons, Everett, Verne, Allan, Harold and Glen, all at home, three brothers, Samuel of Cedar Rapids, Morris of Edgemoor, Ore., Alfred of Riverside and a sister, Mrs. Laura Smith of Plainview, Texas. Two sisters died some years ago.

In the death of Mr. Younkin, Riverside loses a man who was universally esteemed as a good neighbor and friend. He will be missed by a host of those who knew him.

Fifty years is a long time in any man's life—it was not too long for Mr. John Younkin of Riverside, Iowa. For fifty years he served as secretary of school district No. 1 in Washington County, Iowa, of which Washington is the county seat. He retired July 15th, 1938. See Bulletin of December 20, 1938, father and son hold same office for 90 years, the accompanying photo was taken in the Court House at Washington, Iowa, on the date he retired. He is being congratulated by the County Superintendent of Schools, Mr. L. H. Krabill, for his fifty years service the photo is a picture story in itself, the sincerity of Mr. Krabill in his handshake, the broad smile of Mr. Younkin, tell a real story of friendship much louder than words.

This father and son record of 80 years service in the same position is one that cannot be beaten and seldom if ever equalled.

John H. Younkin (R) (deceased), lived in Riverside, Iowa (see story and obituary with story). L. H. Krabill (L) County Superintendent of Schools, Washington County, Iowa.

Oct. 31, 1940

Mr. Younkin,
Dear Friend:

Your letter and Family Paper rec'd., and am more than pleased the way you wrote up the piece of my late husband. The photo was swell. Everything is fine in your little paper and every item should be read and taken to heart. The Younkin Family are sure a long life people. Uncle George Younkin of Mason City is OK as far as we know. Was sorry not to see in print an account of our reunion of Aug. 4th. I suppose during your sickness it was mislaid. Better luck next time. I gave a birthday party for my boy Glenn who was 27 years old Oct. 22nd. Corn husking is the chief occupation at present, and Iowa came in 2nd for the National corn husking contest at Davenport. Iowa is where the tall corn grows. I wish you all the success the world can give and many thanks for what you have already done.

As Ever a Friend,

Mrs. Anna E. Younkin,

Letter By

Mrs. G. D. Kaye

Boulder, Colo.,
9-21, 1940.

Mr. Chas. Younkin:
My dear sir:

Yours of 9-20-40 came to me and was pleased to note its contents, and am anxiously awaiting my copy of the P. N. B. I feel I could hardly spare the price of the complete set of the back numbers. In these days of uncertainty I find it necessary to watch. But my son from Alliance, Nebr., came to visit me and when he got into the meaning of it all, and became very much interested, so handed me a dollar bill to send for the complete set of back numbers, and I am delighted to think they will soon come to me. When he met Dr. Noble Younkin at Indianapolis this summer and was invited to go to the reunion, it did not come to him that he belonged to the clan, and was very much chagrined when he found out, or rather it came to him, that he did, for he found the doctor to be a fine fellow. All my friends to whom I have mentioned the facts of the family organization think it is a most wonderful idea carried to the extent you have it.

I am glad to know all things favored you in having a fine time August 18 and hope there may be many more.

Yes, Mr. Grover Younkin of Wichita called to see me. It was such a complete surprise to me and his stay so short. I felt the impression was not first class. However, I was honored anyway to have him call. I find that a near neighbor of my son at Alliance is a member of the family, name is Glen and a farmer, cattleman.

Sincerely,

MRS. G. D. KAYE,

LETTER FROM

MRS. G. D. KAYE
Boulder, Col.
7-31-1941

Mr. Chas. Younkin:

Dear Sir: Yesterday I received my invitation to the Eighth Annual National Reunion of the Younkin Clan, was pleased to get it, but will not be so I can be present much as I would like to be. Tho if all goes well I may go back to my old home at Riverside, Iowa for the family picnic there. The changes have been so great that it will be for me as among strangers, for there are so few of my immediate family left.

I was pleased to receive your letter of April 8, and should have acknowledged it much sooner than this, but as the years become more and more upon us, I find, I like to get by doing little as I can, and writing letters more of a task. As to the report of how I liked the back numbers of the Bulletin, will say, I really did enjoy them and read from start to finish, but have had but one copy since sending the dollar for the coming year. So am wondering the reason why.

I have received several letters from members of the Clan from different places and just a few weeks ago a call from one living in Paris, Tenn., who was spending a vacation in our city. It really is quite wonderful and interesting to know of how this wonderful family have become scattered over so much of the world and all so far as I have heard nice folks.

So wishing for you in the East a very successful reunion, and will be more than pleased for a report.

Very Truly
Mrs. G. D. Kaye,
1445 Pine St.
Boulder, Col.

County, engaged with a gentleman by the name of Stephen Hill, at $140 per year, and remained with him twelve months, then went to work for James Brown, at the same wages, remaining with him one year. Soon after he married Miss Anelia Watson, a native of New York, born May 16, 1837. She was the daughter of Eliphalet and Louisa Watson, both natives of New York.

In 1855 Mr. Bartholomew came with his young bride to Washington County, and here purchased 122 acres of wild land which he commenced to improve, making for himself a home in his adopted State. He now owns 322 acres of fine prairie land, together with eight acres of timber, in all 330 acres. The farm presents a good appearance with its well-tilled fields and fine farm buildings, all of which are the result of his own toil and industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew were the parents of seven children: William H. is a farmer in Lime Creek Township; Sanford died at the age of five years; Clara A., deceased, was the wife of Samuel Wilkins; Edward H. is now helping in the management of the home farm; Ira T. and Eliphalet, are at home; and Thomas, a twin brother of Eliphalet, is deceased. On the 15th of October, 1871, death visited this happy home, taking from it the wife and mother. She was a kind parent to her children, a true and loving wife, and a devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. She was greatly beloved, and missed not only by her family but also by the many dear friends with whom she was daily associated. She has left them only to wait their coming on the other shore. Mr. Bartholomew is a member of the Baptist Church. He is a Republican in politics, and takes a great interest in the upbuilding of the State in which he lives.

JOHAN MCCOBB, deceased, resided on section 27, Oregon Township, where he was the owner of 167 acres of land. He was born in County Donegal, Ireland, in the year 1810, came to America in 1830 and settled in Pennsylvania, where he remained until 1850, then came to Washington County, where he purchased 124 acres of wild land, to which he added by subsequent purchase, and at his death left an excellent farm. He was married in this county, in 1860, to Mrs. Mary H. Feters, the widow of Dr. Samuel Feters. She was a daughter of Samuel and Antoinette Gear, natives of Pennsylvania and of English descent. She was born in Crawford County, Pa. Three children were born to them: Matthew S., who married Anna Lindsey, is now residing in Kansas; they are the parents of one child, Edith. Eva E. and Elsie. By her first marriage, Mrs. McCobb was the mother of one daughter, Antoinette, who is the wife of James W. Byers, of Iowa, and the mother of four children—Marshall H., Mintil S., Eva A. and Elsie.

Mr. McCobb died Nov. 10, 1884, leaving a loving wife, four children, and many friends to mourn their loss. He was a sincere Christian man, a member of the United Presbyterian Church, and in his daily life endeavored to practice the precepts and follow in the footsteps of the Son of Man. In the community in which he resided he was greatly esteemed for his many excellent qualities of head and heart. The widow is also a member of the United Presbyterian Church, and is greatly esteemed for her social qualities; she yet resides on her home farm. All her children have been well educated, Miss Eva having taught fifteen terms in the public schools of Washington County; another daughter, Elsie, is also engaged in teaching. As a family they are well respected and highly esteemed by all who know them.

HENRY A. YOUNKIN, farmer and stock-raiser. In giving a sketch of the Younk family, we are pleased to state that Samuel and Catherine (Godlove) Younk are the oldest couple in Iowa Township. They have long since passed their golden wedding anniversary, but to-day at their advanced age, he in his eighty-ninth, and she in her eighty-fifth year, their health is remarkably good, and both do as much work upon the farm as almost any couple in the neighborhood. The longevity of the family is also remarkable, eighty odd years being the average; some of them have reached the advanced age of one hundred, and Samuel and his wife bid fair to reach that ripe old age. They are both of German origin, born in Virginia, and their marriage was celebrated in Perry County, Ohio, where Mr. Younkin cleared up two large farms. He was an official of his township from the earliest recollection of our subject, and taught school before, and for many years after his marriage was engaged in that profession. His wife was a great weaver, and to this day has one of the old style looms in her house, and her nimble fingers yet fashion the stripes in homewoven carpets, and the click-clack of the flying shuttle is heard in the old farm house where they have lived so many years.

Samuel, too, understood weaving well, and in the early days wove large quantities of woolen goods, but as a weaver his crowning glory consisted in the manufacture of those old coverlets which will last a lifetime. The historian was shown one of fifty-three such specimens, woven and presented to his children and grandchildren by Samuel Younkin when in his eighty-eighth year, and to say that no present could be more highly esteemed, would hardly express their sentiments. They are the parents of the following children, nine of whom were born in Ohio prior to their removal to Iowa in 1844: Joseph, the husband of Eliza J. Iden; Mary A., the wife of Ferdinand Tener; Henry A., the husband of Mary A. Iden, a cousin of Joseph's wife; Abner, whose first wife was the second Rebecca Fesler; Martha J. Young; Elizabeth, deceased, married Thomas H. Iden; Samuel died when ten years of age; Nancy and John F., both unmarried; Margaret, deceased, was the wife of William Tansey; she died while her husband was absent as a soldier during the late war. William, deceased, who was by trade a harness-maker, wedded Adaline Bray; George, the youngest, is a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, now stationed at Kellogg, Iowa, and was born in this county.

When the family came to this county, Samuel Younkin purchased an eighty-acre tract of land, which he still owns, and also paid $400 to Nixon Scott for a claim to a section besides, which he afterward entered, which is now in the possession of the family with other lands that have since been added. A little round log cabin with a clapboard roof stood upon the eighty-acre tract, and into this the family moved, and as our subject states "the caves were not over five feet high, and we had to stoop to get in at the door." A sod house addition was built at once, and in this the family passed a fairly comfortable winter. The second winter was passed in a nice double-log cabin, covered with a shingle roof, and this was for many years known as "Younkin's Hotel;" the stage line from Iowa City to Fairfield passed this pioneer inn, and a post-office was established there in 1856, with Samuel Younkin as Postmaster. The "Younkin Hotel" was a stage office, and frequently three or four stages would stop at one time. The hotel did quite a large transient trade for many years, and the post-office was continued until 1859. The old military road was a meandering one, and in fact passed many of the houses in the new country. Nathaniel McClure, a wealthy man who resided within what is now the limits of Riverside, concluded to open a hotel, and to make it profitable, petitioned the State Legislature to have the old military road resurveyed, and the bill was passed which authorized the line from Keokuk to Dubuque to be opened and bridged at the expense of the State. This practically stopped traffic on the old line, and the "Younkin Hotel" was discontinued. McClure's inn flourished a short time, until railroads put an end to stage travel. Samuel Younkin would not accept any official position after coming to Washington County, and his whole life has been devoted to agricultural pursuits, in which he and his children have been remarkably successful.

Henry A. Younkin, the subject of this sketch, was born in 1827, and has been from his boyhood chiefly engaged in farming. He left his father's house in the fall of 1849, after they came to Iowa, and spent one winter in Arkansas and Mississippi, and the next winter in the pine forests of Wisconsin, lumbering on the Chippewa River. He returned to Iowa, and in December, 1860, was wedded to Mary A. Iden. Their domestic life was begun upon their present farm, which was entered by our subject in 1851, for which he has the original patent. The first house erected is still standing, but has been pushed back to make room for a more modern farm house. In the old house their only daughter, Emma C., was born, and in it the years were passed in which Mr. Younkin gained the most of his financial prestige. During the intervening years, Mr. Younkin has been Assessor of the township, and three years its Trustee. Since their school district has been organized, he has served fourteen consecutive years as School Treasurer, and is the present incumbent of that office. His daughter has attended several terms at the Iowa City Academy, and has received a liberal education. The Younkin family are earnest advocates of everything pertaining to the advancement of educational interests. As this is a fitting addenda to the sketch of one of the oldest families of the county, it is given with pleasure and will be read with interest.

JOHAN McCLELLAND, deceased, was a native of Ireland, but came with his parents to the United States when a mere child, the family locating in Pennsylvania. There he grew to manhood, and in March, 1813, married Betsy Keister, who was born in Pennsylvania, but was of German parentage. After their marriage, the young couple settled near Pittsburgh. They were the parents of fifteen children, all yet living but one: William has been for many years a practicing physician in Washington County; James is in Detroit, Mich.; Rebecca is the wife of Peter Keister, also of Washington County; Ann is deceased; Erskine is in Georgetown, Col.; Nathan resides in New Zealand; John lives in this county; Hannah and Eliza are twins; the former is the wife of Dr. J. McClelland, of Pennsylvania, and the latter the wife of Archibald Graham, of Missouri. Sarah is the wife of Aaron Glenn, of this county; Job is a resident of Anamosa, Col.; Phoebe is the wife of John McKenzie; Jennima is the widow of Mr. Edwards, of Missouri; Mary Jane is the widow of W. O. Wallace, of this county, and Rosanna is the wife of John Work, of this county. After remaining in Pennsylvania till several of his children were scattered in various parts of the country, in 1855 Mr. and Mrs. McClelland came to Washington County, where they lived till their death. Mr. McClelland died in 1871, at the age of eighty-five years, while Mrs. McClelland survived him four years, dying in 1875, at the age of eighty-five years.

John McClelland was possessed of rather more than ordinary ability; a man of strong convictions and one not afraid to express his views upon any question of public interest. He was a strong anti-slavery man, and advocated freedom at a time when it was hardly considered fashionable, and when it was really not safe. He was one of a few men in Pennsylvania who voted for Birney, the Free-soil candidate for President in 1844. Mr. McClelland was also a strong advocate of temperance when it was not very popular to be a temperance man, even when to advocate temperance was to be a fanatic. He lived to see slavery abolished throughout the length and breadth of the land and to see his temperance principles endorsed by the majority of the American people. Religiously, he was connected with the United Presbyterians, and, with the members of that body, was opposed to secret societies, believing that all things should be done in the light of day.

ABSALOM BUSH, a retired farmer, resides at Kalona. He was born in Fayette County, Ohio, Feb. 8, 1813, and is the son of Leonard and Catherine (Powers) Bush. His father was born in Pendleton County, Va., of German ancestry. He was a farmer and a natural mechanic, and was also a carpenter, manufacturing looms and spinning-wheels, and various other household articles. He was a master in the use of tools, and could make anything that he was requested to, and no man could do finer work. He was married in Virginia to Miss Catherine Powers, who was his companion and helpmeet until his death. She was born in Hardy County, Va., and was the daughter of a Dunkard minister. Her family were also of German origin.

The family, consisting of the parents and three children, removed to Ross County, Ohio, on the north fork of the Paint River, where they staid two years, and then removed to the farm in Fayette County. This farm was a wild, unimproved place in a wilderness. Their log house was built

"Never Too Old To Buy A New Car," Decide Aged Riverside Brothers; Learn Gear Shift Driving

John F. Younkin, Age 91, And His Brother, Dr. G. W. Younkin, 84, Enjoy Life Together; Prepare Own Meals.

BY CHARLES E. GRAYSON.

RIVERSIDE, July 25.—Washington county's oldest automobile purchasers were recorded at the treasurer's office last week when John F. Younkin, 91, and his brother, Dr. G. W. Younkin, 84, both of Riverside, signed for a new car after driving an old machine for a number of years. John F. Younkin drove a gear shift car many years ago but this is the first modern gear shift machine that either of the brothers has owned.

"Cars have changed but as we are still young, and never too old to learn, we feel as though we can handle the machine just as well as any young driver," was the opinion expressed by the pair, the two surviving brothers of a family of eleven children, several of whom had passed the 90 year mark before their recent deaths.

Both men are in good health and Dr. Younkin continues his daily medical practice, working more like a man of 60 than of 84. The veteran physician opened his office in Riverside only a year ago when he came here from Kansas to live with his brother.

Prepare Own Meals.

John spends most of his time about the house, doing odd jobs, and has charge of planning meals, which the brothers prepare themselves. John is known as the man who generally goes without an overcoat in the winter and he claims this is one of the reasons for his good health.

John F. Younkin was born in Perry county, Ohio, Nov. 29, 1840, a son of Samuel and Katherine Younkin. Ten of the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Younkin were born in Ohio. After living in that state until 1844 the family moved to Iowa in five horse-drawn wagons. When the family arrived in this county Nov. 2, 1844, Samuel Younkin purchased an eighty-acre tract of land, and paid $400 to Nixon Scott for a claim to a section, which he afterwards entered.

A little log cabin with a clapboard roof stood on the eighty-acre tract, and into this the family moved. A sod house addition was built, and the family passed a fairly comfortable winter. The second winter was passed in a double-log cabin, covered with a shingle roof, and this was for many years known as Younkin's hotel. The stage line from Iowa City to Fairfield passed this pioneer inn, and a post office was established in 1856, with Samuel Younkin as postmaster. The hotel was a stage office, and frequently three or four stages would stop at one time. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Younkin lived to be one of the oldest couples in Washington county, Mrs. Younkin dying at 94 and Mr. Younkin at 91.

Enlists For War Duty.

time he enlisted in Company D of the Twenty-fourth Iowa Volunteer Infantry for Civil war duty. He took part in twenty-four battles in the Union army and never was hurt. He has many interesting stories to tell about the narrow escapes he had. Tom Sims of Riverside and Mr. Younkin went through all the battles together and they still enjoy getting together to recall their experiences during the war.

Some of the important battles in which Mr. Younkin and Mr. Sims engaged were Magnolia Hill, Miss.; Champion Hill, Miss., and Black River. Company D then traveled to New Orleans, later going into Virginia where it joined the forces of Charleston. With that army the Riverside men fought together at Berryville, Winchester, Cedar Creek, Bull Head mountain. They then crossed to Goldsboro, where they joined Sherman's army for the remainder of the war.

Following his return to the Riverside community, Mr. Younkin continued his former occupation of farming and stock raising. He continued this work until recent years when he retired and moved to Riverside. "Stock raising is a great work but one must know the tricks of the markets and shipping problems in order to cut down losses," says Mr. Younkin. He recalls the days when he bucked against the markets in Chicago and tells of a time when he let stock go without water for a day before arriving in Chicago. He fed them generously during the trip and when they arrived for market they drank nearly enough water to overcome the weight lost by the journey.

Civil War Veteran And His Physician Brother Have Many Tales To Tell; Last Of Big Family.

Newspapers His Hobby.

Mr. Younkin aided the Methodists of Riverside in the construction of their new building, although he is not a member of any church. His enjoyment is reading daily newspapers and considers that his only hobby. In 1910 he purchased his first automobile and drove it until recently.

Dr. Younkin was born Nov. 2, 1846, in Iowa and being too young to enter the Civil war, stayed on the farm. He attended elementary school near Yattson and later the University of Iowa, where he was graduated in 1876. Following his medical training and special work he started his first practice at Martinsburg, Keokuk county. From there he moved to Wichita, Kan., because of his son's health. His son was in the World war. Dr. Younkin returned to Riverside last year to stay with his brother. He has three children, one son, G. D. Younkin of Billings, Mont., and two daughters, Mabel and Albie Younkin of Colorado.

"A physician's work has made a wonderful change since the day I attended the University of Iowa and modern equipment and chemical findings will continue to improve the practice to a great degree," said Dr. Younkin. "Automobiles and hard roads are a great asset to doctors today."

The second winter was passed in a double-log cabin, covered with a shingle roof, and this was for many years known as Younkin's hotel. NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS __ Leighton, Iowa.

Miss Catharine YOUNKIN went to her home at New Sharon last Friday evening by train. She returned on Sunday by buggy accompanied by John VAN DEMAAL and George REYNOLDS. They called on some of their young friends and returned to their home very early Monday morning.

Leighton, Iowa is the small community near Oskaloosa, Iowa (county seat of Mahaska county) where my great grandfather, Jeremiah R. LIBBY, was a pioneer farmer in 1843. He was a member of the school board at one time but I don't know just when. I think it was before this time. Some place else I think I made a note about this YOUNKIN being a teacher at Leighton. I hope I haven't lost it. Perhaps great grandfather knew this young lady.

I found this item while searching the old newspapers for any information about great grandfather or any other LIBBY info.

It is time consuming but fun. I have also picked up a couple of items for my friend, Irving Weber, the Iowa City historian.

HERE IS THE ITEM I referred to about Catharine YOUNKIN---- from the same paper Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1897----

Miss Katherine YOUNKIN, our primary teacher, spend the holidays with friends at New Sharon.

New Sharon is 12 miles north of Oskaloosa.

The first item refers to New Sharon as her home. I must try to find more about YOUNKIN in that community.

ROLLASHOEMAKER KILLED

Lives Only Two Hours After Being Taken Out.

About 9:30 o'clock Friday morning Rolla Shoemaker, of Beacon, was caught by a falling boulder in mine No. 2, of the Oskaloosa Coal and Mining company's plant and received severe injuries from which he died two hours later.

Mr. Shoemaker was what is known as a "company man," being on a regular salary in place of digging coal by the bushel. His duties were to look after various matters in the mine and see that everything was safe and regular.

Several miners in one of the rooms reported early in the morning that they considered their roof dangerous. Mr. Shoemaker, John Luke and Henry Jones went in to make an examination. From their long experience at the work they thought there was no imminent danger and set about getting additional props and securing the roof.

The dangerous object was a large boulder that had apparently come loose. Immediately under it was the track and to avoid all trouble possible, Mr. Shoemaker removed the rails and was engaged in digging a hole for it to drop into. This would save them the necessity of handling the great stone.

In an unguarded moment the boulder came down catching Mr. Shoemaker under its weight. Mr. Luke was also knocked down, but he escaped serious injury.

The unfortunate man was uncovered immediately and carried to his home which is near the school house. Physicians Cross & Abbott were called and all assistance possible given, but without avail. The life had been crushed out and death soon ensued.

Mine No. 2, where the accident occurred is located about one mile west of Beacon.

Mrs. Shoemaker was in this city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty, of High avenue west at the time of the accident. She did not hear of it until too late to get home before Mr. Shoemaker died. They were married only about six months ago and the bereaved young wife and family have the sympathy of all.

Mr. Shoemaker was well known in this city and in an around Beacon where he has lived for many years. He was about 40 years old and a friend to all who knew him. He played double bass in the K. of P. band of this city and was leader of the Beacon brass band. He was a musician of great ability and his faithful and efficient service in these organizations will be greatly missed.

At 10 o'clock Coroner Woodruff was notified of the accident and taking a jury consisting of Captain J. H. Evans, Jack Hensell and Roy Robinson he went down immediately. The inquest was held at the company store in Beacon and their verdict was that he came to his death by accident, for which no one was in any way responsible.

Mrs. Shaw the Leading Witness and her Evidence is Very Damaging.

He was tried before Judge Broderick and bound over to the grand jury. The trial was attended by large crowds of people. He was taken to Ottumwa this morning.

ALBIA'S TRIAL.

Special to Daily Herald.

Albia, Iowa, Jan. 22.—The principal witness so far examined in the case against Daugherty and Dr. King was Mrs. Shaw, who occupied the stand nearly all morning. She lived near the Daughertys and when Ella was taken sick she offered her services. Mr. Daugherty refused all her proffers. Mrs. Shaw further said she prepared dishes for Mrs. Daugherty, but Daugherty did not allow her to have them. She also said the sick woman begged her for little delicacies, but the husband was blind to all her appeals. Though she was submitted to the most rigid cross-examination, her evidence was not changed in the least. Other witnesses told similar incidents. If their evidence be true the death of Mrs. Daugherty falls out one of the vilest murders ever perpetrated in Iowa. The defense, however, claim they have evidence that will put a very different coloring on the case.

THE BROOKS-BEEVERS CASE

George Lewis Again in the Tolls—Caught at Peoria.

The case of the State vs. Thomas Beevers charged with bastardy by Mary Brooks, was called in the district court on Thursday afternoon. Before proceedings were begun, Linton McMillan, as attorney for the board of supervisors, appeared and asked to have the case dismissed, or to have it tried as a civil suit. This was done as an effort to save Mahaska county the expense. Judge McCoy said this would be contrary to precedent and law and therefore overruled the motion. The jury was then called and the regular panel was soon exhausted. Thursday morning 35 tallemen were drawn, to make sure that a jury would be found. This occupied all the forenoon of the court so that by noon little progress had been made. The names drawn are as follows:

The attorneys in the case are Preston, C. O. Orris and Dan Davis, the plaintiff and G. W. Beevers for the defense.

The prosecuting witness accompanied by several ladies and the two bail occupy prominent seats before the court. The attendance at court is unusually large and is increasing as the trial progresses. About 40 witnesses have been subpoenaed.

The McElvey case has been adjourned until next Tuesday on a continuance. The court is now trying many and all cases that are within hearing distance. The jury in the case of Elwood Harris vs. Thomas P. Matthews, accused found a verdict of $77.25 for the plaintiff.

George Lewis, "hot chicken Lewis," who was released from confinement on his own recognizance and for whom a bench warrant was issued early in the present term of court, has been found and returned to this city. It seems that Lewis made his way from the city after his release and the authorities were unable to find him to serve the bench warrant. He was finally located in Peoria, Ill., and Deputy Will Woodruff went over after him. He is now confined "under the clock."

To Cure Nervous Dyspepsia.

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often does not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headache; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact."

Katie Montgomery, Oskaloosa, 31

COOPER—Died. In Chicago, May 3, 1897, Carrie, daughter of Henry Cooper. Mr. George Taylor went to Chicago Tuesday evening to care for the remains.

WHAY—MONTGOMERY—Married, at the home of the bride's father, 116 Third avenue east, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, May 4, 1897, Mr. Walter L. WHAY, of Nevada, Iowa, and Miss Kirtin MONTGOMERY, Rev. D. A. Wickham, of Des Moines, officiating.

The ceremony was witnessed by a small company of friends and relatives, invited guests, and the congratulations and felicitations following the conclusion of the ceremony were general. The supper, served by Mrs. John Shoemaker, was a very pretty and enjoyable feature of the wedding. The Montgomery home is favored in the way of having a large porch on the south and east. Canvases had been stretched across the pillars of the porch, forming a sort of a wall and obscuring a view from the street. Supper was served in this improvised room and was much enjoyed by the assembled company. The bride is the daughter of John Montgomery. She is a young lady of many womanly graces and is much liked by those who know her. She was gown in white organdy over white silk. Mr. Wray is a young business man who has achieved a fair portion of success in his life. He has been known to Oskaloosa people during many years and he counts many friends among them who will extend him the glad hand of congratulation upon his new relation in life. Mr. and Mrs. Wray will depart for Nevada Thursday, where a new home is in readiness awaiting their coming. The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and elegant presents. These were to be seen in a side room. Homer Kendig officiated at the piano and played the wedding march and other pieces during the evening. Mrs. Clara Lacey Greene, of Des Moines, was among the guests from out of the city.

What Dr. A. E. Salter Says, Buffalo, N. Y.—Gents:—From my personal knowledge, gained in observing the effect of your Shiloh's Cure in cases of advanced Consumption, I am prepared to say it is the most remarkable remedy that has ever been brought to my attention. It has certainly saved many from Consumption. Sold by J. H. Pickett.

STREET PARADE.—The Downtown minstrels with their superb band will be in the city Tuesday, May 12, and the finest street parade ever seen in the city will be a feature of the entertainment.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure cures where others fail. It is the leading Cough Cure and no home should be without it. Pleasant to take and goes right to the spot. Sold by J. H. Pickett.

Only The Window Was Used

Looks mighty like a "white" covering on the ground at this residence which formerly stood at the 403 North Main Street location.

This was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Younkin and son, Raymond, being held by his father, and Floy, daughter of Mr. Younkin, at the far right on the porch. Leonard Cowels, son of Mrs. Younkin, is seen standing on the walk.

'Old Sharon'

This location is now that of the Mr. and Mrs. Claire Phillips home. Prior to this time the Phillips couple made it their home, the property was that of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Grosenbach. The Grosenbachs had purchased the old home and were in the process of moving in when fire so damaged it that occupancy was impossible.

Mrs. Younkin tells that in 1906 the roof was burned from the structure. She also tells that the large front window in the Phillips home is the same that was used in the old home where Mr. Younkin was born and raised.

Our thank you to the Raymond Younkins for this week's 'Old Sharon' memory.

SIGN LANGUAGE USED WHEN DEAF WED AT LORIMER

Sister of Groom Aids Minister in Performing Unusual Marriage Service.

BOTH DEAF AND DUMB

William O. Barritt of Council Bluffs and Niece of Des Moines People Wed.

LORIMER, Ia., Feb. 14. (Special.) William O. Barritt of Council Bluffs and Miss Georgia Younkis of this city were born in Iowa and are splendidly educated, yet the other day, who married them Wednesday had to have an interpreter. The bride and groom are both deaf and dumb. A sister of Barritt played the wedding march and then took her place by the side of the minister, Rev. Ross of the First Methodist church.

"Will you take this woman to be your lawfully wedded wife to honor, protect and cherish in sickness and health?"

The interpreter turned to William. There was a mass of flying fingers. Then came a pause. William made two or three nervous gestures and the interpreter turned to the teacher.

"He says he will." The same ceremony was employed in ascertaining the opinion of Miss Younkis as to entering the marriage agreement.

The minister pronounced them man and wife; the interpreter apprised them of it and they received the congratulations of their friends. Because of the time spent in translation they were wedded several weeks before they knew it.

Mr. Barritt is a graduate of the Iowa school for the deaf at Council Bluffs and for a time was an instructor. The bride is a graduate of the Iowa school for the deaf at Council Bluffs. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McConnell of Des Moines, uncle and aunt of the bride, were among the guests.

William Henry YOUNKIN
From History of Lone Tree, Iowa

312

William Henry Younkin was the son of William R. and Mary Adaline (Bray) Younkin. William R. was born 23 November 1834 in Ohio and died at Riverside, Iowa January 12, 1876. His wife Mary was born April 8, 1846 in Washington County and died April 3, 1905 in Lone Tree, Iowa. William R. was a harness maker and conducted shops in Ainsworth, Yoltan and Riverside. They had 4 children: Franklin born January 1867; Milla born 1869; George L. born 1875 and William H. born 1871.

William Henry Younkin spent his days on a farm in Washington County, Iowa and also clerked in a hardware store. He has been on his own since the age of 15 years. He bought a farm in Fremont Twp., and later owned several pieces of property in Lone Tree. He worked in the newspaper business as a reporter for the Lone Tree paper.

William Henry Younkin married September 10, 1895, Mary Underwood the daughter of Addie E. and Catherine C. (Jayne) Underwood. They had two children Howard William Younkin, born 1897 in Broome County, New York and Helen M. born 1899.

directed all his influence towards securing the desired affiliation. In pursuance of this effort he was a member of the first University Committee, and so well was his work done that it is admitted that to him in great measure is due the existence of three of the five chairs now operative in the College of Homeopathic Medicine, S. U. I. After the death of Professor Dickinson and the refusal of Professor Triem, who was acting professor for one year, to continue the work, Dr. Becker was asked to accept the chair of Theory and Practice and Clinical Medicine. This was at time when he had virtually retired from practice and the activities of life, and he at first refused to accept the call; but the college needed a man of wide experience and acquaintance throughout Iowa, and this being pressed upon him, he finally undertook the work. His lectures were intensely practical, and his clinics, being demonstrated from his long years of practice of the old type, were greatly valued by the students. He retired from the chair in June, 1902, and left his associate, Benjamin R. Johnston, a younger man, to succeed him.

The practice of medicine seems to be inherent in the Becker family of Iowa. A nephew of our subject, Boyle, son of Carl F. Becker, a graduate of 1910, is now in the Rochester, New York, Homeopathic Hospital, and gives promise of achieving great proficiency in the profession.

Frederick J. Becker, M. D., resides at No. 6 Bloom Terrace, Iowa City. He is an active member of the Knights of Pythias and the B. P. O. E.

W. H. YOUNKIN

William Henry Younkin, enterprising business man of Lone Tree and editor of the Lone Tree Reporter, has exerted a wide-felt influence in the affairs of the county. He has helped build up various successful local enterprises and is one of the most successful editors in his part of the state. He has made his own way in the world since he was fifteen years of age and is a fine example of a self-made man. Mr. Younkin is a native of Washington county, Iowa, born February 2, 1872, son of William R. and Mary Adaline (Bray) Younkin. The father was a harness maker and conducted shops at Ainsworth, Yatton, and Riverside. He was born in Ohio, November 23, 1834, and died at Riverside, Iowa, January 12, 1876. The mother was born in Washington county, Iowa, April 6, 1846, and died in Lone Tree, Iowa, April 3, 1905. They were parents of four children.

Mr. Younkin spent his boyhood on a farm in Washington county and helped with the work from the time he was old enough. He attended the common schools until he was fifteen, but his education has been gained mainly in the "college of hard knocks," where he developed into a man of strong purpose and high ambition. He early learned the lessons of life and believes he has gained most of his friends by dealing fairly in business and by extending a ready sympathy and friendship.

RESIDENCE OF W. H. YOUNKIN

After leaving the farm he engaged, for a short time, as clerk in a hardware store, then spent a year or so as commercial salesman, after which he engaged in newspaper business, which he has followed for the past twenty years, having achieved financial success in this venture as well as in his previous undertakings.

Mr. Younkin has always been much interested in public affairs and has taken an active part in movements for the general good, but has not cared for public office. He is a democrat in politics; served as councilman of Lone Tree and performed his duties in a most satisfactory manner. For many years he served as a member of the board of education for the Independent District of Lone Tree, and he has refused nominations to other offices of honor and trust. He owns a farm in Fremont township and several pieces of property in Lone Tree. He was one of the original stockholders of the Farmers & Merchants Savings Bank of Lone Tree, also one of the original stockholders of the Lone Tree Telephone Company and the Lone Tree Live Stock Sale Pavilion Company.

On September 10, 1895, Mr. Younkin was united in marriage with Miss Mary Underwood, daughter of Addis Emmet and Catherine C. (Jayne) Underwood. Mr. Underwood and his wife came to Iowa in 1865. He was born in Broome county, New York, seventy-seven years ago and she was born in Wayne county, Pennsylvania, and is eighty years of age. Two children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Younkin, Howard William, aged sixteen and Helen M., fourteen years.

Mr. Younkin belongs to the following societies: Lone Tree lodge No. 304, K. of P.; Red Rose Temple, No. 126, Pythian Sisters; Abner Lodge No. 535, A. F. & A. M.; Omega Lodge No. 728, I. O. O. F., and Lone Tree Camp No. 2505, M. W. of A. Mr. Younkin is popular with old and young and is one of the best known men in his county.

JACOB RICKER

Many of the pioneers of Johnson county made the trip from eastern states with teams and wagons and brought with them to the new home as many of the tools and furnishings of their former homes as they were able to bring. The journey was an interesting event in the lives of the immigrants and its incidents were never forgotten by those who planned and passed through the same. Among those who were natives of Ohio and became important factors in the life of the county mentioned above, Jacob Ricker takes a leading place. He was born in Licking county, Ohio, July 17, 1830, and was reared on a farm and educated in his native county. He was a son of Henry and Ruth Ann (Kimiran) Ricker, the former of whom lived to the age of eighty-three years, dying in Iowa. Henry Ricker became a pioneer resident of Johnson county, but in

HISTORY OF JOHNSON COUNTY, IOWA

Charles Ray Munroe

About twenty years ago the Iowa City Citizen was established with Hubert Renley and Fred Bowersox as editors and managers, but the latter remained in this connection for a short time only. W. H. Conant, who is now with the Boerner-Corby Company, became the editor in December, 1894, and remained here until he went to the Republican in 1898. He was succeeded by J. M. Parker, at that time with the Davenport  Tribune, who was editor until 1900, when Hubert Renley again assumed editorial charge. S. W. Searle became editor in 1902. During this period from the date of establishment the firm was known as the Citizen Publishing Company. The present editor and proprietor, E. E. Johnston, came into possession in 1907.

There are only three papers outside of Iowa City in Johnson county at the present time, and of these we have a limited account, some of them having a series of predecessors that have left no available record. The Lone Tree Branch was established April 2, 1892. It was launched by O. S. Todd, then publishing the Columbus Junction Safeguard, and was printed in his office at that place and sent to Lone Tree where it was mailed out each week. The first local correspondent for the paper was W. E. Horrell, who gave up the task after a few months, and Miss Hattie Underwood took up the work of gathering the local news and sending it to Mr. Todd each week. In this manner the paper was gotten out until February, 1894, when W. H. Younkin, the present publisher, conceived the idea that a newspaper office in Lone Tree would prove a profitable investment, hence he purchased a printing outfit and opened an office. He sold Miss Underwood an interest in the business and they continued the publication of the Lone Tree Branch. Mr. Todd having turned over the subscription list and good will of the paper to the new publishers. The paper was enlarged from a six column folio to a seven column folio and was liberally patronized from the date of its first publication in the home office. The next year the name was changed to the Reporter. Again in 1898 Miss Underwood sold back to Mr. Younkin her interest in the plant but continued her work as traveling solicitor. In 1898 the paper was again enlarged to a five column quarto and later, in 1900, to a six column quarto, in which form it is still issued.

During the seventeen years W. H. Younkin has edited and published the paper he has never missed an issue and has given each issue his personal attention. By his close attention to business, he has built up one of the best paying newspaper propositions in the county and has prospered as few have in his chosen occupation. The Reporter is now and has been for many years one of the official papers of the county.<sup>111</sup>

The Oxford Leader is a semi-weekly, established in 1892, with E. R. Doty as editor, who occupies that position at the present time. For eighteen years he has continued as owner and publisher, the paper having official recognition in the county, while practically it is democratic, it has a large circulation in its community, among members of all parties. Previous to this publication Oxford has had the Herald, published in 1877, and the Journal, which followed the Herald the next year. The latter was first published in a small way on a job press, but by the purchase of the plant in 1879 by Wilson and Templeman it was enlarged and continued as an independent republican paper. About this time the Oxford Democrat was established with several stockholders, among them, Hon. L. B. Wolfe, Joe Linkhart, H. Vanderlip, and Louis Wagner. However, at the present time the Oxford Leader is the only paper in that part of Johnson county.

The Solon Economy, a very suggestive name for a country newspaper, was established in 1896 by W. M. Martin and Sons, the editor of which outlined his policy in his first number as in line with the name of his paper, which he said was "to instruct in the management, regulation and government of a family." He also adds, "judicial and frugal management of public affairs, and the economy of living in general," should be the sphere in which the paper would endeavor to operate. The first issue is dated March 26, 1896. After the retirement of Mr. Martin, his daughter, Mrs. Riedel edited the paper until a recent date. Before this time the Solon Reaper had been published here, commencing its issues in 1882. It had a number of editors, among whom was Dr. L. G. Lawyer, now a practicing dentist in Iowa City.

For twenty-two years the Bohemian newspaper, the Slovak American, was published in Iowa City, at the expiration of which period it was removed to Cedar Rapids. It was in 1869

The Pilot -

Bobby Younkin learned to fly at the age of 16. At the time he was an accomplished radio-controlled model airplane pilot. By applying these skills to a real airplane, he taught himself aerobatics. (The stick on an RC transmitter takes the same movements as a real airplane.) His aerobatic skills were later refined under the guidance of the legendary Duane Cole. Bobby has accumulated over 10,000 hours total flying time; over 7,000 of those are in Beech 18's. Bobby resides in Cave Springs, Arkansas with his wife, Jeanie, and their two children, Matthew and Amanda.

The Airplane -

The Twin Beech that Bobby uses was manufactured in 1942 as a C45F. It was redesignated as a C18S upon its retirement from the military in 1947 when it then became an executive airplane for a major corporation. It was purchased by a collector in the late 1960's. Bobby purchased it from the collector's widow in 1988. After spending a year preparing the airplane, he began doing aerobatics in it in 1989.

This performance is like none you have ever seen! You will truly be amazed at what this airplane can do! It combines three of the most important ingredients needed to excite an airshow audience: SMOKE, NOISE, and SIZE, yet at the same time, the performance is unbelievably smooth and graceful.

Bobby does an non-stop aerobatic routine in the Twin Beech. His entire routine is kept in front of the crowd at all times.

This unique act has received rave reviews everywhere it goes. Unbelievable....Awesome Smoke....A Beautiful Routine.... This is definitely not your everyday airshow act!

Naval Air Station, Norfolk History

Naval Air station (NAS) Norfolk is the birthplace of naval aviation, with a long and proud tradition. In November 1910, Eugene Ely made the first successful shipboard aircraft launch from a temporary platform on board USS Birmingham to a field at the present Naval Base complex.

NAS Norfolk was commissioned on August 27, 1918, on the historic site of the 1907 Jamestown Exposition. Initially providing support for operational and experimental flights, it quickly grew into a major sea plane base, training pilots and enlisted personnel in the intricacies of flying, maintaining and building sea plane.

With the advent of World War I,

NAS Norfolk again expanded and began providing anti-submarine patrols to clear the vital seaways of the Mid-Atlantic seaboard.

The expansion of shipboard aviation operations through renewed emphasis to NAS Norfolk. Reverting back to its experimental roots, development and testing of catapult and arresting gear systems took the highest priority. The commissioning of the aircraft carriers Wasp, Ranger, Yorktown and Hornet increased the tempo of routine training in navigation, gunnery and aerial bombing as new air wings were formed prior to World War II. Still keeping pace with the growth of naval aviation, NAS Norfolk remains one of the foremost air stations in the world. At present, NAS

Norfolk is host to 91 commands, including four flag commands and 22 squadrons and their respective administrative and support wings.

Approximately 16,500 civilian and military personnel work on NAS Norfolk. As one of the busiest airports in the world, an aircraft takes off or lands every two minutes around the clock. Some 186,000 passengers and 100,000 tons of mail/cargo depart annually on Military Airlift Command aircraft or other charter flights. Squadron aircraft provide vital anti-submarine, passenger and logistic support, airborne early warning/air traffic control and anti-air warfare to the fleet deployed to the Atlantic Ocean and Mediterranean theaters.

The world's smallest manned jet aircraft, the USPA & IRA Freedom, will be performing at the NAS air show. This 12-foot long, 438-pound aircraft will fascinate the audience with complex aerobatic maneuvers, flying at speeds up to 360 mph. Pilot Kathy Gray will be available to sign autographs and answer questions following her intriguing display of aerial aerobatics.

Aerial excitement in Air Show Tradition

Ron Stealy and Karen Stealy are a father and daughter team of barnstormers, flying out of the pages of American aviation history at each and every performance, harking back to a period in which a less complicated nation was swept into the age of flight.

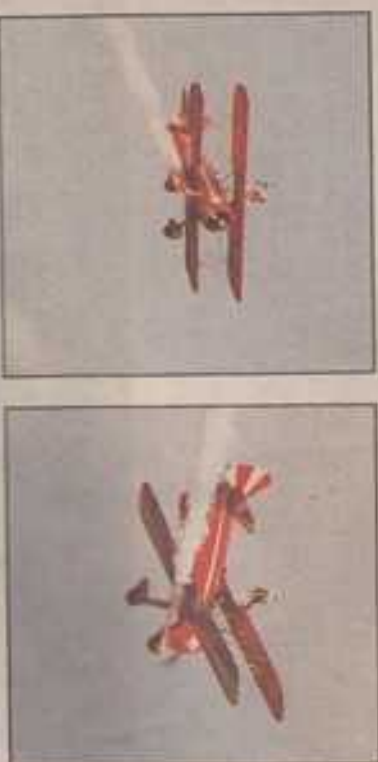

Ron and Karen perform wing-walking the old-fashioned way. KAREN WALKS ON THE WINGS. She takes off and lands while seated in the front cockpit, but spends the rest of the flight on the outside of the stearman. Her dad performs aerobatics with her on both the upper and lower wings. The aircraft is maneuvered back and forth along the spectator area to give a splendid view of Karen as she moves about and experiences aerobatics on the outside of the flying machine.

In keeping with barnstormer tradition, Ron also puts the 450 h.p. Stearman through its paces in a graceful solo aerobatic routine, replete with air smoke and the thrassy roar of a powerful Pratt & Whitney radial engine. One of the oldest and largest aircraft still on the show circuit, the big biplane and remains a favorite of young and old alike.

Also in keeping with tradition, Ron drops the American Flag parachutist and circles the descending jumper with smoke, all to the strains of the National Anthem.

Nealey Airshows

Tim Nealey has been flying since 1960 and has logged 5000 hours, 2000 in aerobatics. He holds a ground-up waiver in the Bellanca Decathlon, in all Model Pitts specials and now in the Extra 300 which is the most spectacular precision plane in the world.

The Extra 300 was built in 1969 by Walter Extra Flugzeugbau in Germany. This magnificent world class superb aerobatic aircraft is a real crowd pleaser with its vertical performance and incredible aerobatics. With the smoke on, the crowd can experience the ultimate airshow only demonstrated by the brilliant Tim Nealey. The fast moving aerobatic dancing in the sky consists of loops, rolls, hammer heads, Cuban eights, knife edges, torque roll, slow rolls, point rolls, snap rolls and consecutive snags that will dazzle and awe the entire airshow crowd.

And Some Spirits New England Weather Dampens Hanscom Show

New England Escadrille's flagship, Plunkett's Passion, sported a new paint scheme. - photo by J. Lanpher

by Ken Kula

Air Fair '92, held at Hanscom Field during the last weekend of September, had promised to be the largest, most diverse aviation event in New England this year. The show may have been this, but did not reach its maximum potential due to poor weather during the weekend.

The remnants of a tropical storm arrived just as the flying events were scheduled to occur on Saturday, and they affected the show throughout the weekend. The weather system prevented some performing aircraft from attending, and washed out all of the flying on Saturday. Thankfully, the Sunday flying program was spared rainy weather until after it ended, but it was quite frustrating for the producers to see the glorious ian displays as well as the ever popular classics. In conjunction with the show, the FAA held a major Safety Exposition during the early part of each day's activities. Aviators from the fields of general aviation and professional pilot ranks were invited to attend this event in concert with the show.

While the rain washed out Saturday's flying schedule, there was still plenty to do. The Safety Exposition, and a large number of educational exhibits attracted the curious. And before the rains came, the thousands of spectators visited with over 70 aircraft and their crews parked as static displays.

After the show was over for the day, two noteworthy events occurred. The annual New England Escadrille Clambake for members and aircrew occurred in the Aero

B-25 bomber, like the type Jimmy Doolittle flew as leader of the famous raid on Tokyo early in the war, was parked just outside the DC hangar's doors. The hangar was transformed into a large dance floor, with seating on the sides for tired dancers to rest. The party lasted into the early hours of Sunday morning, and it is hoped that this classy event will occur sometime soon again.

Sunday dawned gray, but rapidly cleared into blue skies. By mid-afternoon, the skies had turned gray again, but not before the flying show was well under way.

Starting with a flag jump by parachutists from nearby Pepperill, Mass., the show offered non-stop activity for almost five hours. Warbirds of all types graced the skies, from the Six of Diamonds in rainy weather until after it ended, but it was quite frustrating for the producers to see the glorious weather of the prior week change so rapidly for the weekend.

The air show was presented by the New England Escadrille, whose previous six shows were held at Manchester, N.H. Due to construction associated with airport expansion at Manchester, a new home was found for the show this year. Traditionally a warbird lover's delight, the show was expanded in scope to include over two dozen active military aircraft, and civil-curated. The annual New England Escadrille Clambake for members and aircrew occurred in the Aero Club hangar. It was a time to rekindle the flames of old friendships, make new ones, and partake in some great hangar flying.

The other event occurred during most of the evening, and was sponsored by the Hanscom Air Force base. The Doolittle Dance featured a big band, with music from the 1940s. The dress for the evening was usually in authentic World War II attire, many uniforms were dusted off and worn in splendor. A mass, the show offered non-stop activity for almost five hours. Warbirds of all types graced the skies, from the Six of Diamonds in their North American trainers, to the MATS C121 Constellation flown by owner Vern Rayburn, and the Collings Foundation's B-17 and B-24 bombers. The Escadrille's newly painted C-47 looked as if it was a totally different aircraft, and Sue Parish delighted the crowd as she flew her pink P-40 Warhawk.

Bobby Younkin raised many an eyebrow as he roared into the air in his C-45 Twin Beech to put on an incredible air show. Dan McCue in his YAK-11 flew his ever popular routine in a very unique aircraft. Warbird jets, trainers, and liaison aircraft all flew in front of the large crowd.

Civilian performers brought many contrasts to the show. Ron Shelley flew his Stearman as his daughter Karen walked on top of, and on the edge of its wing.

Jim Mahoney demonstrated that a glider does sometime defy the laws of gravity in his graceful Salto sailplane. Local Mike Goulian showed why he earned second place in the National Aerobatic Championships the week before the show.

Stan Segalla proved that he was no newcomer to aviation in his hilarious and aerobatically marvelous Flying Farmer routine.

And Kathy Gray strapped on her BDSJ Freedom Jet, the world's smallest jet, and put on an amazing show of jet aerobatics, narrating as she flew.

The military was out in force at the show, too. B-1 and B-52 bombers made fly-by passes during the show, as did a F-117 Stealth Fighter. An Air Force F-16 Falcon and Navy A-6 Intruder provided loud and memorable routines, showing today's cutting edge of technology. A pair of Connecticut Air National Guard A-10 Warthog attack planes were flown by two local pilots, as they have traditionally at the previous shows up at Manchester.

As the show ended on Sunday, a rain shower swept across the area. As Escadrille members and volunteers hurriedly cleaned up after their guests, one could see that the rain dampened many a spirit. A great air show had been produced, it was too bad that it could not live up to its fullest potential because of the weather.

Join us in celebration of Jimmy's Life
October 17, 2005 at 11:00 am,

Jimmy faced a potentially career-ending heart condition seven years ago, and fellow airshow performer—Dr. Raymond Vetsch, Freeman Heart Institute, a heart-valve donor, and God.

The Franklins will be forever thankful.

!! KYLE FRANKLIN AND AMANDA YOUNKIN ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT !!

It's finally official! On August 1, 2005, Kyle Franklin asked Amanda Younkin for her hand in marriage.

With Amanda still asleep in her bed, Kyle flew his Cub to the Younkin's Fayetteville house, landed on the airstrip then proceeded to call her on the telephone.

While she was still on the phone, her mom, Jeanie, hurriedly called Amanda downstairs to "see something happening outside."

She stumbled down the stairs and goes outside to find Kyle, dressed in his Sunday best holding a beautiful bouquet of roses.

As he dropped to his knee and proposed, Amanda quietly said "yes" and cried.

Witnessing this beautiful moment was mom, Jeanie, brother and sister-in-law, Matt and Michelle, and Catana Wilson, very close family friend.

The wedding will take place in Ruidoso, NM on October 18, 2005.

Once things settle down this year, Kyle plans to continue in the airshow business in 2006 by flying the original Waco Mysteryslap, his Comedy Act, and motorcycle-to-airplane transfer.

No plans of Amanda wingwalking for Kyle, yet.

Franklin & Yourkin Families would like to request if you have any pictures or video of past shows or of the accident - that you are willing to share - they would love to have copies emailed or mailed to the below contact information.

Notorized family bible records: John stated that " the original record of births, marriages and deaths was contained in the family bible printed in the German Language. That afterwards an English bible was procured and the family record was inserted therein. That the original German family bible was loaned to a German lady who could not read English and while she had it the house burned and this bible was burned. I further say that my mother, Catherine YOUNKIN, who died July 15, 1896, at the age of over ninty three years, stated to me that she thought the births of the children as recorded in this bible were placed one year earlier than they actually occurred. I further state that I lived with my father and mother in Iowa Twp, Washington Co., Iowa, the township in which Riverside is situated, from 1844 to the present time...brothers & sisters living in June 1850 were: Joseph, Mary A., Henry A., Abner, Elizabeth, Nancy, William R., Margaret, and G.W. YOUNKIN...These were also living in 1860.. that prior to 1850 my next younger brother, Samuel, had died at the age of seven or eight years..."

Younkin Says Too Many Women Made Him Sick Of 'Em

By George Shane, Staff Writer

RIVERSIDE, IA — His cynicism toward women always has been good-natured and now as he grows older it is less pronounced.

But Just Ask John Younkin the Civil War veteran who is 96 years old today and still a bachelor, whether he would marry if he had his life to live over again.

In Six Battles

Mr. Younkin will remove his 10-cent cigar from his mouth with a steady hand, lean back in his old-fashioned rocker, and reply emphatically:

"No!"

John Younkin was one of three volunteers of the original 110 members of Company D of the 24th Iowa Infantry who marched through six hard battles and a hundred skirmishes in the south without a scratch from sword or bullet.

Glamorous Picture

In '65 with the other Boys in Blue, this eligible young bachelor marched home. First it seemed a glamorous picture of heroic romance.

But then the picture changed. "I got sick of girls around the house," Mr. Younkin said.

That is the only explanation he cares to give for his celibacy.

Until she died in her eighty-seventh year, a spinster sister kept house for Mr. Younkin. Now he lives entirely alone in the 10-room house that stands beneath four giant oak trees on a hill in Riverside. He splits wood and carries in each day three heavy buckets of coal.

His Brother, 90

The three put a little walnut table by the west window, pull up chairs and Mr. Younkin puts on his glasses. The game progresses until almost dark. Then the elderly bachelor gives each of his young friends a big red apple—the biggest and sweetest that money can buy, and he buys them by the crate.

The story of John Younkin would not be complete without the sequel story of his widowed brother, who is 90 and also lives alone in Riverside.

A Veteran Physician

The brother is Dr. George W. Younkin, Iowa country doctor and one of the state's veteran physicians. For approximately 50 years he has practiced medicine in eastern and southern Iowa.

Five years ago the doctor moved to Riverside, because John Younkin felt he needed his brother's medical advice.

Teeth Pulled

"Gold cannot make a man well," Dr. Younkin said. "I found a lot of it in John's mouth, but it didn't help his health. The first thing I did was have the dentist pull out his teeth. Now his health is vastly improved."

Dr. Younkin's 90 years rest lightly on his square shoulders, but he now prefers to limit his practice of office calls. His office is upstairs in a building on Riverside's main street. His living quarters are in the rear of the office. Though the brothers live separately they meet often, for the doctor must check carefully his principal patient's health.

Aside from the frequent card games with the neighborhood girls, John Younkin's next favorite diversion is his trip each Friday to Muscatine, Ia., for a fish dinner. He owns his car and a driver takes him on the 40-mile trip each week the weather permits.

The brothers stress no formula for longevity. Their father died at 90; their mother at 94. John lived all his life on their farm near Riverside until moving to his present home 30 years ago. The doctor planned to be a Methodist missionary and studied for the ministry as well as medical practice.

Whiskey in House

The doctor has never drunk "an ounce of liquor in his life," John always keeps whiskey in the house "for medicinal use only."

John's favorite indulgence is three cigars a day. The doctor smokes but occasionally.

JOHN F. YOUNKIN FUNERAL IS HELD

Riverside's Last Veteran of the Civil War Dies at Age of 96

Reverently, and with simple dignity, John F. Younkin, Riverside's last Civil War veteran, was laid to rest Tuesday forenoon.

Funeral services for Mr. Younkin were held in the Methodist church at 10 a. m. Rev. C. E. Fitzsimmons officiated, preaching the sermon, and was assisted by Rev. Judson T. Jenkins, who read the 22nd Psalm and offered prayer.

The funeral was not of military character, although six members of the American Legion, H. E. Doud, Henry Mansmith, Norval Flynn, C. W. Whitlock, Andrew Birrer and Clarence Rummelhart, acted as pallbearers, and members of the Woman's Relief Corps as flag bearers. Mrs. L. R. Bates and Mrs. R. I. Mainer sang feelingly, with Mrs. W. H. Cress at the piano.

Previous to the services in the church, the body of "Uncle John", as everybody in Riverside called Mr. Younkin, lay in state at the home where he had lived so long alone. The coffin, flag-draped, was then borne to the church, and again, after the simple service, it was carried to the Riverside cemetery. Burial was in the Riverside cemetery.

Died Saturday Evening

Mr. Younkin died in Mercy Hospital, Iowa City, Saturday evening. He had been a patient there for a little over a week. Born in Perry County, Ohio, on Nov. 29, 1840, his age was 96 years, 8 months and 16 days.

Uncle John was one of Iowa's pioneers. His parents, Samuel and Catherine Younkin, left Ohio and came to Iowa in Nov. 2, 1844, and he lived on a farm one-half mile east of Riverside until 32 years ago when he and his sister, Nancy, who kept house for him, moved to Riverside. Nancy died about 15 years ago, and since that time Uncle John, who never married, kept house alone. With market basket on his arm, he was wont to go downtown every day, buying the things he needed and stopping at the postoffice for his papers. His simple routine of living he kept up until he was stricken with his last illness.

Mr. Younkin was the oldest man in Washington county to own an auto. However, he never drove the car himself, but always hired some young man to do it, and for years he made a point of making a weekly trip to Muncatone, on Friday, for a fish dinner, which he heartily enjoyed.

Uncle John was 22 years of age when he enlisted in Company D of the 24th Iowa Volunteer Infantry, in 1862, remaining with his regiment, unwounded, although he participated in 24 battles, until Lee's surrender brought the war to a close.

In his sermon, Rev. Mr. Fitzsimmons pictured Uncle John Younkin as an example of fruitful living.

"This occasion is one of unusual solemnity for Riverside," said Mr. Fitzsimmons. "Nothing like this has ever happened in Riverside before, and will never happen again. Our last Civil War veteran is gone. Soon all of that mighty force who fought for the Union will be gone."

Mr. Fitzsimmons pointed out that the fruit men bore in their lives was dependent on how they followed the precepts of Christ, the fruit of whose life was the redemption of mankind, by His sacrifice on the cross. And men's lives, Mr. Fitzsimmons said, might go right on bearing fruit, even when they became aged.

One Brother Survives

Uncle John Younkin was one of 12 children born to his pioneer parents. Of these, but one survives, Dr. George W. Younkin of Riverside. There are numerous nephews and nieces.

Although Uncle John never gave any very satisfactory reason for not marrying, he was a pronounced bachelor and when he was asked, on the occasion of his 96th birthday, if he would marry if he had his life to live over again, his answer was a very decided "No".

The only explanation he ever gave for his celibacy was that when he was a young man in uniform, when the Boys in Blue were glamorous and romantic objects, that "there were so many girls around I got sick of them."

Among those from out-of-town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Younkin of Burlington, William Younkin of Fairfield, ~~Frank Younkin and son Raymond~~ of New Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. John Lingo, Lone Tree; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Younkin, Mrs. Margaret Cress, Mrs. Walter Albright and son Richard, all of Cedar Rapids; Mrs. Sarah Hutchinson of Orange, Calif., and Mrs. Clara Godlove and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCreedy of Haskins.

One almost forgotten enterprise was the Wapello Distillery, which was operated here for quite awhile, along about 1867.

It did an extensive business and furnished a good market for Louisa county corn.

Mention should be made of a number of our "old timers" who now live in Wapello but have retired from active business. J. L. Sweeney was at one time a contractor and builder; F. M. Ong was first a merchant tailor, and later he and George R. Keller conducted a drug store for a great many years. J. B. McCullough was an extensive dealer in lumber, and J. C. Farver was a merchant.

Two of the men, who, for a great many years, did much to keep up the business reputation of Wapello as a trading point, were Abel Garrett, who died several years ago, and D. C. Thomas who died in 1907. In addition to his qualities as a merchant, Mr. Thomas had, and deserved, the reputation of being one of the most public-spirited men in the county. H. A. Plitt who recently moved to Wisconsin, will long be remembered as having been a popular and enterprising merchant of this place, who always did his share to promote the general welfare. Special mention must also be made of Henry D. Keller, for years the leading photographer of the county, a good soldier and a splendid man.

The population of Wapello, at various census enumerations, has been as follows: 1850—336; 1854—544; 1859—1,027; 1860—821; 1863—876; 1865—880; 1870—870; 1875—933; 1880—928; 1890—1,009; 1895—1,290; 1900—1,298; 1905—1,293; 1910—1,326.

One of the most important industrial institutions in the county is the sweet corn canning factory, owned by Baxter Brothers and located in Wapello. It is among the largest and best in the state, canning about three million cans of corn in the summer of 1911. During the canning period which generally lasts five or six weeks, Baxter Brothers often have three hundred people employed.

Another important concern is the button factory, which occupies the new brick building recently built for it by the citizens of Wapello. The factory is owned by The Vienna Pearl Button Company and employs about forty hands.

Wapello has a complete and well managed Electric Light plant, owned by Mr. Ora Vaught, who also furnishes power for various labor saving appliances, such as washing machines, vacuum cleaners, fans, irons, etc.

It also has a good system of waterworks, giving fire protection to every part of the city; a considerable part of the city has sewers, and the rest will doubtless be served in the near future.

Wapello has a very efficient set of officers, as follows: L. C. Wonnell, mayor; John G. Keck, recorder; R. D. McCullough, treasurer; Ward Williams, marshal. Councilmen: First ward, Aner Nearhood, M. Hunter; Second ward, A. G. Lischer, G. R. Deihl; Third ward, H. R. Christie, H. O. Pease.

One enterprise which we almost omitted, was the Woolen Mills, established in the late '60s by Henry Botha, Julius Johann, and Ernest Winter. We note that in 1868 they advertised that they were fully prepared to make fine qualities of cloths, flannels, satinets, etc., and to do carding and spinning.

The Methodist Episcopal church of Wapello is said to have been organized in 1830, by Rev. Joseph Kirkpatrick, a missionary sent from the Illinois conference. The Iowa conference was not organized until 1844. Thomas M. Kirkpatrick is also said to have been one of the early preachers at this place.

Following him was John Hayden. The first mention we find of Wapello in Methodist conference reports is for the year 1845. At this time the membership is given at 112, and Robert Rice was the local preacher. In the year 1840, this territory belonged to the Rock River conference, and we find that Joseph L. Kirkpatrick was located at Crawfordsville, and Thomas M. Kirkpatrick at Mt. Pleasant; and it is probable that one or both of them supplied this pulpit. The next year John Hayden was located at Crawfordsville; in 1842, Joseph L. Kirkpatrick was located at Grandview, and John Hayden at Crawfordsville. In 1843, Luther McVay was located at Grandview, Micajah Reeder at Crawfordsville, and Joseph L. Kirkpatrick at Yellow Springs. In 1844, Laban Case was located at Grandview, Micajah Reeder at Crawfordsville, and Joseph L. Kirkpatrick at Yellow Springs. The conference records for the year 1846 show the Wapello membership to have been 209, but no preacher is named at this point, though we find the name of Robert Rice as located at Crawfordsville, and John H. Dennis at Grandview. We find no further mention of Wapello in the Iowa conference reports until 1854, when we find the name of G. W. Teas, and Henry Clay Dean is given as the local preacher at Wapello in 1855. Other ministers from that time to the present were: Joseph Paschal, L. A. Smith, J. G. Thompson, I. M. McClosky, A. S. Prather, Dennis Murphy, Jesse Craig, J. A. Wilson, F. H. Burris, N. H. Mitchell, B. A. Wright, J. D. DeTar, C. L. Stafford, S. S. Murphy, W. M. Brown, G. W. Byrkit, A. Kershaw, C. F. Williams, F. R. Holcomb, J. C. Kendrick, O. P. Light, W. P. Elliott, A. B. Shipman, F. Ashpole, F. M. Mahurin, J. C. Goodrich, J. C. Willits, V. Yonkin, T. S. Pool, R. L. Patterson, W. C. Chew, M. E. Rensch, J. E. vsom, E. C. Brooks.

It is said that the first services held by the Methodists in Wapello were held in the dining room of the Drake Hotel. Some time later they were held in the old brick courthouse, and still later in a small frame building which stood about where the present German church stands. In 1852, the Methodists commenced the erection of a brick building which was completed in about a year, at a cost of nearly $2,000.00. In 1876 a frame building took the place of the old brick church and cost about $3,500.00. In February of 1902, the remodelling of the frame church was completed at a cost of about $3,600.00. The church membership at the present time is about 125.

From quite an early day there have been a great many German families in and around Wapello, and they have a strong church organization here.

It is said that the first church built by the Germans in Wapello, was a small frame on the lot now occupied by their church. Soon after that a German church congregation was organized on Long creek, and it and the Wapello church were supplied by the same ministers. The ministers who have officiated in the two congregations are as follows: Th. Schulze, 1846-1847; F. Blank, '47-'48; I. I. Young, '48-'49; Ph. Funck, '49-'50; H. Fiegenbaum, '50-'52; A. Salzer and F. Merton, '52-'53; Rev. J. Haas and C. Shuler, '53-'54; Rev. Senn, '54-'56; C. Bernreuter, '56-'57; F. W. Conrath, '57-'58; Rev. J. Rinder, '58-'60; J. W. ## RETIREES AT 92

Riverside.—Dr. George W. Younkin, 92, Riverside's oldest resident, has discontinued his practice and gone to Mason City to enter the Old Fellows home. He was born on a farm near Riverside in Sept. 1846. He is the last of a family of 12 children, his last surviving brother, John P. Younkin, dying in August, 1937, at the age of 96. In his youth, Dr. Younkin studied to be a minister, later taking up medicine and was graduated from Iowa State university medical school in 1876. He was ordained a Methodist minister and followed both professions until 1900, when he began devoting all of his time to medicine. He practiced in Richmond, Lone Tree, Wapello and Riverside.

A HIRED GIRL.

Blaney's Comedy Coming Next Wednesday Night.

It is with much pleasure that the management announces the engagement of Chas. E. Blaney's latest musical comedy success, "A Hired Girl," which comes to the opera house Wednesday night. This is one of the few farces that are doing what the managers term "a record breaking business." Standing room has been at a premium thus far this season wherever they have played. The comedy has been termed one of the most gigantic and colossal ever perpetrated upon the people. The company is composed of the best known farce comedy and vaudeville artists on the stage.

Edwin Mayo Returns in "Pudd'nhead Wilson."

When Edwin Mayo appeared here last season in his father's dramatization of Mark Twain's "Pudd'nhead Wilson," there was evidence of approval from the start; but before the end of the second act every one in the audience was on excellent terms with "Pudd'nhead" and the other quaint Missouri folks. Mr. Mayo brings out the exquisite flavor of the humor of the author in "Pudd'nhead Wilson" and a real character walks the stage in the person of a clientless country lawyer, who with shrewd but sweet philosophy, convinces his innocent village neighbors of his wisdom, only after twenty-three years the butt of their good-natured ridicule. Mr. Mayo's support is excellent, and his return to the Keokuk opera house on Saturday evening of this week will no doubt be greeted with crowded houses.

Haverley's Minstrels.

A top heavy house saw a first class minstrel performance last night when J. H. Haverley's minstrels appeared. Haverley always had a good minstrel show and years ago, he had accumulated over a million dollars out of his company. Mining speculation swallowed his fortune and he is now making a new start in life.

The first part was good, the vocal numbers being excellent and the jokes of the end men were new. The work of Kenno and Le Bane in an acrobatic skit including trapeze act was fine. The two Sisters who have been seen before were one of the best features in their specialty act. Arthur Deming in his monologue created considerable merriment but he is not to be compared with Billy Rice, who is a whole show in himself. Rice is one of the oldest minstrels on the stage and his work is fine. The show closes with an aboriginal operetta entitled The Princess of Madagascar, in which ev-

A LONG LIFE ENDED.

Joseph Younkia, a Pioneer, of Lee County, Died in Los Angeles, Cal.

Joseph Younkia, a former resident of Keokuk, died Wednesday in Los Angeles, Calif., at the extremely advanced age of 93 years.

Mr. Younkia was one of the pioneers of Lee county. He resided in this city for about seven years, having retired from his life work as a farmer of near Montrose. He went to Los Angeles about eight years ago, making the change to avoid the rigors of the hard winters and their ill effect on his health. He was a man of sterling character and was possessed of good business ability. His many years of life far exceeding the number allotted to man were but the harvest of his spent days. There are surviving him two sons, Rufus H. Younkia of this city and Samuel Younkia of Montrose.

The casket containing all that is mortal of Mr. Younkia will arrive in Montrose the early part of this week and the interment will take place in the cemetery there.

Drink Grain-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and tastes like the finest grades of coffee and costs about 1/4 as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is

Thursday night. It will probably be repeated some night next week....The city council held their regular meeting last Monday night....Prof. Fairfax, superintendent of the Warsaw schools, was in the city today....Malcolm Gates of Peoria, Ill., spent last Sunday visiting here.

END OF A LONG LIFE.

Mrs. Amanda Gosewisch Passed Away Saturday Morning.

Yesterday morning at 6 o'clock the spirit of Mrs. Amanda M. Gosewisch passed from its earthly tenement of clay to its eternal home.

The sad event occurred at the home of her son, Fred Z. Gosewisch, at 908 Franklin street. Death resulted from the infirmities of age. Mrs. Gosewisch having lived for eighty-one years. For the past three weeks her strength has been gradually ebbing, and while not unexpected, her death comes as a severe sorrow to those who felt the kindly influence of her life.

She was born in Willow Grove, Pa., on August 3, 1817, and on the same date in 1840 she was married to Dr. J. C. Gosewisch, of Wilmington, Del. Her married life was extremely happy, but comparatively short, as her husband passed away in May, 1854. In October, 1884, she came to Keokuk and has since resided with her son in this city. Three children are left to mourn her loss: Fred Z. Gosewisch of Keokuk; Oscar T. Gosewisch of Osceola, Ark., and Mrs. J. E. Nachod of Philadelphia, Pa.

She followed the Swedenborgian faith and was a woman of bright mind and strong character. Her life was spent in the faithful performance of her duty as she saw it. She was an earnest member of the King's Daughters and was active in all charitable work. The funeral will occur from the residence, 908 Franklin street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and friends of the family are invited to attend.

RUFUS HENRY YOUNKIN.

Rufus Henry Younkin, president of the Montrose Savings Bank and a retired farmer of Montrose township, was born August 17, 1836, in the town of Grayshot, not far from Zanesville, Muskingum county, Ohio. His paternal grandfather, Ralph Younkin, was a native of Virginia and spent his last days near Uniontown, Ohio. His son Joseph Younkin was born near Fortress Monroe, Virginia, and accompanied his parents on their removal to Ohio. He married Susan Meek and about 1846 removed with his family to Iowa, both he and his wife spending their last days in Montrose township, Lee county.

Rufus Henry Younkin began his education in one of the old-time log schoolhouses common in frontier districts. When ten years of age he accompanied his parents to Iowa, most of the journey being made by boat by way of St. Louis and Peoria, Illinois. The family home was established at Farmington, Iowa, where in 1849 the father purchased a farm of one hundred and ten acres, upon which he lived for fifteen years. In 1864 a removal was made to Montrose township, Lee county. Rufus H. Younkin completed his education in the public schools of Farmington, which he attended through the winter seasons to the age of nineteen years, devoting the summer months to work in the fields upon his father's farm.

On the 31st of March, 1870, Mr. Younkin was united in marriage, in Montrose township, to Miss Blanch A. Sawyer, a daughter of Thomas and Eliza (Snodgrass) Sawyer. Following their marriage the young couple began their domestic life upon a farm in Montrose township and for thirty-five years Mr. Younkin continued to devote his energies to general agricultural pursuits and became the owner of an excellent farm of two hundred acres, which is still in his possession. He brought the fields to a high state of cultivation and added all modern accessories and equipments to his farm.

At length, however, in 1905, he removed to the town of Montrose and retired from active connection with agricultural interests. He is now president of the Montrose Savings Bank, of which he was one of the organizers. This bank was established in February, 1902, with a capital of ten thousand dollars, which was increased in 1911 to twenty thousand dollars. The present bank building was erected in 1912. The institution is now in a flourishing condition and is regarded as one of the strong financial enterprises of the county.

Unto Mr. and Mrs. Younkin have been born five children: Joseph S., who is living in Arkansas City, Kansas; Thomas S., deceased; Ralph A., who makes his home in Tacoma, Washington; Katy, deceased; and Susan, now the wife of Harry Wardlaw, of Montrose. In his political views Mr. Younkin has long been a stalwart republican and has served as town councilman. His religious faith is indicated by his membership in the Presbyterian church, in which he formerly held office. His life has been guided by high and honorable principles, and upon his industry and his perseverance he has builded the success which now crowns his efforts.

JOHN W. MEDDAUGH.

Too much honor cannot be paid to the veterans of that great conflict which decided once for all that the Union was indeed indissoluble, and as a veteran of the Civil war John W. Meddaugh is entitled to the veneration of those who today are enjoying the peace and security won in the '60s. He resides on his farm on section 10, Cedar township, and as his former labor enabled him to secure a competence, he now lives practically retired, doing a little farm work whenever he so desires.

His birth occurred at Farmington, Van Buren county, Iowa, on the 9th of July, 1847, and his parents were Benjamin and Eliza (Stevenson) Meddaugh. The father was born in New York in 1816 and, coming to Lee county, Iowa, in 1849, he farmed in Cedar township and devoted some attention to stock-raising as well. He passed away in 1911. The mother of our subject was born in Maryland in 1821 and later removed to Ohio when the family home was established in that state. Her marriage occurred in Indiana, whence she again moved to Ohio and later to Iowa.

John W. Meddaugh is indebted to the public-school system for his educational advantages, and at the age of sixteen he enlisted in Com-at the age of twenty-one had accumulated sufficient means to commence business for himself. He purchased a stock of hardware, opened a store in Philadelphia, and there laid the basis for his future fortune.

In 1810 Mr. White purchased the water-power of the Schuylkill River at the falls, and constructed a dam and locks which were a vast improvement to the navigation of that river. He attempted to lease the power, but the custom so general now was then practically unknown in the United States, and there seemed to be a prejudice against it, so Mr. White erected a large mill for the manufacture of wire and a smaller one for that of nails. He was one of the first men who succeeded in introducing anthracite coal for general use, and was the foremost in building canals to open up the vast fields of coal and iron to the markets of the world. His biographer, Richard Richardson, says of him: "As the name of DeWitt Clinton stands prominent in New York in connection with the canal system of that State, so will the name of Josiah White stand conspicuous in the same direction in Pennsylvania."

Josiah White departed this life in Philadelphia, Nov. 14, 1850. In his will he bequeathed $20,000 to found a school for manual labor in Indiana, which is now established and doing good work. It is located near Treaty, in Wabash County. This good and benevolent man also bequeathed a like sum to establish a similar institution in Iowa. This is also in active operation, and stands as a noble monument to one of the best men which the present age has produced. (See history of White's Iowa Manual Labor Institute on another page in this volume).

SAMUEL G. YOUNKIN, an honored pioneer of the Hawkeye State, is a prominent and successful farmer and stock-breeder, and occupies a fine homestead on section 4, Montrose Township. He came to the State of Iowa when it was in its infancy, and has marked its development and progress with gratified interest. He has also aided materially in the opening up of this section, having been one of its most energetic and enterprising settlers. His own early example of industry and economy not only stimulated his neighbors to their best exertions, but he has given cheerfully and liberally of his time and means for the encouragement of every good work and purpose whose object has been to advance the interests of his county and township. He has met with difficulties and discouragements like most other men, but has suffered nothing to move him from his purpose of becoming a man among men and a useful and worthy citizen. That he has succeeded in this is clearly indicated by the esteem in which he is held among his fellow-citizens.

The birthplace of our subject was Muskingum County, Ohio, where he first opened his eyes to the light Sept. 11, 1839. His parents were Joseph and Susan (Meek) Younkin, natives of Virginia and Ohio respectively. He remained at home during his childhood and youth, assisting in the duties around the homestead, and receiving a fair education in the common schools.

Our subject was united in marriage with Miss Lucretia Curtis, Nov. 29, 1866. His bride was a native of Genesee County, Mich., and was born July 12, 1840. Her parents, Daniel and Emily (Woodford) Curtis, were natives of Vermont and New York respectively. Daniel Curtis was born in 1804, removed to Iowa in early manhood, and died in this State in 1859. His wife, Mrs. Emily Curtis, was born in 1806, came to Iowa with her husband, and departed this life also in November, 1859, within a few days of her husband's decease. The parental household consisted of the following children: George D., who married Miss Mary Wollfitt; Charles H., who chose for his life partner, Miss Mary Irvine; she died, and he subsequently married Miss Mary Rankin; Charlotte W. became the wife of Lewis Adams, who is deceased, and she contracted a second marriage with James Reed, and both are now deceased; the next child was Lucretia, now Mrs. Younkin.

Of the union of Mr. and Mrs. Younkin have been born four children, as follows: Henry A., born Sept. 8, 1871, died March 16, 1872; Cora B. was born Oct. 5, 1876; Samuel C., Sept. 11, 1878, and Willis, March 28, 1880. The family homestead is one of the attractive spots of Lee County. Mr. Younkin is quite extensively engaged in the breeding of high-grade stock, consisting of Short-horn cattle and Berkshire hogs. He occupies a fine farm dwelling, has a good barn, and everything necessary for the convenient storing of grain, and the shelter of stock. The family are held in high respect in their community. In politics Mr. Younkin is strongly Republican, and has been honored with the various township offices. Mrs. Younkin is an earnest and active member of the Presbyterian Church. Her brother, Edward R. Curtis, married Miss Nancy Reed, and Reuben M., now deceased, was married to Miss Mary Bertz. He died Sept. 15, 1880, in Lee County.

MRS. JOHANNA MANG, of Keokuk, is a native of the German Empire, and came with her parents to the United States in 1848. They proceeded directly to Iowa, and settled near Franklin, Jasper County, upon a farm, and the father followed agricultural pursuits until his death, in 1863.

The subject of this biography is a daughter of George and Caroline (Cramer) Cramer, whose household circle included three children, one of whom is deceased, and besides Mrs. Mang, there is a brother who is now residing in Wisconsin. Mrs. M. resided with her parents until she was nineteen years of age, and was then married to Jacob Kraft, a native of Germany, and son of John and Christina Kraft. They came to the United States in 1848, and at once proceeded westward, crossed the Mississippi, and settled in Keokuk, where they remained until his death, which occurred in 1881. The parental family consisted of six children, of whom Jacob was the youngest but one. He learned the boot-and-shoe trade, and followed this in Keokuk until his decease, which occurred in 1880, one year before the death of his father. Of this union there were born four children, three now living, viz.: Caroline, now Mrs. Belten, of Des Moines, who has two children—William and Johanna; George married Miss Milda Mentz, and they have one child, Alvin, and are residing in Keokuk; Lou is also a resident of Keokuk.

In due time after the death of her first husband, Mrs. Kraft contracted a second marriage, with Mr. Gus Mang, also a native of the Fatherland, who came to America in 1881, and is by trade a butcher. He is the proprietor of a saloon at No. 27 South Fourth street, Keokuk. Mrs. Mang owns and occupies a comfortable residence at No. 414 Johnson street.

JUDGE JAMES R. HOWELL, founder of the Gate City of Keokuk, and one of the most prominent citizens known in the history of Iowa, was born near Morristown, N. J., July 4, 1816, and died in Keokuk, Lee County, on the morning of June 17, 1880. The public life of Judge Howell presented a bright example of integrity of purpose, sound judgment, and an upright and honorable course. He was one of the foremost men in kindling patriotism in the hearts of his fellow-men to preserve a Union, and was bitterly opposed to slavery in every form. He took an active part in political affairs during the late Rebellion, and cast the whole weight of his influence upon the side of union and liberty. His entire life, socially and politically, was a bright example of what may be accomplished by the influence of a spotless character and an upright life.

The father of our subject, Elias Howell, settled in Licking County, Ohio, in 1819, and became one of the most prominent and influential men in that county, being Sheriff in 1826, State Senator in 1830, and Representative to Congress in 1834. The boyhood of his son, James R., was spent upon the farm, but after the removal to Newark he attended the High School and afterward entered Miami University, from which he graduated in 1837, and selected the profession of law, and after studying two years was admitted to practice. He first located in Newark, but two years later, on account of failing health, determined to come to the Great West, with the hope that a change of climate would be beneficial. In 1841 he came into Iowa, and in due time became one of the Whig leaders of the Territory. He finally drifted from the practice

S. G. YOUNKIN

PASSES AWAY

Samuel G. Younkin was born in Grant, Ohio September 11th, 1839. Died September 15th, 1919.

He came to Farmington, Iowa, with his parents in 1848, re-moving to Montrose in 1864. He was united in marriage to Miss Lucretia Curtis in 1866. To this union were born four children, one dying in infancy. There remains to mourn their loss, his wife, one daughter, Mrs. W. E. Fisher and two sons, Curtis and William and a large circle of near relatives, and also very many friends.

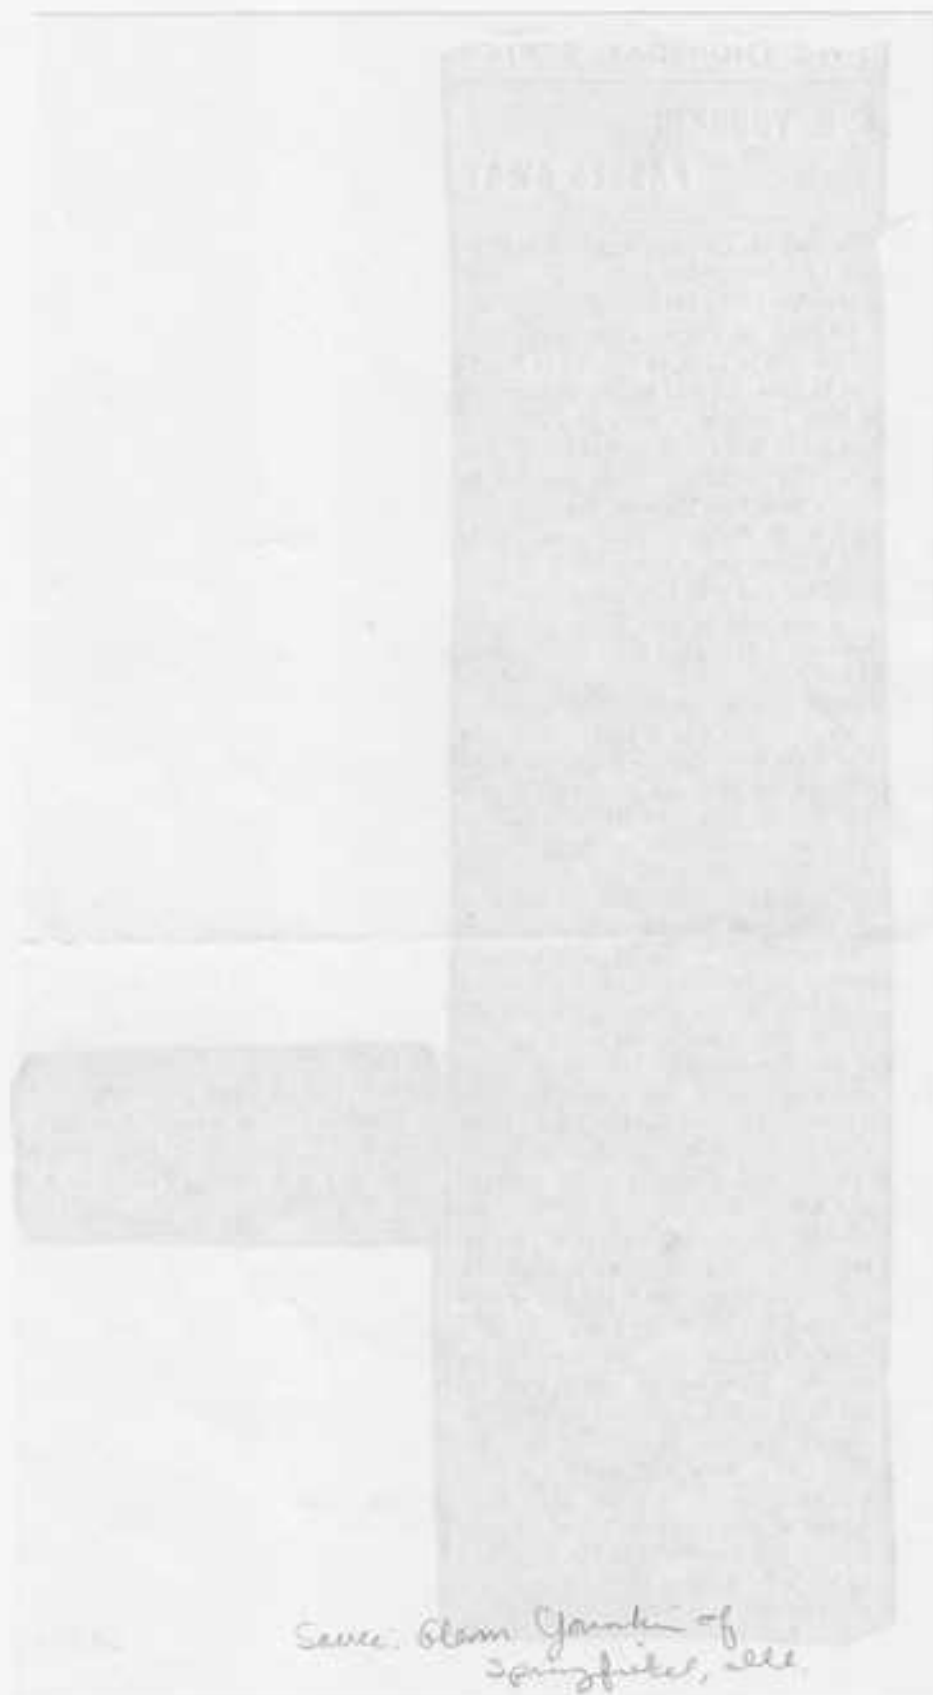

He was laid to rest in the Montrose cemetery, Rev. Alva S. Covert, pastor of the Presbyterian church rendered the funeral service.

Mr. Younkin was of that class of men who make communities worth while and who are the strength of the state and the nation and who stabilize society. He was honest and straightforward. He believed in men and in the best things and he went about the tasks of life with such heartiness that it gave him success. While never physically strong, yet he so managed his farming as to keep always ahead of his job. He was therefore one of the model farmers of the community. No boy or young man ever came in touch with him that if they took the advice kindly given were better for it.

Mr. Younkin was a model husband and father, for his insight into the needs of his family, made him very attentive to every obligation of his home, and his home was one of the happy ones in which it was a privilege to live and grow up.

Mr. Younkin will be missed in the church. While not on the church roll yet he read and believed his bible, he trusted in the atonement Jesus the Christ had made and was one of those who gave the larger gifts. He will be missed in the business life of the community and especially in his home and by his large circle of relatives and intimate friends.

Those out of town attending the S. G. Younkin funeral were, J. Herbert of Keokuk, L. Bennett, of Ill., George Curtis and Mrs. Charles Thome of Revere, Mo.

at the age of twenty-one had accumulated sufficient means to commence business for himself. He purchased a stock of hardware, opened a store in Philadelphia, and there laid the basis for his future fortune.

In 1810 Mr. White purchased the water-power of the Schuylkill River at the falls, and constructed a dam and locks which were a vast improvement to the navigation of that river. He attempted to lease the power, but the custom so general now was then practically unknown in the United States, and there seemed to be a prejudice against it, so Mr. White erected a large mill for the manufacture of wire and a smaller one for that of nails. He was one of the first men who succeeded in introducing anthracite coal for general use, and was the foremost in building canals to open up the vast fields of coal and iron to the markets of the world. His biographer, Richard Richardson, says of him: "As the name of DeWitt Clinton stands prominent in New York in connection with the canal system of that State, so will the name of Josiah White stand conspicuous in the same direction in Pennsylvania."

Josiah White departed this life in Philadelphia, Nov. 14, 1850. In his will he bequeathed $20,000 to found a school for manual labor in Indiana, which is now established and doing good work. It is located near Tresty, in Wabash County. This good and benevolent man also bequeathed a like sum to establish a similar institution in Iowa. This is also in active operation, and stands as a noble monument to one of the best men which the present age has produced. (See history of White's Iowa Manual Labor Institute on another page in this volume).

SAMUEL G. YOUNKIN, an honored pioneer of the Hawkeye State, is a prominent and successful farmer and stock-breeder, and occupies a fine homestead on section 4, Montrose Township. He came to the State of Iowa when it was in its infancy, and has marked its development and progress with gratified interest. He has also aided materially in the opening up of this section, having been one of its most energetic and enterprising settlers. His own early example of industry and economy not only stimulated his neighbors to their best exertions, but he has given cheerfully and liberally of his time and means for the encouragement of every good work and purpose whose object has been to advance the interests of his county and township. He has met with difficulties and discouragements like most other men, but has suffered nothing to move him from his purpose of becoming a man among men and a useful and worthy citizen. That he has succeeded in this is clearly indicated by the esteem in which he is held among his fellow-citizens.

The birthplace of our subject was Muskingum County, Ohio, where he first opened his eyes to the light Sept. 11, 1839. His parents were Joseph and Susan (Meek) Younkin, natives of Virginia and Ohio respectively. He remained at home during his childhood and youth, assisting in the duties around the homestead, and receiving a fair education in the common schools.

Our subject was united in marriage with Miss Lucretia Curtis, Nov. 29, 1866. His bride was a native of Genesee County, Mich., and was born July 12, 1840. Her parents, Daniel and Emily (Woodford) Curtis, were natives of Vermont and New York respectively. Daniel Curtis was born in 1804, removed to Iowa in early manhood, and died in this State in 1859. His wife, Mrs. Emily Curtis, was born in 1806, came to Iowa with her husband, and departed this life also in November, 1859, within a few days of her husband's decease. The parental household consisted of the following children: George D., who married Miss Mary Wollfitt; Charles H., who chose for his life partner, Miss Mary Irvine; she died, and he subsequently married Miss Mary Rankin; Charlotte W. became the wife of Lewis Adams, who is deceased, and she contracted a second marriage with James Reed, and both are now deceased; the next child was Lucretia, now Mrs. Younkin.

Of the union of Mr. and Mrs. Younkin have been born four children, as follows: Henry A., born Sept. 8, 1871, died March 16, 1872; Cora B. was born Oct. 5, 1876; Samuel C., Sept. 11, 1878, and Willis, March 28, 1880. The family homestead is one of the attractive spots of Lee County. Mr. Younkin is quite extensively engaged in the breeding of high-grade stock, consisting of Short-horn cattle and Berkshire hogs. ## Alzheimer's researcher from the University of Pennsylvania. He joined Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine as a professor of pharmacology in 1978 and later also was appointed professor of pathology.

The national Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association has given Younkin its highest honor, the Zenith Award, and the Society for Neuroscience named him one of four "Current Figures in Alzheimer's Disease Research" in 1994. In May 1995, he was one of three scientists in the world to receive the American Academy of Neurology's top prize for his work in Alzheimer's.

Renowned Alzheimer's researcher joins Mayo

Dr. Steven Younkin, nationally known for his work to find a treatment for Alzheimer's disease, joined Mayo Clinic Jacksonville's Department of Research May 1.

Younkin works with Dr. Elliott Richelson, director for Research since the clinic began laboratory studies in 1989, and two other investigators. Richelson propelled the Alzheimer's research program from a small operation in temporary trailers to a state-of-the-art laboratory with 35 scientists and support staff. The program is housed in the four-story Birdsall Medical Research Building.

Younkin brings with him eight researchers from his lab at Case Western Reserve University School of Medicine in Cleveland. He will succeed Richelson as director for Research Oct. 1.

The pathologist and pharmacologist is known worldwide for his study of the role amyloid beta protein plays in the development of Alzheimer's. Younkin's research has shown that amyloid deposits are key early events in the disease. Researchers are looking for drugs to turn off production of the protein that forms amyloid.

"If we could find a drug," Richelson says, "we might slow, stop or reverse this disease, which robs the brain of its memory, judgment and personality."

"I can't tell you how much ground we've covered in the last 10 years," Younkin says. "It's extraordinary but it's frustrating. There's so much that needs to be done. There are great opportunities here."

Younkin earned a doctorate in pharmacology and a medical degree

NOTICE ANYTHING DIFFERENT?

This issue of The Mayo Checkup introduces our new look. You'll see it not only in this newsletter but in printed materials produced throughout Mayo.

We hope you'll notice a stronger family resemblance. We're implementing a new visual system at all locations so that our newsletters, brochures, stationery, business cards and other printed pieces are more easily recognized as coming from Mayo.

The Mayo logo, shown at the top left of this page, is made up of the Mayo name and three interlocking shields. The shields symbolize medical practice, education and research – and our goal to provide the highest quality patient care. We think it's a great logo – combining the name of our distinguished founders with the symbols of our three activities. You'll see the logo being used more prominently, and more consistently, on our printed materials.

More Scrutiny for Commerce Secretary's Deals

By KEITH BRADSHAW

Specialist in The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 — The Justice Department notified Senate Republicans today that it had begun reviewing whether to seek the appointment of an independent counsel to investigate the business dealings of Commerce Secretary Ronald H. Brown.

A group of 14 Republican senators wrote to the department on Jan. 23 asking whether it planned to take steps to determine whether Mr. Brown had violated any Federal laws in his dealings with a former business partner, Nolanda Hill.

The senators asked for a review of how Ms. Hill paid $190,000 of Mr. Brown's personal debts last year and forgave another debt of $72,000 that he owed her. Mr. Brown's aides have said that both transactions were part of the sale of his stake in First International Inc., a small consulting and investment company in Washington.

The senators questioned whether Mr. Brown had paid all appropriate taxes on the deal and whether he had complied with financial disclosure rules. Mr. Brown's lawyer, Reid Weingarten, has said that his client complied with the disclosure rules and either paid all relevant taxes or will pay them in the coming months as part of his 1994 taxes.

The Jan. 23 letter from Senate Republicans virtually required the Justice Department to conduct a review to determine whether any credible allegations have been made that a senior Federal official has broken the law.

The department notified Senator Lauch Faircloth, Republican of North Carolina, of its decision to begin the review in a letter dated Monday and received today by Mr. Faircloth's office.

The researchers' report, being published today in the journal Nature, is being hailed by scientists as a landmark achievement. Scientists can use the mice to study how and why the plaques develop and how other risk factors for Alzheimer's disease might exacerbate the brain deterioration.

Alzheimer's disease is the fourth-leading cause of death in the United States. It affects four million Americans and costs the nation $100 billion a year, said Dr. Leonard Berg, chairman of the medical and scientific advisory board of the Alzheimer's Association. He also directs Alzheimer's research at Washington University in St. Louis.

A person afflicted with Alzheimer's disease gradually loses his memory and ability to think and reason, eventually becoming completely incapacitated. There is one drug on the market for Alzheimer's, Cognex, made by the Warner-Lambert Company, but it does not stop the disease. Dr. Berg called it "mildly helpful for a minority of people who try it."

For years, scientists have tried to find laboratory animals with Alzheimer's symptoms, an important tool to speed research. "There have been many attempts, partial successes, intrigue and detours," said Dr. Zaven Khachaturian, who directs Alzheimer's disease research at the National Institute on Aging in Bethesda, Md. But until now, the efforts have failed.

Dr. Khachaturian acknowledged that experts might be leery of claims of yet another Alzheimer's mouse. In fact, some said, and Dr. Khachaturian agreed, the failures have made it essentially impossible to get Federal money to finance such risky research. But he added that the newly reported finding "looks like the real thing."

Dr. John Hardy, who directs research on Alzheimer's disease at the University of South Florida in Tampa, said he was "very, very excited about it."

And Dr. Steven Younkin, a professor of pathology at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, said the discovery "will obviously galvanize the whole field."

Dr. Ivan Lieberburg, vice president for research at Athena Neurosciences, said the company had not yet begun the complex tests required to see whether the mice had impaired memories. But he added that because the mice had lost brain cells and connections between neurons, he

Thomas is the name of the surviving son of Otto and Mildred. I don't know for sure that this is the right person, but the odds are in your favor.

Mildred's picture is poor, but that's the best I could do. Now that I see it, you know, I've seen her around. Perhaps here at the library, or just around town, but I've seen her.

I checked "A Complete History of Fairfield County Ohio (Scott, 1876: reprinted 1983).....no BRAY or LINSOTT

- - - - -

I havenothing at all on Perry County, Green County or Athens County...

I have a real true question that's really been puzzling me....

I have noticed MANY times that an enormous number of people went from Frederick County to Seneca County Ohio. Do you know why?

I went there to find a Lugenbeel (of course!) and noticed in the cemetery that there was a huge section of people who had come to Seneca From Frederick (many times it was chisled on their stones) and then when I checked the other vital records from Seneca I noticed even more. Why, why why!??

I don't get the Meyer's Directory here at WCPL. No, don't check for family associations, thanks anyhow. I'm only interested in the Lugenbeels and if an association starts I'll bet it's going to be me that starts it! Ha ha

I won't order another thing from Betty Linton for the time being. I don't think she wants to do it anyhow...

I had to laugh at your letter when youapologized for writing in a disjointed way. It looked like MY letters and I don't apologiz e. That's how I think!!!

ARE YOU GOING TO SHOOT SYLVIA!?!?!? I think I'd be tempted.

Thank you for the prontout on the holdings of Frederick County in the court house and at Annapolis. It was very interesting to read the list only I don't even know what a couple of them are. What is a STET DOCKET? Never heard of it. I don't think Ohio has them. And a SUPERSEDEAS DOCKET? Sounds like court talk, but I don't speak that language! And thank youfor the copies of the ONLY TWO IN THE WHOLE WORLD FREDERICK COUNTY NEWSLETTERS!! I put both on file here at the library as well as keeping my own copies. I noticed someone else was working on Worman, but I'll keep that until later. I have so much to follow up on now that I'll NEVER get done. I was off work for the past two days with flu and I thought I'd really get stuff done, but I didn't. Nuts!

Better go for now. I'll stay in touch.

OLD WEST FAMILY CEMETERY By The Reverend John Arthur West

This cemetery is on the present farm of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McCleese, Bratton Township, Adams County about four miles southwest of Sinking Springs in the northern edge of Adams County near the Highland County line. Reached by a county road that leads west off State Route 41 at the old Strait Creek Church south of Sinking Springs.

John and Mary (King) West and five young children left their home in Pittsylvania County, Virginia, on 16 November 1802 and migrated to Ohio, arriving near Sinking Springs 8 February 1803. Within three weeks of their arrival, Ohio was admitted into the union as the 17th state. After the first year, living with relatives near Sinking Springs, they bough and located on land now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert McCleese and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morris. The original West log cabin, believed to have been built in 1804, is still in use on the Morris farm. The grave plot is across Baker fork of Ohio Brush Creek on the land now owned by the McCleese family.

John and Mary (King) West and three of their children who made the trek from Virginia with them and two other sons, born in Ohio, are buried in the plot, along with other descendants.

It is interesting that while three West brothers came from Virginia and settled in what was then Adams County, Ohio, in a few years they found themselves in three different counties without moving. Due to the partition of Adams County in 1805 Joseph West's place changed from Adams to Highland County. In 1815 Benjamin West's farm was partitioned into Pike County when it was carved out of the original Adams County, John West and his family remained in Adams County after the partition but their farm bordered the Highland-Adams County line.

The writer of the article is the son of Elmer and Maud (Younkin) West. The aforementioned Elmer West was the son of John A. and Susan (Smart) West. This John A. West was the son of James K. and Margaret (Clark) West who are buried in the old West family cemetery.

The grave plot has recently (late, 1979) been cleared of underbrush and all stones have been re-set. The complete list of inscriptions follows: (Indentations indicate generation)

Real Estate Board at the board of directors luncheon and meeting Wednesday when Ivan H. Gore of Columbus succeeded 1942 president, J. Earl Miller as president for the coming year.

The Woman's Council, Monday meeting elected Thelma M. Beck as its new president. Honorable Thomas J. Beckett, governor of Ohio gave the address of welcome. Key note address, Robert C. Broad, Jr. president, National Association of Real Estate Boards, Herbert N. Nelson, executive vice president, N. A. R. E. B. topic is housing in Europe. Captain Snyder, secretary of realtors Washington committee, topic, Cross Roads, Laura Hall o Gordon, president of National A. R. E. B. roundtable discussion and other noted speakers.

One of the outstanding events for wives of realtors, was ladies tea and reception at the governor's mansion and of the many important issues stressed was "Realtor," its meaning and use. ## ORRVILLE — For 38 YEARS, Fred Knowlton of 311 East Paradise st., has been opening the same door when he came to work at the corner drug store.

Friday, for the last time, Fred entered through that door to the Seifried drug store for the day.

The door, corner entrance to the Seifried block since the building was erected last 1920, was ready to be removed for Contractor Clarence King. The last remnant of the old Seifried block was making way for a new building.

SINCE 1910 WHEN he came to Orrville and bought half interest in the drug store with Tom Rice, Fred Knowlton has been using the door most of the times he has gone through the portal numberless times.

"I wouldn't even try to guess how many times I have unlocked that door," Fred said. "I wouldn't even know how to start figuring how many times I have unlocked that door," Fred said. "I wouldn't even know how to start figuring how many times I've gone through it on my way in and out," he added.

Fred came to Orrville from Newark, in 1910, and purchased a half interest in the drug store from Rice. They were partners three years.

"You almost caught me on my anniversary," Knowlton said. "I started here Sept. 16, 1910, and I've been working in here most of the time since."

In 1913 the partners sold to Carl Bechtel, and later Earl Kraft, well known businessman and insurance representative here, purchased the store. Fred Knowlton got back into the drug business by purchasing the store from Kraft in 1922.

For 17 years until 1939, Fred Knowlton owned the store. Then he sold the store to William Leifhardt.

"For a couple of years I loafed," Fred said. "I thought that it was

27 JULY 1990

Donna Younkin Logan
12109-A Old Frederick Road
Thurmont, Maryland 21788

Dear Donna,

I am so sorry for the delay, I have a lot of excuses, but the best is that I am over extended in a number of ways. According to my notes, I did mail you the page with the index from the Muskingum County Recorder's office the last of May. My letter with it dated May 29, 1990.

I really enjoyed the YFNB you sent, especially the column written by your husband. He sounds so much like my Bill. I have had so many speaking engagements throughout Ohio that he is confident he can either give my lectures or knows the lay-out of every K-Mart store in the state. (He goes there to kill time, so he won't have to listen to my lectures.

I have not gotten to Perry County for you. I did check my material here at home and it is enclosed. Also, I checked what has been published by the OGS chapter and they have not done too much. They have finally acquired a library and I understand all their material is now housed under one roof and I hope to visit it within the next week or so as well as the courthouse. I am sending a letter to today to my correspondent researcher in that area, asking her how soon she can help me.

At our local public library, I did find an old book, (Fairfield Co.) that had a reference to a John Younkin and to Abraham Younkin, both tailors. SEE ENCLOSED. I also checked the material here at home on Fairfield County and I checked all of it. See separate sheet.

After copying the newspaper article, I referred to the Death Records of Perry Co. again and found:

Margaret Black, widowed d. 8-29-37 ae: 92y4m8d. died in Madison Twp., Perry Co. and was born in Ohio. she was a housewife. He could still swing a hoe, but she did outlive him. See death records, Perry Co.

I hope that this material will give you some food for thought. I am going to have to spend more time with the material you sent in order to sort out just what in what county is needed. Please bear with me, you have worked on this family for years, I am just getting started.

Sincerely,

Dear Donna:

Thank you for your letter of September 30th. How interesting that you work the Archives. Would love to hear more about how you do it and what you do. We ventured there last summer for our own family research. Found quite a bit but also felt quite intimidated! What a place!

I have done this professionally for quite a few years now. How long have you been at it? I didn't start out to do research. I was just working on my own lines. I was elected to Research Secretary at our local chapter and there were so many requests wanting major research done that I started trying to help a few and now it has become a full time job. I do five counties now. No one else will do the five that I am doing. (Tuscarawas, Carroll, Belmont, Harrison, and Jefferson) I now do research 5 days a week, write reports 2 evenings and on Saturdays. It's getting to the point that I am going to have to start limiting new clients. Last month I received 57 letters wanting research. In addition to the 23 "old" clients, that makes quite a load.

The idea of swapping research sounds great to me! I am doing that with several clients around the country. They happen to live in a county and state where my ancestors once resided and theirs were here . . . so . . . it works out quite nicely. Would be more than interested in discussing this further . . .

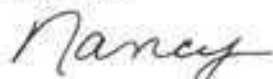

No, you do not have to be a member of our Society to put a notice in the newsletter. We have never had anyone put an "ad" in our newsletter, although we know it is done. You are more than welcome to put a notice in with our queries. Something like a notice to anyone interested in further correspondence write to you at such and such and then you can give them the details. Would something like that be OK?

We have the four major Lutheran Church's records on file at our Society library. I checked St. James in Tuscarawas, St. Paul's in Bolivar, Evans Creek in Bucks Township, and German United in Jefferson Township. There is not a single Younkin in any of the records under any spelling of the name.

If there is anything I can do for you on this end, please let me know. I'll be glad to try and help. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Nancy L. Schaar
Research Secretary

Your letter to the Perry Co. Chapter OBB. was recently passed on to me to answer. Being an all volunteer group with only a couple of members in the immediate area that research, we are at times way behind, so forgive the delay, as we have been swamped.

You are welcome at any time to submit a query or queries for publication in our Quarterly Newsletter "Neelines". Non-members are charged a fee of $1.00 for each query, typed or printed on a 3x5" card with your name, address and the date submitted, as they are used in the order received as space permits. Be as brief & concise as possible.

Now as to someone to do research in our County - there are only about 2 of us. Sometime ago I had done research on the Younkin name for a friend who was unable to get to Perry Co. and had sent her all I could find at the time in Court Records. Had searched about all records in Probate Court and spent much time on that, but did not check Deeds, in another part of Court House or the Common Pleas Court Records, which are not indexed, in terrible disarray and very difficult to really find anything in - (Common Pleas Records) at all.

Believe it may have been research for you that I did for her. We do have a member who is researching the Skinner surname. Her name: Mrs. Bonnie Pargen - 133 Meadow Drive - Newark, Ohio 43055. Possibly she can help you there on the Skinners.

As to the Lutheran Church Records in Bearfield Twp. - am not familiar with the area at all, but don't recall any <sup>past</sup> present day Lutheran Churches in that area. There is Fletcher Chapel, Methodist Episcopal denomination - now called Holcomb M.E. Church; Pleasant Grove

M.E. Church or Tatman's; Bethel M.E. Church 1837-1845; United Presbyterian or Seal Church, long ago gone; Zion or Disciple Church; Goshen United Presbyterian Church; and the Associate Church. Believe about all above named churches are now gone with possibly the exception being Methodist Church in Portersville, a village of about 100 persons. There are no other towns or villages in Bearfield Twp. The following Cemeteries are in Bearfield Twp Perry Co. Ohio. — Bear Run; Old Bethel; Fletcher Chapel M.E./Holcomb; Hearing; Pleasant Grove Church/Tatman; Shick Family; Seal Family and Zion Church.
The Cemeteries have all been recorded and will be published by our Gen. Soc. before too long.

At present know of none of our members researching the Black or Irout surnames.

Would be very grateful for your family Group Sheets for these lines to add to our Library holdings, if you care to donate same.

Again, sorry I can't help you more, but sent what I had on the Younkins to Sylvia in Zanesville.

Sincerely,

Mapine Lynn Fisher

Dear Donna,

Received your recent letter about submitting a query in Perry County Chapt. OGB newsletter and the Younkin research that I had done for Sylvia Hargrove. Like you, don't quite know how to answer your letter, but will try to explain how it all took place.

Sylvia had taught a course in Genealogy at the Ohio University Branch College in Zanesville some time ago which I attended, my first meeting with her. She was at the time the District Representative for Ohio Genealogical Society, which included Perry & Hocking Cos, plus others in District 6. met her again at several Seminars in the area. One day when I was in the Perry County Court House researching, she was there also. She asks me if I would help her by doing some Perry Co. research for a client, as she just couldn't spend the necessary time needed, as her invalid mother was living with her. She never mentioned your name, so never sure just who her client was. Told her I'd try to help her out, and she told me to check all Court Records for the Surname Younkin, births, marriages, deaths, deeds, plus the Cemetery records in the County, especially Bearfield Twp. which I did - all but the Land records, deeds, etc in Co. Recorder's office as I was pushed for time that day. Checked also my own records which are quite extensive, plus micro-fiche OGB which I have here for many states in the area. Sent all to her the following week. I had spent about 5 hrs. in the Court House, copied 14 pages of various records and then spent about the same number of hours here at home. Also did not check the Common Pleas Court records that day as they are in a complete disarray, very dirty, nothing indexed, so would have to read each page in each book to find any mention of the Younkin surname. I had made a special trip to Perry County Court House 2 days after I met her there and researched only for Younkin surnames. It's about 50 miles round from where I live.

Sometime later she called me and said her client was unhappy about her asking someone else to do the research, so wouldn't pay the fee charged. Have no idea what Sylvia's fees are or what she sent to you. In Perry, Fairfield and Hocking Counties, researchers charge $8 to 10 per hour, plus copies and mileage if needed. That was the last I ever heard from her and she never sent me any money for what I had done. Don't know if she sent it on to you or not, or just what she had found. Really not too sure what you wanted, but by looking at your Family Group records, feel she may have sent my info. Without a doubt she takes on more than she has time for. Think we are all guilty of that at various times. Just tried to help out a little as all into genealogy need all the help they can get at times, I have found.

Really want to thank you for the Family Group Sheets and the copies of the Younkin Family News Bulletin for our Gen. Library. Next trip to Perry County will get them on our Library shelf, for other possible Younkin researchers. The News Bulletin is great! Do know what a job that can be, as have been Editor of Perry County Chapter O B S newsletter for 4 years now. It's a quarterly newsletter, and takes much time and dedication. Now trying to get the hang of a new Computer - as you can see haven't mastered writing letters yet - in fact - not even a typist, so it's slow. My next letter to you, if we continue to correspond, may be done on Computer - hopefully!

Love your stationery and what a listing of names to be, I presume, researching.

Now to the queries - you may submit any number of queries for publication in our newsletters. A fee of $1.00 per query for non-members. If a member, 2 free queries per year. We ask only that they be typed or printed on a 3x5" card and dated as they are used in order received.

On enclosed page I have made some corrections for your Family Group Records. Hope you don't mind? also enclosing a dog-eared map of Perry & Morgan Counties - only one I have here at present, but may help you locate some places.

Hope this letter will help clear up any misunderstanding and do keep in touch.

Thanks again for the records.
Mafine

(Not sure of exact location, but think not far from Crooksville)

Not being familiar with the area know how hard it is to know just where these places are located, so hope you don't mind my added info. I was born and raised in Perry County in the north Twp of Thorn, so often have to check maps etc. myself about some of the southern Twp's. Have lived over in Fairfield Co. over 40 yrs.

Donna,

Please forgive my slowness in getting back to you, but this month has been a very busy one. Think I may have to learn to say no to some, so I can catch up. Had wanted to get to Perry Co. Court House to check Land Records before I wrote you, but haven't had a free day yet. Now it's time to get material collected and ready for the newsletter. Then a friend and I got drafted, so to speak, to abstract material from dozens of old record books of our church so we can prepare a Church History for the 150th anniversary celebration. The church has an Annual Bazaar 1st of Nov. plus a large Baked Chicken dinner in the evening along with soup, sandwiches, etc. all day long, so have spent several days there helping to clean kitchen, dining room and cooking some 400 pounds of chicken for that. My freezer is full of broth & chicken. We also made mince-meat and canned 50 quarts for sale that day. Don't want to see any apples or chicken for a while! Then have Bible study on Wed nights bowl on Mondays and the yard work has kept us busy. Raked leaves about every day this <sup>past</sup> week - more to go too, plus 3 trips to Columbus for my husband's Dr. appointments, the last couple of weeks, so way behind on things.

Have gone thru my records and jumbled out all (I think) of the info I had sent to Sylvia on your Younkins. Nothing too earth shattering, but possibly some small bit you don't have. It is a hodge-podge of this and that, but checked everything I could think of in hopes of finding info. as I had told you before, I believe, did not check land records or Common Pleas Court records. C. Pleas records are next to impossible to check - no index or any sort of system there and all books are covered with dust & dirt. The Gen. Sec. hopes to some day try and get some order restored there, so the info the books contain can be used, but have so few volunteers, wonder! Have not contacted Sylvia yet - can't believe she charged you for info that she didn't send. She never mentioned you had paid her. Just not sure what to tell or ask her, as of yet. Will take some thought, as don't want to make her an enemy, but must admit did not like the way she handled it all.

Really hate to send you a bill, since you had paid her, but would you think that 10 hours of research at $5.00 per hour would be reasonable? You can check over what I have sent and if you don't consider it worth that amount, please feel free to submit what fee you think is fair.

Now to what kind of Computer I have. It's a Northgate Computer system, Samsung, hard drive and all, plus an Epson J-1000 printer and as you Can see, have not quite mastered letter writing on it yet. Have gotten all my known Synn family members, 1196, with birth, death ~~date~~ dates in though and 197 names of Synn - Caughenbaugh people for our annual reunion mailing list in so far. To be honest, haven't had time to really even try to master much on it. Hopefully this winter will have time to do more. Want to get all the Neel family names put in, plus the Caughenbaughs, the Poundstones, Alsopachs and others that married into the family that I have collected material about in the last 10-12 years. Hard to teach an old dog new tricks! I never had typing in school - small school in Perry Co. didn't have typing classes, so slow in picking up these new things.

Have not found any Younkens in Sanford County, where I live, but have not checked Court records, only what I have here. Have to wonder if maybe they were in Morgan or Muskingum Co. at one time, but then Sylvia would have found the Musk. Co. ones, I would think. There is a gal in Morgan Co. that does, or did, research for others. Haven't talked to her for some time, so maybe she doesn't any more, but she is good. I had hired her some time ago to do some research for me in Morgan Co. New Name + address - Chris White Reed - Rt. 1 - Malta, Ohio 43758, in case you are interested. Her fee was reasonable if I recall correctly.

Peaky pens anymore don't do too well - must learn how to do letters on the computer!

Don't loose any more sleep over any of this. Working crazy hours you need sleep. Just have to chalk it up as an unfortunate situation or something like that, but really hate to think we both got took, you might say. Sorry about all of this though. Enough to make you want to give up helping research for someone. Which reminds me - have to get a couple more letters out today. Took some photos of grave-stones here in Baltimore for a man in Wash., some of his ancestors and then have a man in Calif. that has been working with me on the Caughenbaugh + Poundstone line - his + mine - and have more material + photos to send both, so must move on.

Sincerely
Mapine

P.S. Antione to hear if any of this material is some help to you. That Cooper - son has me puzzled. Was she married before? Mary Younkens, I mean.

YOUNKIN, E. P. Pleasant Township, Moxahala, OH. Carpenter, born September 1842 in Bearfield Twp. son of John & Margaret (TROUT) YOUNKIN, both natives of PA. His father came to this state in 1818, entered a farm in Bearfield Twp and became one of the wealthiest farmers in that Twp. He was in the War of 1812, died July 12, 1881, aged 90 years. When the subject of this sketch grew to manhood he went to Illinois, remained there 19 months and the rest of the 3 years he spent in Iowa, he then returned to Perry where he remained one year, then he came back to Moxahala, where he still resides. June 7, 1873 he married Miss Agnes McCALL, the daughter of Matthew & Levina (GADDIS) McCALL of Morgan County, Ohio and of Scotch descent.

John & Samuel YOUNKIN listed as some of the early settlers, as best could be attained from available records, in Bearfield Twp. Perry Co. (ca. 1812), all coming mostly from the Eastern States and the Old Country.

Pg. 174

Samuel YOUNKIN, was one of the first teachers in the neighborhood of James BLACK, the 1st settler, in Bearfield Twp. on a farm owned at the time by Jesse SIMMER and now owned by Ephraim BENNETT. The first school teacher there was Abraham STRIKER and Samuel YOUNKIN soon after. Robert SANBURN taught in 1820 and Thomas PETIT in 1821, all teaching in the early log cabin school houses.

It would seem that John Younkin was born in 1792 and if his mother was the Catherine FACKENTHAL, wife of Frederick YOUNKIN, she may have died a short time later and Frederick Married 2nd to Catherine PATTON. No proof, but do believe this may be our John YOUNKIN.

Somerset Co. was originally in Maryland's claim of PA.
1768 Somerset Co. included in the New Purchases from the Indians
1750 Somerset Co was in Cumberland Co. PA.
1771 Somerset Co was a part of Bedford Co. PA.
1795 Somerset Co became a county of it's own, in PA.

Have not found a Ralph YOUNKIN/JUNKIN listed in any of the IGI state microfiche, that I have.

Perry Co. 1870 Census has the following listed in the Index:

Ephraim - Pg 10
John - Pg 8

Have not gotten any place to read the Census, as of yet.

In the Will Abstracts the Will of George TROUT, SR. dated 21 May 1821, John was listed as one of his sons, and also EPHRAIM, his grand son and the son of John (son of George, Sr.) so feel this John was the TROUT that married Sarah YOUNKIN, but have not checked the TROUT births. Want to get to Court house and read George TROUT'S will.

Rechecked the PA. IGI Records found:

YOUNKIN, Rudolph son of Frederick/____ born 7 July 1766 Somerset Co.
Batch # 8601402 Serial Sheet # 36

Perhaps this is the Ralph YOUNKIN that was aged 60-70 in the Bearfield Twp 1830 Census. Age would be about right, therefore he and Frederick, 1763 would both be the sons of Frederick & brothers. ?

Note: you can save or print this form right from your browser!

Thank you for your interest in our Younkin Family News Bulletin! The newsletter is published quarterly, with 20 pages in each issue.

Our newsletter was started to assist researchers in two ways: to help new researchers to find their Younkin ancestry & to help experienced researchers to find each other and share information.

I maintain a database of all Younkin lines (as well as many other allied lines) and will make every effort to put you in touch with other people with a common interest. We are most interested in printing unpublished family material (such as family Bible records, etc.) as well as basic Younkin research that will help everyone.

But most importantly - the newsletter is for all Junghen families!

[JUNGHEN in its original German spelling, is now = Younkin, Youngkin, Youngken, Yonkin, Yonken]

OLDEST OHIO TWINS, 9 ELI TO VISIT SISTER A

EAST FULTONHAM will see a gentle old lady and her brother, a strong old man, celebrate their 90th birthdays today, Easter Sunday.

Believed by friends to be the oldest living twins in the country, Mrs. Margaret Block and Eli Younken will hold a small, quiet reunion in her home near that Muskingum county village. Eli will have to come over several miles of road from his home near Sayre, over in Perry county, and Margaret will receive him from her wheel chair.

He is still strong enough to swing a hoe, but she suffered a fall five years ago and has been unable to be about since.

Margaret, a widow and the mother of nine children, seven living, can remember when she lived in Sayre and Morgan and his wife paid a visit there during the Civil War.

"Everybody near us wanted to hide," she said pertly, "but I kept on with my chores around the house. After secreting their stock in the woods behind our home, the neighbors came and hid in our house. But the raiders, contrary to reports, were orderly and didn't bother us."

Eli, the father of seven children, four living, boasted that he had been ill but once in his life.

"I had a little spell of sickness about four years ago," he said, "but It didn't amount to much."

"In my younger days I could swing an ax with the best of them," he continued, "and I still chop wood every day, though my wind ain't what it used to be."

Ell doesn't really boast, but he knows what he can do.

"I ain't a bragger," he said, "but I used to bind all the wheat that one man could cradle, while other cradlers had two men behind them. And now I expect to help with the spring hoeing and planting."

He can remember back into the Civil War days, too, particularly the day of Lincoln's assassination.

"I was visiting some friends at Chapel Hill, N. C.," he recalled, "when the news of President Lincoln's being shot was brought in by stage coach. All the ministers in the vicinity had the church bells rung and called the people together to pray that Lincoln might live."

The claim of Margaret and Ell to the title of "oldest twins in the country" seems secure. When Mrs. Martha Ernst died at the age of 85 in St. Charles, Mo., Feb. 27, leaving her twin sister, Mrs. Helena Hachting, relatives said a recent investigation had shown an older set of twins, Joseph and Henry Ebelman, 88, living somewhere in Ohio. The relatives said they believed the Ebelmans were the only older twins.

But Margaret and Ell are 90 today!

Eva Frances Younkin was born in Sayre, Ohio, daughter of Eli Younkin and Martha Skinner Younkin. When Eva was 10 years old, her mother, Martha, was burned to death while making soap (in 1880). Eva became a schoolteacher in Ohio in 1890. A copy of the test questions used at the Teachers' Examination given in 1890 in Ohio is in my possession. Eva taught school in rural Ohio for 3 years. In 1893 Eva went to Chicago to the World's Fair. She continued on to travel to Washington County, Iowa to visit her aunt, Susannah Younkin Iden and her husband, John Iden. She liked the area and began teaching in a rural Washington County, Iowa school, and lived with the Iden family. Grant Ulysses worked on the farm for the Idens. They married in 1896; Eva taught in rural schools in Iowa for six years. Eva and Grant raised a family of 10 children. Per her obituary in 1941: "She took an active part in community affairs and was president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion at the time of her death. She was a woman everybody liked and will be sadly missed."
